

NEW BOOKS AND MAGAZINES

Revolutionary Pat Forth Many Entertaining and Attractive Volumes

JUVENILE PUBLICATIONS VERY NUMEROUS

Works of Fiction Constitute the Bulk of the Books Coming from the Press at the Present Time

Believing that a good fight in a good cause is always worthy of admiration, Cyrus Townsend Brady is doing some of his best work in "Colonial Fights and Fighters..."

Mrs. Eliza Orzesko, the latest discovery of Jeremiah Curtin's unerring sense of what is the most interesting in contemporary Polish literature, is the author of "The Argonauts..."

"The House Divided," by H. B. Marriott Watson, is an exciting romance of the time of George II, somewhat on the order of "The Prisoner of Zenda..."

The successes scored by two books which they have put out for successive seasons, with illustrations of color, namely, "Santa Claus Partner" and "The Old Gentleman of the Black Stock..."

Everyone would like to be beautiful, but those who are not may gain many valuable pointers how to improve their appearance from "Beauty's Aid..."

The name of Clara Morris recalls the greatest emotional actress of her time and those who have sat under her spell will be in no way surprised that she should turn to literature and produce original work...

"A Lighthouse Village," by Louis Lyndon Sibley, is a very effective picture of some features of life in a village on the seacoast of New England. The characters belong to the "lighthouse" section of society and a great charm of the book is the contrast between the keepers of the lighthouse, their neighbors, and their wives...

"Tatty Fairfield," by Carolyn Wells, is a delightful story of the experiences which befell 14-year-old Patty while making the acquaintance of four different aunts and their respective families during a long visit to each one in the course of her quest for a home in Elmbridge, near New York, where the beauty and elegance of the surroundings impressed Patty like a dream of fairyland...

Adna Lyall, the author of some half dozen of novels, among the number being "Donovan," "Doreen" and "Hope, the Hermit," has published a new book which she calls "In Spite of All." The principal action of the story takes place between 1640 and 1649, while England was the scene of civil war. These were stormy days, and they afford the author much opportunity for thrilling situations and suspense. Some of the scenes and some of the characters are historical and the author has been to no little pains to make a careful study of the history of the times so that the narrative may be considered in the main historically true...

Henry C. Lahee, in writing his sketch, "Grand Opera in America," has evidently placed himself in touch with the most interesting characters, managers and conductors as well as singers, who are instrumental in cultivating the public taste for opera. In the course of the 240 pages comprising his work, the author tells us much regarding the singers who appeared in this country. Some of them were not of world-wide reputation, but they played a most important part in the history of opera in America. People who are interested in the stage generally and grand opera in particular, will appreciate a book like the present work at its full worth. L. C. Page & Co., Boston.

The present season has been extremely prolific of cat books, the most recent addition to the library of the literature being "The Soul of a Cat and Other Stories," by Margaret Benson. The writer is evidently a lover of the feline race and her stories show a deep insight into the character of the little animal which, next after the dog, is the most intimate associate of the human race. Among the stories included in the book are "The Mysterious Rat," "The Conscience of a Barn-Door Fowl," "A Paradise of Birds," etc. The book is nicely gotten out, being illustrated by a number of very fine plates. The author has told her stories exceedingly well and in a manner to interest even those readers who are not especially devoted to the cat. G. P. Putnam's Sons, New York.

Every parent will be interested in "The Children's Health" by Florence Hall Winterburn. This is the third volume in the Winterburn series. "The Parents' Library," and is a most practical treatise on the care of children from birth to maturity. The other books in the series are "Nursery Ethics" and "From the Child's Standpoint." Urged to the task by her love of children, the author has brought her best energies to bear upon this work, and so well has she succeeded that it is pronounced one of the most sensible and practical books of the kind published. Parents will find in its pages many most valuable suggestions. The Baker & Taylor company, New York.

Dainty and artistic in a high degree, describes most fittingly "Happy Days for Little Folks," a beautiful new book of stories and verses by Mabel Humphrey. There are numerous full-page color plates, after paintings in water colors by Frederick M. Syngma. It is the first of the full-page plates in the margin surrounding the text is beautifully decorated with the faces and figures of happy children. It is just the book to suit a dainty little girl. Frederick A. Stokes company, New York.

