

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Clerk Shrigley Makes Statement of Condition of City Funds.

ONLY TWENTY-SEVEN THOUSAND LEFT

Policemen and Firemen May Have to Go Six Months Without Pay and Street Force Will Be Dispersed With.

Yesterday afternoon City Clerk Shrigley gave out for publication a statement of the city funds at the close of business hours. According to this statement the 1901 levy amounted to $108,416; balance from 1900 levy, $6,017; received from county road fund, $197; received from intersection paving fund, $927; total, $115,523. The amount drawn since the commencement of the fiscal year in August totals $88,307. This leaves a balance for the city to operate on until next July of $27,315.

The balances of various funds follow: General fund, $3,482; salary, $7,776; judgment, $62; street repair, $853; public light, $1,257; $1,920; interest, $2,709; curb and paving repair, $118; police, $3,056; water, $958; park, $2,150; library, $571; emergency, $25; engineer, $20.

If the council acts upon the advice of the city attorney it will not permit any of the funds to be withdrawn. Such an act will, under the charter, lay the members of the council liable under their bonds.

It will be seen by the figures given that out of the 1901 levy there has already been expended $58,000, leaving only $27,515 to pay the running expenses until the next levy is available. If the mayor and city attorney will not permit the funds to be withdrawn the firemen and policemen will have to go without pay from January until the end of July and the street department will be shut down entirely. The matter of dismissing the street force is now under contemplation and this will most likely be done as soon as the washouts caused by the recent rains are filled. Street Commissioner Clark will, however, be retained during the winter to attend to any emergency cases.

Register Saturday.

Saturday, November 2, is the last day of registration. All those who desire to vote must register this fall. The registration booths will be open from 9 a. m. until 9 p. m. So far the registration has been very light as compared with last fall, but efforts are being made by both republicans and democrats to get out all voters on the last day.

Registration booths have been located as follows: First Ward—First precinct, drug store, Twentieth and Second streets; Second precinct, Collins' music store, Twenty-fourth and K streets; Third Ward—First precinct, Pivonka building, Twenty-first and Q streets; Second precinct, Evans' laundry building, Twenty-third and N streets; Third Ward—First precinct, Crosby & Rich's office, Albright; Second precinct, Karnell's building, Thirty-fourth and U streets; Fourth Ward—First precinct, 212 North Twenty-fifth street; Second precinct, Schivitz building, Thirty-first and Q streets; Fifth Ward—First precinct, 2850 Broadway; Second precinct, Haskell building, 210 N street; Sixth Ward—First precinct, bakery, Twenty-fourth and D streets; Second precinct, Callagher's cigar store, Twenty-fourth and N streets.

Library Sample Ballot.

Sample ballots for the proposition to vote bonds in the sum of $5,000 for the purchase of a site for library purposes made their appearance yesterday. These ballots are being scattered about among voters in order that the people may know beforehand just what the proposition is. It is merely a question as to whether the people will sanction the issue of bonds to the amount of $5,000 for the purchase of land upon which is to be erected the proposed Carnegie library. These bonds are to be run ten years, bearing interest at the rate of 5 per cent per annum.

Sentiment seems to be divided on the question, but a great many persons who use the library in Omaha are anxious to see the proposition carry. The increase in taxation will be very light and the improvement will, it is asserted, be well worth the money the city is required to expend.

Arranging for Election.

Members of the republican and democratic committees are considering the advisability of sending circular letters to the judges and clerks of election in connection with the count of the votes on the night of November 5. Those who have considered the matter assert that if all of the straight tickets are sorted out first and then the split tickets counted the returns can be reported promptly. If the number of straight tickets is known at an early hour it will be only a short time until the split tickets can be counted and tabulated. This will give the result. Then the straight tickets, previously sorted out, can be listed on the pollbooks. The plan is to have a large committee of men to sort out the election ballot and to members of it with twelve voting precincts it is expected that the vote can be counted in much less time than when there were only nine precincts.

Another Republican Rally.

Another big rally of republicans will be held on Saturday night at Woodman hall. This meeting will be under the auspices of the Swedish-American Republican league. Invitations have been sent to the other republican clubs in the city and a large attendance is looked for. David Anderson stated yesterday that Senator Millard had been invited, but could not give a positive answer until this evening.

Rain Causes Damage.

The heavy rain of Wednesday night caused a number of bad washouts on the unpaved streets of the city. The work of filling these holes will be commenced by the street department today.

1000 CLAIMS

Equal Not a Single Fact—Omaha Endorsement Makes This Claim a Fact.

Endorsed by scores of Omaha citizens who cheerfully make a public statement of their experience, is the proof we have to back our claims that Doan's Kidney Pills cure every form of kidney illness from a common backache to serious urinary disorders. Here is one local example. We have many more like it.

