In the first place, the old men of last year's team are slowly coming back. A RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

DR. McGREW, OF OMAHA.

Press and Public have come to recognize the value of his professional services in all dis* eases and disorders of men. His practice now extends all over the west.

A Medical Expert

Perhaps the most outward and visible evidence of the esteem in which Dr. Mc-Grew is held throughout the west is the fact that he has been called on several occasions to give expert medical testimony in the district courts of the state. In each case important issues hung upon the nature of various veneral diseases and disorders of men and none other than the most reliable specialists of unquestionable professional integrity and ability could be allowed to testify. Dr. McGrew is a recognized authority with the bench and bar of Nebraska and his opinion in cases of this kind is never questioned. His professional career has extended over a period of wenty-six years, fifteen of which have been spent in Omaha. During that time he has treated and cured thousands of cases of contagious blood poison, stricture, varicocele, hydrocele, gleet, loss of vitality and associate diseases. His treatment for blood poison is equal to the celebrated Hot Springs treatment, without the water and at less than one-half the cost and can be taken at home without the knowledge of anyone. Thousands of men throughout the western states could bear witness to Dr. McGrew's successful cures hundreds after their cases had been given up as hopeless by other physicians.

In the light of that opinion it is pretty safe to say that any rumors to the effect that young "Jack" Bidlake from the Central High school is making a great run for the position at fullback are illy founded. Bidlake may be able to punt seventy yards, which Knowlton cannot do, but there are other things of far more importance than kicking that a good fullback must know.

Minnesota will probably again have a team composed of sons of Anak this year. Even the total weight of last year's beety eleven will undoubtedly be surpassed.