Louisa M. Alcott's stories are of a kind that never cease to be entertaining and profitable to read. This is the third volume of her series, "The Little Women," probably enjoyed greater popularity at the time of its publication than any other book that had been written for young people up to that time. "Little Men," which appeared subsequently, enjoyed equal popularity, and neither one has ever been surpassed by any other work of the kind. The present edition, therefore of "Little Men" will be appreciated by people anxious to supply the children of the present day with books calculated to instill good, healthy sentiment in young minds. The volume is handsomely printed and leaves nothing to be desired in the way of a perfect edition of Miss Alcott's famous story. Little, Brown & Co., Boston.

Wallace Rice has written "A Popular Natural History of Wild Beasts" which must be included in the list of noteworthy juveniles. There is something about natural history of wild animals, especially when accompanied by pictures in color, as the present case, that appeals strongly to children. Such books must be regarded, too, as beneficial in their tendencies, for they serve not only to amuse, but at the same time to stimulate in the growing mind of the child a desire for knowledge. Mr. Rice has written a book so filled with information that it may be said to almost exhaust the subject, and any child taking the slightest interest in the animal world will find in it a never-ending source of satisfaction. It is a book that will not be outgrown in a number of years, and even adults will find it both interesting and instructive. Herbert S. Stone & Co., Chicago.

"Denalov's Mother Goose" contains the old familiar rhymes and jingles of Mother Goose, edited and illustrated by W. W. Denalov. The verses in the book have been hand-lettered by Fred W. Gray. The illustrations are in color and many of them on colored sheets. The whole book is gotten up regardless of expense. Book buyers, bearing in mind that children never tire of Mother Goose rhymes, however many times they may have heard them, will not pass by this hand-lettered edition so attractively and artistically. McClure, Phillips & Co., New York.

The above books are for sale by the McGeath Stationery Co., 1268 Farnam Street.

HRONATKA UNDER ARREST

Omahank is Held at Cedar Rapids Charged with Larceny by His Wife. Frank Hromatka, 2228 South Eleventh street, is under arrest at Cedar Rapids, Ia., on a charge of grand larceny preferred by his wife, to whom he has been married about eighteen months. The arrest was made upon the authority of the Omaha police. "Hromatka sent his wife out in the country last summer," said Chief Donahue, "on the pretext of benefiting her health, and when she returned a few days ago it was found that she had gone away taking with her all of her household goods, as well as property belonging to her sister, all of her clothing and $1,200 in money which she had at the time of her marriage. She tells me that she began giving her medicine alone in the spring, which she afterward found was cocaine. She is his second wife. He has several children by his first wife, who is now dead. "I understand Hromatka is now trying to get out of jail on a habeas corpus proceeding, which will be heard tomorrow. There is a question if we can get a conviction, as under our laws a husband can't steal from a wife or a wife from a husband. I can't tell what the outcome of the case will be."

Bad Colds are quickly cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is an old-fashioned, safe, pleasant, effective remedy for colds, coughs, whooping cough, croup, sore throat, influenza, and all the ailments of the throat and chest. It is a sure cure for all these ailments. It is a pleasant, effective remedy for all these ailments. It is a sure cure for all these ailments.

MARKET HOUSE SITE UPTOWN

Councilman Mount Has a New Location for Council's Consideration.

FINDS GROUND ENOUGH FOR THE PURPOSE

Strip on Nineteenth Street Between Harney and St. Mary's Avenue is Suggested as a Most Available Place.

That the public market of Omaha will ever be located on the Jackson street site contemplated in the condemnation ordinance now before the city council is improbable, that a private corporation stock company, the individuals of which own it, is in an ephemeral condition the occurrence of which is still more to be doubted. The reason for these things has just leaked out. It is that Councilman Mount has discovered another and totally different site for the market, with so many features to recommend it that it seems to be taking a fast hold on the minds of the promoter's fellow aldermen. Till now only two plans involving a change in the market were known to the public. The first was for the city to buy a half block facing Jackson street, between Tenth and Eleventh streets, and later build a market there, using for the present sheds and stalls of temporary construction. This plan met with enormous opposition on the part of commission men and others interested, and, although an ordinance to that effect is already in the hands of the council, chances of passage have from the first been very slim. The other project was to allow a small company of local capitalists to build a market and own and conduct it.