Mrs. J. W. Edwards, 2733 Fowler street, says: "I must say I had not much confidence in Doan's Kidney Pills before I used them, but I was troubled with symptoms of kidney complaint and suffered so severely that I was compelled to do something, and went to Kuhn & Co.'s drug store for a box. They soon convinced me of their value, and after completing the treatment I was not troubled."

department today. Water poured down N street during the rain and flooded several cellars on lower N street. The greatest damage, however, was out on the Elkhorst grade, near Forty-fourth street. At this point there is a cut of sixty feet through a hill 2,000 feet wide. The grading for this cut had only just been completed and the banks had not yet been sloped. The rain caused a cavern of dirt from the bank on the north side of the cut. It is estimated that fully 30,000 yards of dirt from the bank fell into the cut. It will cost not less than $7,000 to remove the dirt and place the cut in such shape that tracks can be laid.

BURRIS TELLS OF SALE OF BAY PONY

Evidence in Perjury Case the Same as that Brought Out at the Trial on Robbery Charge—Callahan Subpoenaed Witnesses.

Thread by thread the prosecuting attorneys are picking up the evidence against James Callahan and weaving it into a web which they believe will bring about the conviction of the alleged kidnaper of Eddie Cudaby for perjury. In the main the evidence which has been taken so far is identical with that given in the trial of Callahan for robbery.

More than a dozen witnesses were examined yesterday morning to show the connection of Callahan with the renting of the Schneiderwind cottage, in which Eddie Cudaby was imprisoned, and to show that Callahan was seen with the bay pony which played such an important part in the kidnaping.

Daniel Burris was one of the most important witnesses. He formerly owned the bay pony and on the stand testified that Callahan and Crowe purchased the pony from him in December. Burris positively identified Callahan. When shown pictures of Pat Crowe the witness said that he was sure they were photographs of the man who accompanied Callahan when the pony was purchased.

Burris was given a watch and $10 in money for the pony. He was to receive an additional $5 in a few days, providing a lump on the animal's neck did not interfere with its usefulness as a roadster. The man supposed to be Crowe represented to Mr. Burris that his name was not on the list of names and made it possible for him to remember exactly when the pony was sold. He afterwards sold the pony at Pacific Junction and identified it in Omaha at the previous trial.

Testifies Concerning Cash. M. L. Sears, attorney for Mr. Cudaby, testified that he drew $25,000 from the Omaha National bank December 19 and took it to Mr. Cudaby's home. He placed the money in a trunk, together with the note thrown into the Cudaby yard, and left the trunk in care of Mr. Cudaby's coachman.

D. J. Munshaw identified Crowe's picture as a photograph of a man whom he saw at the Melrose Hill house during the time of Eddie Cudaby's captivity.

Mrs. George Wittum, who lives at 2641 Boulevard street, identified Callahan as one of two men who frequently passed her home on the way to the Melrose Hill house before the kidnaping, the time Eddie Cudaby was held a captive.

John C. Rogers, who lives at Fifty-third and Pierce streets, saw Callahan and Crowe at Mrs. Kelly's home previous to the kidnaping.

The following witnesses have been subpoenaed by Callahan's lawyers: Charles McDonald, Emma McDonald, Jay McDonald, Mollie Anderson, Julia Wentworth, Charles Wisler, Mary Kelly, John Kelly, Frank Crawford, Frank Glynn, and Geo. M. Frank Herman, Arthur Custard, Gideon Custard and William Custard.

The complete story of the kidnaping was brought out yesterday afternoon. Edward A. Cudaby, Jr., and Edward A. Cudaby, Sr., were on the stand much of the afternoon and when the trial opens this morning the boy will be called to the stand again to complete his testimony.

Every detail of the kidnaping was recounted. Edward, Jr., told of his short walk to the home of a neighbor at 7 o'clock in the evening and explained how he was taken in custody by men who drove along Thirty-seventh street and represented to themselves to be the police. They were identified by Sheriff of Sarpy county. He told of the drive west on Dewey avenue and of his imprisonment in the Melrose Hill house.

The elder Cudaby told of the steps he took to recover his son. He identified a copy of the letter requesting the release of his son, 609 1/2 on the Center street road and described his trip the night of December 19, when the ransom was left in the place designated by the kidnappers.

SUPPLIES WORLD WITH SEEDS

Fertile Santa Clara Valley Has Good Season in Raising Country's Embryo Crops.

W. J. Fossate, a seed grower of the Santa Clara valley, California, accompanied by his wife and daughter, is at the Millard hotel, having stopped over a day on his way to the city to attend to the business of the city.

The fertile Santa Clara valley has had a very good season in raising country's embryo crops. The world uses about 1,000,000 pounds of onion seed a year, and seven-eighths of these are grown in Santa Clara county. One of its competitors, C. C. Moak, has between 2,000 and 3,000 acres devoted exclusively to the raising of seeds.

California truck gardeners and seed growers did well this year, for while they were favored with seasonable weather, plenty of rain and a pleasant temperature, in just the right proportion, the rest of the country suffered more or less from drought. This created a demand and made the prices good. Onions and potatoes are being shipped out of California by the railroad these days.

