Reats His Handsome Person in Bed at Mead Time While Servitors Attend His Every Wish—Hotel Men Are Amazed.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—Prince Ranjit of Baluchistan, who to an unusual extent has succeeded in exciting and baffling London's curiosity and who is variously described as an Indian potentate, a prince of Siam, and a member of the royal house of Siam, arrived October 24 from Liverpool for Montreal on board the steamer Lake Simcoe, whence he is going to New York, accompanied by a dusky suite numbering twenty-eight persons.

He lived a fortnight, in all the splendor of Oriental opulence, at a fashionable London hotel, where he had dropped in unannounced and unconcernedly engaged twenty-three rooms. In spite of the publicity which such an arrival was bound to create he has left England as much in the dark as to his identity as when he arrived. The India office has issued an official announcement that there is no such India chief as "Prince Ranjit of Baluchistan," but that neither condemns the mysterious stranger nor clears up his identity, as Ranjit is palpably an assumed name. When interviewed in London, where he by no means courted publicity, Prince Ranjit declined to say from whence he came, but he once orally remarked: "I am king." Whether he is or is not a king he certainly lives like one, spending enormous sums of money. The retinue which sailed with him included musicians, who produced from weird instruments still more weird sounds. A dancing girl formed a prominent part of the daily entertainments which the suite provided for the master, who spent most of his time in bed.

He is a man of the physique, dark-skinned and handsome. All his food was prepared in accordance with the strictest Oriental usages by his own servants, who wore gorgeous robes and were nightly unmarshaled by a major dome for exercise in an adjoining park. This mysterious party will, it is said, make a tour of Canada and the United States, returning to England in time for King Edward's coronation.

KING EDWARD'S CORONATION

American Exhibition in Celebration Will Be a Great Display of Wealth and Industry.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—(New York World Cablegram—Special Telegram.)—The date of King Edward's coronation has been fixed for Wednesday, June 25, the ceremonies to extend over two days. The foreign royalties will be entertained for one week in London. Great efforts have been given to the English manufacturers by the king's choosing for the coronation robes of the pearls a velvet made only in Lyons, France. English velvet is claimed to be quite as good and serviceable, but it cannot be obtained in the precise shade of the Lyons velvet. The manufacturers are preparing a letter of protest to the king on the subject.

Another difficulty has arisen in deciding the type and make of the peers' coronets, owing to the fact that no genuine ones were obtainable in the market. The coronets unceremoniously, which he presented to the College of Heralds. The fact has been conveyed to the king that many peers prefer to absent themselves from the ceremonial than wear coronets from the American exhibition in Crystal Palace to celebrate the coronation will be strictly confined to a display of the wealth, industry, science and art of the United States. American entertainments and shows will be introduced into the grounds. Characteristic American sports will be conducted by representative Americans. An American advisory committee has been formed, consisting of many prominent members of American society in London, who are working in co-operation with Henry Gillman, to make the exhibition complete and representative. The exhibition will extend from May to September.

NEW MONOPOLY IN PETROLEUM

Socialist in France Will Try a Little Legislation Against Standard Oil.

PARIS, Oct. 26.—(New York World Cablegram—Special Telegram.)—M. Sembat, a socialist member of the Chamber of Deputies, has received instruction from the group of collective deputies to introduce into the chamber a bill making petroleum refining a state monopoly. It is said that this would materially affect the Standard Oil company's business, because the entrance of refined oil would be forbidden and because better terms on French oil would be exacted from the American trust by a threat to use Russian fluid only. As a consequence it is predicted that oil will be cheaper here than anywhere else in the world, while giving the state an immense revenue.

SUCCESS WITH TUBERCULOSIS

Open-Air Treatment in Berlin Proves a Triumph for Modern Methods.

