PREPARING FOR CONVENTION

Initial Work for Next Year's Meeting of Christian Societies-Omaha Must Make Its Promises Good.

The preliminary meeting of citizens called to confer with the representatives of the Christian church regarding preparations to be made for the entertainment of the missionary convention next year was held as the Commercial club yesterday afternoon. The meeting was called to order by Judge W. Slabaugh, who introduced C. S. Paine, chairman of the church committee which secured the convention. Mr. Paine said that it would be possible for Omaha to lose the convention yet if a proper showing was not nade to the secretaries of the several societies composing the organization; that these secretaries would be in Omaha in a short time to look over the local situation. and it would be necessary to show them that the city will be fully prepared to enmust be made certain that the auditorium will be completed by that time and that sufficient money will be raised to provide

E. Rosewater was then called upon for an expression of opinion. In opening his remarks he referred to the fact that twelve years ago, in the same hall, Bishop Newman of the Methodist church had suggested the idea of securing for Omaha the international conference of that church. It was a rather large undertaking, and quite to his surprise the speaker had been made chairman of the executive committee. The neces- | tion has issued notice of a meeting of the sary funds were raised, the necessary work done and the conference was held in Omaha. > Candidate Davie Makes a Plain Talk at Seventh Ward Meeting.

STANDS ONLY ON REPUBLICAN PLATFORM.

School Director W. F. Johnson Endorses Mr. Davie's Remarks and Pleads for Support for Repub-Hean Educational Ticket.

The Seventh Ward Republican club me it 2709 Lavenworth street last night and heard the issues of the campaign discussed by the following candidates on the county Charles Unitt, W. J. Hunter and J. W. Battin. Justices Crawford and Altstadt, Justice Duke of South Omaha and A. W. Jefferis

G. F. Davie, a candidate on the school board ticket, said: "A certain well known business man, an alleged republican, is now busity engaged in running about the city, them what a hard lot make up the republican school board ticket. He said this very day, at a meeting which my wife attended, that there was not a single decent man on that ticket. He insinuated that all five candidates are tied to the wheels of the city machine. For them and myself I can say that we stand upon nothing but the platform adopted by the city convention. I have made no other pledge, either to man or machine, and will make none."

Member W. F. Johnson of the school board was called upon to address the meeting. He "I want it understood that I am not supporting the democratic school board ticket-not by any means. And I'm not the only school board member who takes this position. The other Johnson, Mr. Levy, Mr. of the libel in the criminal court. Last Barnard, Mr. Stubbendorf, Mr. Howard and J. J. Smith all desire the election of the republican school board ticket and there are other members who feel the same way. We hear a great deal nowadays about electing the democratic ticket to rebuke the machine and men are running about town, as Mr. Davie said, pleading with the women to vote that way. While we don't want the city government to run the schools, and it is not doing it, I don't believe there is any danger of its doing it even if the entire recorrespondent here of the Associated Press publican school ticket is elected. The re publican ticket is made up of good citizens and it ought to be elected. I hope you will all turn out with your wives next Tuesday and do what you can to elect this ticket." R. T. Baldwin addressed the meeting in behalf of the colored republicans and called attention to a joint meeting of the colored republican clubs of Omaha and South Omaha, to be held Saturday night at Metropolitan hall, Fourteenth and Dodge streets. Prof. William T. Vernon of Western university will be the speaker of the occasion

BADGERS EXPECT STRUGGLE

They Realize That Cornbuskers Are Playing Stiff Foot Ball.

COUNT MOST ON THEIR INTERFERENCE

hink It is Sufficient Not Only to Outdo the Nebraskans, but Shut Out Minucaota's Glants

Later.

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 31.-(Special.)-Contrary to a great many reports sent out from Madison, the Wisconsin eleven does not look upon the foot ball game to be played Saturday with the Nebraskans as sensational article purporting to be an merely a stiff practice. Of all the games on the schedule there is but one other It contained an attack on the which is causing the coaches and the players as much anxiety as the approaching game is the one to be played with Minnesota. Chicago is looked upon as being at best a very uneven and to a certain extent an uninteresting match, but while no one here will admit for a moment Nebraska has a chance of winning, a great deal of interest attaches to the Saturday game because it will furnish the first opportunity to get a line on the comparative strength of Wisconsin and Minnesota. Then, too Nebraska is admitted to have the strongest team that the Badgers have played this season, and while no one likes to think that the Nebraskans will cross Wisconsin's goal, all predictions are for a low score by the Badgers. Interference Their Strongest Point > Nebraska's hardest task will be to break up the interference of King's men. No team in the west, or in the east for that matter, puts up better or swifter inter ference for the men who carry the ball than Wisconsin does. When one of the halves attempts an end run he is protected by the entire back field, and as soon as the ball is snapped the interference starts like a shot. No team which has played here this season has been able to do anything at all against this strongest feature of Wisconsin's game. In line plunges, too, the Badgers are good, their success resulting from the quickness of their play. In offense King's men are particularly strong, but in defense they are weak, especially so in stopping mass plays and tandem formations They not only expect to win from Minnesota, but hope to keep the Gophers from scoring. They believe that Minnesota will not be able to break up the magnificent interference with which Wisconsin has dumbfounded every opponent this season, and that the result will be that the Badgers will run up the biggest score.

Ideal Back Field

Wisconsin has the ideal back field of the entire country. The men are all veterans and after several seasons together have developed team work such as has seldom month; Michael King, night fireman, $25 been seen anywhere in the west. Driver per month; C.