Mount's Proposed Location. On the long strip of ground along the west side of Nineteenth street, between Harney and St. Mary's avenue, Mr. Mount would place the market. This piece of land is 300 feet long and 150 feet deep. It is a total vacant lot, save for one frame building, a livery stable. The territory lies along just west of the library building and east of the street car barn at Twentieth and Harney streets, extending from there clear over to St. Mary's avenue. Its size is the one great feature of this plot of ground dilated upon in advocating its purchase and use as a market place. There are minor considerations also in its favor, but its extent is the main point. Since the first proposal of the market site some of the councilmen have demurred to it as being too small a place. It is but 132 feet deep and one block long. The Mount site answers this demand for more room. Mr. Mount is enthusiastic in the cause. He says: "I shall always be opposed to any market scheme which proposes in the beginning a site that is too small for the purpose. Such an affair must have room, and there is plenty of it on Nineteenth street. The spot is convenient to access. A fire engine, a street car and barn could be built in one end of it, and the companies at Eleventh and Harney streets transferred there. The city now pays $200 a month rental for the present location, and it might as well save the money."

Price Fixed on Strips. Mr. Mount has not yet prepared an ordinance looking to the accomplishment of his plan, but that is for a very good reason. Herman Kuntze owns the land and he is now east, his return being set for December 1. Mr. Mount wishes to get a favorable proposition of some nature from Mr. Kuntze before he has any action by the city council, and has received encouragement and a request that the matter be delayed till December 1 if possible. That explains why Mr. Hascall's ordinance for the Jackson street site was again kept back at last night's meeting of the council. At the committee meeting of aldermen a week ago Monday it was not brought up because of the request of Mr. Zimmerman, who was absent. Monday Mr. Zimmerman was there, but Mr. Hascall was not, so no one proposed his ordinance. Mr. Mount has urged Mr. Zimmerman to delay the matter till the return of Mr. Kuntze, and the developments thus far would make it appear that this will be done. Ever since the market proposition became one of real consideration Mr. Mount has had his eye and mind on the Nineteenth street site, but has kept it quiet till now in the hope that no action of any kind would occur for a time. Mr. Hascall's ordinance, however, looked threatening and Mr. Mount is now working open toward the consummation of his pet project.

Opposition to Jackson Street. There was little hope, anyway, for the Jackson street ordinance. It was opposed by Mr. and Mrs. Hoyle, who are both opposed to it, in addition to Mount, and unless there was a strong sentiment in favor of it Mr. Karr and Mr. Whitehorn would not support it. The latter says: "I want the market where there will be plenty of room. Otherwise I do not desire any change. I know that the proposed Jackson street site is not large enough. When the market is heavy now it covers both Jackson and Howard streets from Tenth to Twelfth streets. We need a very large place."

THEY HOPE TO STRIKE OIL

Eastern Parties Leasing Land in Sarry County for Prospecting Purposes. An agent representing eastern capital has been engaged for the last few days in securing options on land in Sarry county for the purpose of boring for oil. Some time ago several prospect holes were sunk at different points along the Papio, and as the indications were good a favorable report was sent east. Several propositions for oil leases have been made to a farmer in the vicinity of Gilmore, and as a meeting held a day or two ago the terms of the leases were arranged. The entire Gates farm, comprising 1,200 acres, has been leased, and several hundred acres adjoining belonging to others. Land has also been leased for several miles along the ridge overlooking the Papio. As soon as the leases are made out and signed it is expected that boring for oil will commence.

NEW FEDERAL GRAND JURORS

Court Finds it Necessary to Summon Five More Men for Duty. On account of the failure of certain members of the federal grand jury panel of port and excises which have been accepted by the judge it has been found necessary to draw five additional men for that body. The new men are Paul Colson of Fremont, C. C. Crowell of Blair, C. A. Jack of Tekamah, Robert Dempster and Howard Kennedy of Omaha.

These men have been summoned to appear Thursday morning, at which time the present grand jury will be discharged. At the new one impaneled. At the present time the federal grand jury is working on cases of violation of the postal laws. There are about twenty such cases and in only three or four has the persons charged with the offense been apprehended. The Indian cases will be few on account of the smallpox and the grand jury is expected to complete its work in two weeks.