(Copyright, 1901, by Press Publishing Co.) BERLIN, Oct. 26.—(New York World Cablegram—Special Telegram.)—Statistics published here regarding the result of open-air treatment of tuberculosis show that the success has been attained by the new method of treatment out of 112 cases 121 have been declared cured. In Saxony, a country in which consumption is prevalent, out of ninety-eight patients over sixty have been cured. In Baden the open-air treatment in the pine woods of the Black Forest has resulted in 205 cures out of 249 cases. The German government is energetically distributing popular literature instructing the people in the nature of lung diseases and the most approved methods of combating them. Half a million leaflets have been circulated among the less enlightened classes. The German government has instituted the Berlin hygienic association to open offices in which instructions on hygienic and sanitary matters shall be imparted free. Doctors will be present at certain hours of the day to answer such questions as: What is the best food to be eaten? The best clothing to wear in the different seasons? Questions on housing, cooking, heating, sleeping accommodations? Whether children shall be washed with hot or cold water? What outdoor exercises are best at various seasons? How long children should remain out of doors? How to protect one's self against colds and influenza? An eminent medical practitioner in Berlin, whose fees for well-to-do people are high, but who gives two hours' free treatment daily to the poor, has been victimized on a somewhat extensive scale. Under his apartments is a shoemaker's shop, in which well-dressed people have been in the habit of changing their clothes for rags of beggars. An elegant theatergoer, who had been invited to the eminent physician, who prescribes for them free.

GEORGETOWN, Ky., Oct. 26.—(Ex-Secretary of State Caleb Powers was today again convicted as accessory before the fact to the murder of Governor William F. Goebel in January, 1900, and a second time sentenced to imprisonment for life. The second trial began October 8 and has continued with three sessions daily, court adjourning late each night. The present term expired tonight. Arguments were limited, so that the case went to the jury at 2 o'clock this afternoon and a verdict of guilty was soon found.

Powers sat pale and motionless when the verdict was announced by the foreman, B. S. Calvert, his old schoolmate. Opposite Powers on the other side of the court-room, with the attorneys, sat Arthur Goebel, brother of the late senator and governor, with his eyes fixed on the prisoner. The attorneys of Powers shook his hand, expressing about their belief in his innocence. Women crowded around Powers, embracing and kissing him and tears were shed. The defense having filed a motion for a new trial, Judge Cantrell heard arguments immediately on the petition.

She has come in answer to Mrs. John W. Mackay's summons in order to consider a plan under which Mrs. Sherwood is to hereafter live with Mrs. Mackay as a friend and companion. Princess Colonna, Mrs. Mackay's daughter, would live with her mother, naturally.

EFFORTS TO CURE CANCER

Berlin Scientist Insists that Malaria is a Panacea for the Vital Disease.

(Copyright, 1901, by Press Publishing Co.) BERLIN, Oct. 26.—(New York World Cablegram—Special Telegram.)—Prof. Loeffler of Griefswald, who suggested treating cancer by blood injections from persons tainted with malaria, says investigations have convinced him that malaria exercises a favorable influence on certain kinds of diseases. He believes that malaria can now be considered in the light of a therapeutic agent. He is anxious to stimulate physicians to make an attempt to treat cancer with malaria injections, which can be done without danger, provided quinine is administered. Prof. Loeffler's attention has long been directed to the comparative immunity from cancer of dwellers in the tropics and the prevalence of malaria there. He appeals to physicians, especially those residing in tropical climates, to make known their observations on cancer and malaria.

Prince Murat Honors to His Death of His Birth on New Jersey Soil.

(Copyright, 1901, by Press Publishing Co.) PARIS, Oct. 26.—(New York World Cablegram—Special Telegram.)—Prince Joachim Napoleon Murat, born in Bordeaux, N. J., in 1834, son of Prince Murat and Georgia Frazer, died Thursday at his chateau of Chambly, where he had retired after the death of his second wife weeks ago. The prince always retained the warmest feeling for the United States, never neglecting to boast of his American mother whenever an occasion arose. His death recalls the romantic marriage of his father, the king of the Belgians gave a dinner last night in the palace in honor of Berkeley W. Parsons, an eminent American engineer. Mr. Parsons was also of the party. Among the others present were several members of the diplomatic corps. The king conveyed long with Mr. Parsons on the railway construction. Afterward he expressed deep regret at the loss the United States has sustained through the death of McKinley. King Leopold declined to touch upon his projected American visit. The "authorized official contradiction" purporting to come from Brussels, must be accepted with reserve. The king has not made up his mind one way or the other. He ardently desires to visit New York, but matters of state are not at this moment favorable to his absence from Europe.

(Copyright, 1901, by Press Publishing Co.) LONDON, Oct. 26.—(New York World Cablegram—Special Telegram.)—The Duke Hamilton's betrothal to Miss Nina Poore, whose family was already connected with the Hamiltons, caused astonishment until it was announced that the duke, who was a naval officer, recently regained his health and strength to a large extent by a long course of massage treatment.
