

MUDDLE IS GETTING DEEPER

Commissionership Election Confused by Orders from the Courts.

EXTRA MEMBER LIKELY TO BE CHOSEN

County Clerk Haverly Confronted by Mandatory Orders and Member Harte Severe in His Possession of a Seat.

The names of Lyman Waterman and F. W. Marsh, the republican and fusion candidates for county commissioner in the first district, will both be placed on the sample ballot unless the courts interfere, said County Clerk D. M. Haverly in discussing the controversy which has arisen over the election of county commissioners.

"I have heard rumors that Commissioner Harte will make some move to have the matter straightened out, so there will be no election in the first district, but as yet I have not been notified of any move. I had hoped that Harte would make an attempt to straighten this tangled web some time ago. As the case stands at present there is nothing for me to do but put all the names on the ticket and let the problem work out its own solution. It looks very much as though the settlement of the dispute is to be delayed until after election."

Harte Makes No Move. J. L. Kennedy, attorney for Mr. Harte, is not disposed to enjoin Mr. Haverly from placing the names of Waterman and Marsh on the sample ballots. In discussing the question he said:

"Mr. Harte holds a certificate of election and there is no reason why he should be worried over the situation. There is no power which can turn him out until he has served his term. It is impossible to elect another commissioner from the first district. The fact that a man moves out of a district in which he is elected does not prevent him from serving out his term. The authorities are clear on this point."

In discussing his position, Mr. Waterman said: "I am not at all uneasy about the situation. My name will go on the ticket and if I am elected I will receive a certificate of election and take my seat on the board. Some of the other fellows will have to worry. It will be impossible to elect another commissioner from the first district. The fact that a man moves out of a district in which he is elected does not prevent him from serving out his term. The authorities are clear on this point."

Announcements of the Theater.

The newest Clyde Fitch play "Lovers' Lane," which will have its first appearance in this city Sunday afternoon, has been one of the few real successful plays produced last season, pure, sweet and wholesome, with as pretty a love story running through as one would care to see, filled with handsome scenic pictures and a well-balanced cast of thirty people. William A. Brady, under whose direction the play will be presented, guarantees the same production in detail as its five months' run in New York and the months in Chicago.

"Two Merry Tramps," a popular-priced attraction which has been receiving considerable praise from the press in the sections of the country where it has been playing since the opening of the season, comes to the Boyd for two performances today, matinee and night. Wood and Ward are the stars of the company and are said to be funny. A novelty is promised in an Indian opera scene, interpolated in the second act.

In conjunction with the regular performance tonight of the High Rollers, Peter Loch and Joe Sullivan will decide who is the superior master on the mat. The management announces "A Merry Chase" for Sunday afternoon and evening only.
