Each time the United States Government has officially tested the baking powders the report has shown Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder to be of superlative leavening strength, free from alum, absolutely pure and wholesome.

This is gratifying, for Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder is depended upon by millions of people to raise their daily bread.

Note.—These Government inquiries also developed the fact that there are many mixtures upon the market made in imi-tation of baking powder, but containing alum or other caustic acid, whose use in

Suggestive Therapeuties, but Have Much Error in Their

The Missouri Valley Homeopathic Medical association opened its eighth annual session at the Paxton botel Wednesday with ociation will be concluded today. The first day's program included an adfress of welcome by Mayor Moores, an adfress of welcome in behalf of the physicians by Dr. D. A. Foote and a response by Dr. W. A. Forster of Kansas City, president of the association. Much routine business Kuenene, E. F. Morearty, D. W. Shull, G. was transacted and a number of papers

'Suggestive Therapeutics' was the title of the principal paper presented at the afternoon meeting. Dr. E. H. Pratt of Chicago, who presented the paper, made more of a plea for the recognition of suggestive therapeutics as a scientific part of the study of medicine than a statement of the use of this power. "There is but one attiunde which is safe for a doctor or any other student of life to maintain" said he.

'And now to the subject paper. 'Suggestive Therapeutics.' The Christian Scient ists make use of suggestive therapeutics, but have so much of error in their philosophy that their teachings are in the mos part a delusion and a snare. Their hostility to long established and well approved measures of bealing familiar to doctors is wholly uncalled for and unjustifiable. Whatever truth they stand for I am in sympathy with, but with their errors and nconsistencies I have little patience.

Advice is Medicine. "What is suggestive therapeutics? It has been known to you and all of our predecessors as 'advice.' Was there ever a doctor who did not give advice? The doctor's chief desire is to inspire faith and confidence in his patient. In reality doctors have always handled mental as well as physical forces. Advice is a matter of medicine. Suggestive therapeutics is only one of its children, but it is as legitimate a child as electro therapeutics, hydro therapeutics or medical therapeutics or any other therapeutics. We do not cease to prescribe drugs, because some doctors kill rather than cure. Health and happiness are nearly synonymous. While medicine cures the body, suggestive therapeutics can bring about happiness." An enjoyable banquet preceded the evening session. The address of the president wholly occupied the time and received the close attention of the members. It deals largely with suggestions regarding medical legislation and medical colleges. The specialties of the medical profession and the qualifications necessary for the practice of them were dealt upon. The address through out was noticeable for the liberality with which the relations of the two great schools of medicine were treated. At the close a committee was appointed to consider the recommendations made by the president. Today at noon officers will be chosen for the coming year and the next place of meeting will be selected.

ing Out the Anti-Compact Law for Benefit of Insurance Combine.

While in Washington L. P. Funkhouser of Omaha has been interviewed in the Post of that city on the insurance combine as follows:

"I was very glad to see the decision of Judge Smith McPherson of the federal court, sitting at Omaha, to the effect that the anti-compact law of Nebraska is unconstitutional. For several years the insurance people of Nebraska have been unable to conduct their business in a satisfactory manner on account of that statute, and I ow look for an improvement, which will the insured. The law was so sweeping that a literal construction made it impossible for three or four adjusters of as many companies to sign an agreement to an adjusted loss, even if the settlement was entirely satisfactory to the policy holder. Under that measure the agents or companies could not have entered into an agreement to reduce fire insurance rates, not to mention an agreement to raise them, which the law is intended to directly prevent. Another insurance law in Nebraska, which I believe o be unconstitutional, is the valued policy aw. We have recently brought a test case before the federal court and before we finish we will get an opinion from the United States supreme court. The law provides that if the insured sues under the valued policy law and wins his case, the fees of his attorneys must be paid by company. There is no provision that if the company wins its fees shall be paid by the insured. I am confident that statute will be knocked out."

Private Contractors to Be Regulated in Work of Tearing Up Wooden Walks in Order to Avoid Personal Injury Cases.

REPAIR PERMIT SYSTEM IS PROPOSED

An adjourned meeting of the city council was held yesterday afternoon for the purrose of taking steps to prevent accidents and damage suits by the tearing up of wooden sidewalks in various parts of the rapidly in Brazil. The mission has been city. Some time ago an edict went forth from the headquarters of the municipality directing that all property owners should within twenty days lay permanent sidewalks on Twenty-fourth street from A to Q street and also on other streets. At the expiration of the time allowed the permanent sidewalk contractor was to do the the abutting property. Some of the prop erty owners complied with the order in the specified time, while others delayed until the city contractor went to work. Then a number of prominent owners engaged private contractors, who tore up great stretches of walk, leaving the space between the curb line and the lawn in atmost impassable condition. The contractor felt that he was being injured, as he had given a bond to the city to proteet the municipality from damage from accidents while the work of laying new "I am very much pleased to know that

In order to protect the contractor, who is under bond, and the public in general the council will pass an ordinance making it a misdemeanor for any property owner to tear up a sidewalk without first securing a permit from the city engineer. No fee will be charged for such a permit, the idea being to prevent long stretches of walk from being torn up by irresponsible contractors, thus laying the city liable for damages in case of personal injuries.

An ordinance covering this ground fully was introduced at yesterday's meeting and the council will meet again at noon today to listen to the second and third reading of the document.