Balsac's Rival. Balsac had no rival but George Sands; some critics consider them twin stars. This woman, acknowledged by all the world as the second, if not the first, of French novelists, was certainly the most remarkable woman of her age and the greatest authoress in the world's history.

The story of her own life is as romantic and eventful as that of any of her heroines; and the revelations made in her histories de maitie would furnish material for a dozen novels of the present day. An interesting pamphlet giving outline of her life will be sent on request.

AGENTS WANTED. George Barrie & Son, 1313 Walnut Street, Philadelphia.

Scientific investigation has revealed the fact that dandruff or the profuse scaling of the scalp, is caused by an infinitesimal small germ or microbe, and further study has shown that the dandruff germ is caused by a febrile condition of the scalp; the small blood vessels become clogged—and poor circulation is the result, the hair roots weaken and die for want of nourishment, for "the blood is the life." Irruptions come upon the scalp, pimples that exude a sticky fluid, which cakes over the scalp in greenish patches and an irritating and painful itching exists. All or some of these conditions exist with ninety per cent of the people—Dandrigo is scientifically manufactured to meet and cure these diseases by removing the fever and giving perfect circulation to the blood. Dandrigo not only kills the Dandruff Germ, but it's cause as well. Persons afflicted with any scalp disease can receive a treatment free of charge by calling on Mr. P. Elliot at the Merchants hotel, or a postal card will bring him to your home or office.

NEW BOOKS AND MAGAZINES

Shelves of Book Sellers Take On Additional Load Daily.

MANY BOOKS FOR THE HOLIDAY TRADE

Fiction Predominates, but There Are Many Others of More Than Usual Interest—Beautiful Bindings and Illustrations.

The new books for the holiday season are coming from the publishing houses at a rapid rate these days and each week witnesses a large addition to the attractions to be found on the shelves of the book sellers. Fiction, as usual, is far in the lead and the well-worn historical novel is strongly in evidence, but there is a sprinkling of lighter fiction for those who do not desire the stronger works of war and bloodshed. One thing that will especially strike the purchaser this season is the great improvement in the style of binding in vogue, the colors and designs being in much better taste than was the case one and two years ago.

"God Save the King," by Ronald MacDonald, is a new story by the author of that stirring romance, "The Sword of the King," covering a period in English history a little earlier than his predecessor. Like the former story, the present one is autobiographical in form, but it is the hero's time, and not the heroine, who tells it and who figures as the chief actor in the thrilling events described. The young royalist Charles II. before the king's escape to the continent after the battle of Worcester. The heroine aids him in this adventure and together with the restored monarch are the principal actors in an exciting episode that furnishes the climax of the story. The Century company, New York.

To the girl whose feet have pressed the shifting sands of the seashore all summer there is nothing so delightful as a romance by the sea. She will pick up "Lias' Wife," by Martha Dunn, with a feeling of real pleasure. It is a picture of life, and not of those islanders. She had the blood of old France in her, the blood that gives to her daughters such a willowy and courtly grace. L. C. Page & Co., Boston.

"Flood Tide" is the latest novel by Sarah P. McLean Greene, the author of "Vesty of the Basin." It is a strong, dramatic story of primitive life in a hamlet on the coast of Maine. A beautiful and natural young woman is strongly contrasted with a woman of the world in the many interesting situations which the author has developed. It is full of the pathos and humor of life's little comedies, but the dominant notes of the book are hope and joy. Harper & Bros., New York.

Julien Gordon's new story of modern society "The Wage of Character," is in her most brilliant vein. Glances of social life in New York are accompanied by vivid pictures of political life and society in Washington. Her novel is a story of the world of fashion and intrigue, written with an insight, an eloquent force and a realization of the dramatic and the pathetic as well as more superficial phases of life, which stamp the book as one immediate and personal in its interest and convincing in its appeal to the minds and to the sympathies of readers. The appearance of this novel will be especially welcome to the many admirers of "Mrs. Clyde," "His Letters" and "A Puritan Pagan." All of which enjoyed great popularity. D. Appleton & Co., New York.

The illustrations in "Among the Great Masters of Oratory" are worth the price of the book. They are the result of painstaking research and show the hand of the practiced collector as well as the taste of the connoisseur. Some of the originals, as will be noted at once, are extremely rare. The bringing together of such a collection of American booklets, a really good book on oratory has been badly needed. "Etiquette for All Occasions," by Mrs. Burton Kingsland, is the result of long and successful effort to produce such a volume, as the parts published in the Ladies' Home Journal and the New York Herald amply prove. "Mrs. Burton Kingsland" is the nom de plume of a woman prominent in New York society and she always has an anecdote or story to illustrate her point, and besides a literary quality that makes everything she writes interesting reading. Doubleday, Page & Co., New York.

The Chinese are said to have written the first standard book on etiquette nearly 2,000 years ago. And for a long time, says a leading American bookseller, a really good book on etiquette has been badly needed.
