

THE OMAHA DAILY BEE.

E. ROSEWATER, EDITOR. PUBLISHED EVERY MORNING. TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION: Daily Bee (without Sunday), One Year, $5.00...

STATEMENT OF CIRCULATION. State of Nebraska, Douglas County, ss: George B. Tschuck, secretary of The Bee Publishing Company, being duly sworn, says that the actual number of full and complete copies of The Daily, Morning, Evening and Sunday Bee printed during the month of September, 1901, was as follows:

Table with 3 columns: Copies, Paid for, and Total. Includes sub-totals for net sales and net daily average.

Business men and business methods in the school board. The property owners of Douglas county are taxed over $80,000 a year for county roads and bridges.

A Missouri farmer has been fined for working on Sunday. A man who will violate the Missouri tradition of going gun hunting on that day deserves to be fined.

Londoners intend to give Sir Thomas Lipton a reception when he returns to his own country. They appreciate that it is better to have tried and lost than never to have tried at all.

General Kitchener has telegraphed that General Botha has escaped from the cordon. The British should change the last letter of the Boer general's name to make it read Bother.

Chicago people held a banquet Wednesday to commemorate the hottest time the city ever experienced—the great fire. Chicago is a warm town now, but the old record in that line still stands.

General Wood reports that the tests of the guns left by the Spanish on Cuban fortifications indicate they behaved better than expected. They are much more docile than during the summer of 1898.

THE TREACHEROUS FILIPINOS.

The recent developments in Samar and Cebu show not only that there are many of the natives still hostile to the United States, but also that little confidence can be placed in those who profess to be friendly.

Representative Hull of Iowa, chairman of the house committee on military affairs, is of the opinion that for some years at least we must expect to keep an army of about 40,000 men in the Philippines.

The convention on river and harbor improvements which concluded its session in Baltimore Wednesday had for its primary object the initiation of action looking to the continuance of such a national policy.

There is no general opposition to the policy of river and harbor improvements, but there is a very general feeling, unquestionably well founded, that there is not sufficient care and discrimination in making appropriations for such improvements.

Omaha's school board has suffered enough in recent years by successive resignations of members removed to other towns for various reasons.

Omaha's school board has suffered enough in recent years by successive resignations of members removed to other towns for various reasons and appointments to the vacancies of men the taxpayers would not have chosen.

The new treaty, it is understood, will be ready for transmission to the senate when congress assembles and confidence is felt in official circles that it will prove acceptable to that body.

The county pay roll has been increased by more than $16,000 within the past three years, when there is no more business for the county officers to transact than there was five years ago.

Another claim has been filed for the long standing reward for the discovery of coal in paying quantities in the state of Nebraska.

WASHINGTON GOSSIP.

Etchings of Scenes and Incidents at the National Capital. Many millions of people who view with mingled feelings of envy and admiration the fortunate multitude on the government payroll rarely give serious thought to the grievances of Uncle Sam's employes.

The honest farmer with a normal crop of potatoes lately hesitates to ask and accept the advanced price. Right here is where he is able to knock off in the work of denouncing monopoly.

After all, this is a desperately wicked world—scarcely worth living in and invulnerable to reform. The National Purify convention in session in Chicago proposes to do away with most everything that is now either legal or unlawful.

It is an encouraging proof of the nerve as well as of the wisdom of President Roosevelt that he has not hesitated to name ex-Governor Jones of Alabama for a United States district judge in that state.

Most everybody has a pile of old newspapers and magazines about the house. They have been read and thrown aside, and are more or less of a nuisance.

On the day of the trial the eleven men were ranged up before the bar, and in the foreground on the other side sat Governor Hanna and a friend of his own name.

While careless lumbering has been removing the great natural forests without making provision for renewal of timber growth, the cattle raisers have so prodigally used the rich native grass pastures of the great plains that the renewal of the wild grasses on them has now become a pressing need.

Results of an Investigation by the Government. Minneapolis Journal. While careless lumbering has been removing the great natural forests without making provision for renewal of timber growth, the cattle raisers have so prodigally used the rich native grass pastures of the great plains that the renewal of the wild grasses on them has now become a pressing need.

There are plenty of laurels and crown with them. The hero who falls in strife, but few who offer a word of praise. To the crownless hero of life, he does his duty and makes no claim, and tonight I propose a toast to the silent martyr unknown to fame, the man who dies in his post.

Which shall your mirror say? If the former, then your hair is rich and dark, long and heavy; if the latter, it is short and falling, thin and gray.

A LESSON TO BE HEEDED.

Chicago News. This nation formerly paid tribute to the Barbary pirates, but then it turned in and made cats' meat of them.

The honest farmer with a normal crop of potatoes lately hesitates to ask and accept the advanced price. Right here is where he is able to knock off in the work of denouncing monopoly.

It is an encouraging proof of the nerve as well as of the wisdom of President Roosevelt that he has not hesitated to name ex-Governor Jones of Alabama for a United States district judge in that state.

