The socialist convention in Nemaha county was attended by forty men and it is conservatively estimated that the vote for the ticket will not be less than 100. That is not a large number, but it means a loss of that many votes to the fusionists, for all of the socialist votes will come either from the democratic or popu list parties.

"Last year Nemaha county was pretty evenly divided politically, but five years Thursday evening to discuss the attempted ago everything went democratic or fusion. removal of the records of the office of the Bryan carried the county by over 400 and the remainder of the ticket received about the same average majority. Last year the McKinley electors got a majority of five votes."

Colfas Promises Reversal.

In Colfax county the republicans expect to give majorities to all of the republican state candidates and at least half of the party's nominees on the state ticket. In past years the fusionists have outnumbered the republicans in that county, but since the beginning of the campaign many changes have been reported and it is confidently predicted that the election will ommittee show a complete reversal of conditions.

"The fusion majority was reduced 200 votes at the last election," said J. O. Berkley of Schuyler, who was in Lincoln today "That was a good beginning and we expect this year to wipe out the remainder and place the county back again in the republican column. In the populist ranks there appears to be widespread dissatisfaction with fusion and many of the old-time workers are going back to the republican party. The conventions fused on an entire ticket, but the harmony of that action is not to be in order to show the populists their found among the fusion voters at large."
