SOUTH OMAHA SCHOOL BOARD

Grand Jury to Investigate Charges Made by Taxpayers League.

MUCH CORRUPTION ALLEGED TO EXIST

Many Crooked Deals Are Said to Have Been Engineered and a Complete Inquiry Will Be Had.

Charges of corruption made against the South Omaha school board will have thorough airing at the hands of the grand $3.50. tury, which is now in session. Subpoenas for twenty witnesses have been drawn up and will be issued within a day or two Among the witnesses who will be called before the grand jury are members of the hoard, contractors, teachers, architects and other persons who have business transactions with the various board members in

The investigation has been inspired in Frank Crawford of Omaha to check up the books of the board and is said to have employed detectives, who have been making a thorough investigation of bills which local house are beginning to bear fruit. A Johns against the Western Union Telegraph were questioned. A bill for $2,000 worth of lumber was approved very recently. Ef form to locate the lumber have not been successful and it is reported that board members will be asked to show what has profitable to the winner, and it is hoped become of this material.

It is charged that tenchers have been most for jobs were elected. One of the witnesses subpoonacd is a man who is said to have been told that he could have the superintendency of the South Omaha the board members. The $500 was to be paid back to the man in the way of an increase in the salary which the present in- Lewis' "Cocaine Flend" is one of the cleverthe position is said to have accepted the the local boards in a long time. proposition. Shortly afterward, however the members in the deal arc said to have concluded that they must have $750 and the man balked. The employment of an architect to draw up plans for a high school and the expenditure of $2,000 for plans and specifications, when the public had not signified its intention of building a new school. will also be looked into.

Aside from the charges of corruption among board members taxpayers allege that money is spent unnecessarily and will endeavor to show the grand jury how the schools of South Omaha could be conducted for much less than $125,000 a year without impairing their efficiency.

At present the grand jury is investigat ing jail cases and County Attorney Shields or five hours' work. Write us and we will is of the opinion that most of the present work. The South Omaha investigation will probably begin Friday or Saturday of the present week.

for Trial.

H. J. McCune, charged with pinning J Kennedy to a barn door a month ago by browing a butcher knife through his ear and who forfeited his bond by failing to appear in police court for trial, was arraigned before Judge Gordon yesterday on a new harge. This time, as formerly, the butcher knife figures in the case, but instead of Kennedy it was his wife, Mrs. Ray Mclune, who was the potential victim.

The arrest was made Sunday afternoon by Officer Russell. Entering the house he ound both McCune and his wife drunk and ighting, the former threatening her with he weapon. Man, woman and knife were taken to the station. Yesterday a plea A Good of guilty to being drunk and disorderly was entered and McCune was fined $5 and costs and Mrs. McCune $1 and costs. He will now be held for trial on the charge preferred by Kennedy.