Most everybody has a pile of old newspapers and magazines about the house. They have been read and thrown aside, and are more or less of a nuisance.

On the day of the trial the eleven men were ranged up before the bar, and in the foreground on the other side sat Governor Hanna and a friend of his own name.

While careless lumbering has been removing the great natural forests without making provision for renewal of timber growth, the cattle raisers have so prodigally used the rich native grass pastures of the great plains that the renewal of the wild grasses on them has now become a pressing need.

Results of an Investigation by the Government. Minneapolis Journal. While careless lumbering has been removing the great natural forests without making provision for renewal of timber growth, the cattle raisers have so prodigally used the rich native grass pastures of the great plains that the renewal of the wild grasses on them has now become a pressing need.

There are plenty of laurels and crown with them. The hero who falls in strife, but few who offer a word of praise. To the crownless hero of life, he does his duty and makes no claim, and tonight I propose a toast to the silent martyr unknown to fame, the man who dies in his post.

Which shall your mirror say? If the former, then your hair is rich and dark, long and heavy; if the latter, it is short and falling, thin and gray.

The choice is yours, for Ayer's Hair Vigor always restores color to gray hair, stops falling of the hair, and makes the hair grow long and heavy.

SOME SCHLEY REMARKS.

Washington Post. We believe it was Admiral Howson who said naval officers have a regard for their oath not possessed by other men.

Philadelphia Record. It would do no good to call Coverters a witness. He was there, but he did not have favorable opportunities for observation.

Chicago News. Admiral Schley might have said: "Confound the Texas!" instead of what he did say, but it was a time for brevity of expression.

Chicago Record-Herald. Historian Macley is being deserted by his former friends, but he isn't despairing. He still has his $2,500-a-day job in the Brooklyn navy yard.

Mr. Carnegie has ordered 850 organs, costing from $1,500 to $3,500 each, for Scotch churches and universities.

Edward Rostand, the French dramatist, is an inveterate cigarette smoker. His favorite tupples is the distinctly French one, ashless.

Mr. Carnegie has ordered 850 organs, costing from $1,500 to $3,500 each, for Scotch churches and universities.

Edward Rostand, the French dramatist, is an inveterate cigarette smoker. His favorite tupples is the distinctly French one, ashless.

Mr. Carnegie has ordered 850 organs, costing from $1,500 to $3,500 each, for Scotch churches and universities.

Edward Rostand, the French dramatist, is an inveterate cigarette smoker. His favorite tupples is the distinctly French one, ashless.

PERSONAL NOTES.

Mr. Carnegie has ordered 850 organs, costing from $1,500 to $3,500 each, for Scotch churches and universities.

Edward Rostand, the French dramatist, is an inveterate cigarette smoker. His favorite tupples is the distinctly French one, ashless.

Mr. Carnegie has ordered 850 organs, costing from $1,500 to $3,500 each, for Scotch churches and universities.

Edward Rostand, the French dramatist, is an inveterate cigarette smoker. His favorite tupples is the distinctly French one, ashless.

Mr. Carnegie has ordered 850 organs, costing from $1,500 to $3,500 each, for Scotch churches and universities.

Edward Rostand, the French dramatist, is an inveterate cigarette smoker. His favorite tupples is the distinctly French one, ashless.

Mr. Carnegie has ordered 850 organs, costing from $1,500 to $3,500 each, for Scotch churches and universities.

Edward Rostand, the French dramatist, is an inveterate cigarette smoker. His favorite tupples is the distinctly French one, ashless.

Mr. Carnegie has ordered 850 organs, costing from $1,500 to $3,500 each, for Scotch churches and universities.

Edward Rostand, the French dramatist, is an inveterate cigarette smoker. His favorite tupples is the distinctly French one, ashless.

LIGHT AND BRIGHT.

Cleveland Plain Dealer. "That prying Mrs. Peck sees everything that goes on from one end of the neighborhood to the other."

Philadelphia Press. "How do you like my new hat?" asked the first woman of the other at the matinee.

Boston Transcript. Harry—You have been free to say that this is the most beautiful place I ever visited, but you haven't said a word about my hat.

Somerville Journal. Hicks—What would you do if your burglar alarm went off in the night?

Baltimore American. Museum Barker—Step up, good people! Step up! We've got the only newspaper paragrapher who never writes a bad word about me.

Cleveland Plain Dealer. "Are you a voter in this precinct, my ducky?" "Me? I should say I wuz. I've voted head much as fifty times."

Rocky Mountain News. There are countless heroes who live and die, of whom we have never heard.

Who follows the glorious tide of war and falls in the midst of fight, he knows his duty and makes no claim, and tonight I propose a toast to the silent martyr unknown to fame, the man who dies in his post.

Which shall your mirror say? If the former, then your hair is rich and dark, long and heavy; if the latter, it is short and falling, thin and gray.

The choice is yours, for Ayer's Hair Vigor always restores color to gray hair, stops falling of the hair, and makes the hair grow long and heavy.