REVIVE OLD TRACK QUARREL

Burlington and Omaha Railroads in Trouble Again Over Jobbers' Switches.

PLAINTIFF FAILS TO GET WHOLE SLICE

Furniture and Fixtures Not Included in Order of Sale and Interest of Markel & Son Otherwise Protected by Court.

Yesterday morning Judge Smith McPherson filed in the office of the United States circuit court clerk an opinion in the case of Paul J. Sorg against the hotel association, J. E. Markel and P. L. Markel, a suit to foreclose a landlord's lien on the Millard hotel and fixtures for rent due the plaintiff. The court finds generally for the plaintiff, ordering the building sold to satisfy the claim which was the basis of the suit, but at the same time it makes some orders which may result in an appeal by the plaintiff. The opinion opens with a brief review of the history of the transactions between the parties to the suit, telling how in 1890 the land on which the Millard hotel stands was sold to Mr. Sorg and at the same time a lease was entered into between the hotel association and the landlord, by the terms of which the association was to pay an annual rental of $12,000 per year, giving as security for payment a mortgage on the hotel building and fixtures. It briefly recites the lease by the hotel association to the firm of Shears, Scott & Markel and its subsequent transfer through Thomas Swobe, who defaulted in the payment of rent, to J. E. Markel & Son, who held the lease at the time the suit was started. At the time the suit was instituted there was due the plaintiff $20,000, evidenced by a note for that amount signed by the hotel association and Markel & Son, together with the rent from the time the note was given until the suit was started, amounting at this time to about $55,000.

In his complaint Mr. Sorg attempted to have a lien declared on the furniture in the house to secure the payment of the note signed by the firm. The judge finds that the firm name was signed as endorser and the association, must be exhausted before the plaintiff can recover from the sureties. What the Court Orders. The opinion then goes on to the decrees, as follows: First—Judgment against the hotel association for the rents due and unpaid, estimated at $35,000. Second—Foreclosure of the mortgage provisions of the lease. Third—Sale of the building and all fixtures, but not of any of the furniture or the personal effects of either the hotel association or the Markels. Fourth—An upset price at which the sale shall be made is fixed at $50,000. Fifth—The purchaser at the sale will take the property bought subject to the lease and burdens thereby created. Sixth—If the complainant is not the purchaser at the sale, but some other party is, the costs of the action and the costs of the sale shall first be paid. The sum awarded to the complainant by the decree will not be paid and the balance will be paid to the hotel association. Seventh—If the complainant is the purchaser such excess will not be paid in money, but the complainant's bid will be satisfied by discharge of all obligations for rents due him. Eighth—If the complainant is the purchaser he will pay one-half of the costs, including costs of sale, and the respondents the other half. George H. Thummel is appointed special master in chambers to sell the property. Mr. Thummel said that he could not say at this time when the sale would be made. The formal decree will have to be entered on record, and it is possible that the proceedings will be stayed by an appeal by the complainant, who may not be satisfied in that he failed to establish a lien upon the furniture in the hotel.

In 1890, when Sorg purchased the ground upon which the Millard hotel stands, it was at a cost of $200,000. The value of the building in its present condition is estimated at more than $100,000.

Backache should never be neglected. It means kidney disorder, which, if allowed to run on long, may result in Bright's disease, diabetes or other serious and often fatal complaints. Foley's Kidney Cure makes the kidneys well.

TO POPULATE CUT OFF LAKE

State Fish Commission Will Put Thousands of Finny Tribe in the Water. Thursday morning Cut Off lake will be stocked with the splendid fish by the State Fish commission. Dr. A. Worley, superintendent of the hatcheries at South Bend, said that on Thursday morning at 11 o'clock the special car of the State Fish commission, Dr. A. Worley, will arrive in Burlington and will be placed in the lake. The bass and sunfish are 6 months old and the catfish 18 months old. The superintendent writes that next spring he will place in the lake at least 500,000 pike fry. The bass which is being put into the lake is the total amount received from the United States fish hatcheries by the Nebraska superintendent this year.

BOTH FEET ARE CUT OFF

Fred Johnson, South Omaha Car Repairer, Meets with Probably Fatal Accident.

Fred Johnson of 1214 South Sixteenth street, a car repairer employed at Cudahy's car shops, will probably die as a result of injuries received at noon yesterday in an accident at Seventeenth street and Union Pacific tracks. He rode up from South Omaha on a Union Pacific extra freight and in jumping off at Seventeenth street he fell under the wheels. Both feet were cut off at the ankles and a compound fracture of the skull inflated. Johnson was given temporary aid by Dr. Suit at a Union Pacific surgeons, until he could be removed to St. Joseph's hospital. His condition is serious and he is unable to withstand the necessary operation. Johnson is a single man and has lived in Omaha but two months.

DO YOU KNOW—

That Hospe is selling a mighty fine little piano for only $225 this week? It is well worth $275 of anybody's money—will last a lifetime—good tone—well constructed action and handsome double veneered case—in either genuine mahogany, English oak or real walnut. Then, besides, we fix the terms with you so you can pay a little each month—in a short time you have it all paid for without hardly realizing it and have had the use of an elegant piano all this time. Isn't this a better plan than to keep putting off buying until you have all the cash?

A. HOSPE,

Musical and Art. 1513-1515 Douglas.

WOMEN'S $3.50 SPECIALS—

Stop just a moment while we tell you about our new Drexel specialties—these for the women—the very height of fashion—with wide extension edges with yellow rope stitch. Natural finished sole and heel in enamel-patent cow-patent calf and vici kid uppers—every one an exclusive style not shown in the city anywhere else but at Drexel L. Shoeman's—You can't tell the difference between them and the shoes that sell at $5—they will pay and interest you when you come and see them.

Drexel Shoe Co.,

New Fall Catalogue Now Ready. Omaha's Up-to-date Shoe House. 1419 FARNAM STREET.

A Sweet Delivery—

Send a woman candy and you'll please her nine times out of ten—get it here and you'll please her every time—we don't say this because it's our candy, but because it's true—we believe in being honest—if it were not so we wouldn't say so—highest quality, lowest prices is the rule that governs this store with a cast iron rod.

W. S. Balduff,

1520 Farnam St.

ORDERS THE MILLARD SOLD

United States Court Decides Suit of Sorg Against Hotel Association.

PLAINTIFF FAILS TO GET WHOLE SLICE

Furniture and Fixtures Not Included in Order of Sale and Interest of Markel & Son Otherwise Protected by Court.

Yesterday morning Judge Smith McPherson filed in the office of the United States circuit court clerk an opinion in the case of Paul J. Sorg against the hotel association, J. E. Markel and P. L. Markel, a suit to foreclose a landlord's lien on the Millard hotel and fixtures for rent due the plaintiff. The court finds generally for the plaintiff, ordering the building sold to satisfy the claim which was the basis of the suit, but at the same time it makes some orders which may result in an appeal by the plaintiff. The opinion opens with a brief review of the history of the transactions between the parties to the suit, telling how in 1890 the land on which the Millard hotel stands was sold to Mr. Sorg and at the same time a lease was entered into between the hotel association and the landlord, by the terms of which the association was to pay an annual rental of $12,000 per year, giving as security for payment a mortgage on the hotel building and fixtures. It briefly recites the lease by the hotel association to the firm of Shears, Scott & Markel and its subsequent transfer through Thomas Swobe, who defaulted in the payment of rent, to J. E. Markel & Son, who held the lease at the time the suit was started. At the time the suit was instituted there was due the plaintiff $20,000, evidenced by a note for that amount signed by the hotel association and Markel & Son, together with the rent from the time the note was given until the suit was started, amounting at this time to about $55,000.

In his complaint Mr. Sorg attempted to have a lien declared on the furniture in the house to secure the payment of the note signed by the firm. The judge finds that the firm name was signed as endorser and the association, must be exhausted before the plaintiff can recover from the sureties. What the Court Orders. The opinion then goes on to the decrees, as follows: First—Judgment against the hotel association for the rents due and unpaid, estimated at $35,000. Second—Foreclosure of the mortgage provisions of the lease. Third—Sale of the building and all fixtures, but not of any of the furniture or the personal effects of either the hotel association or the Markels. Fourth—An upset price at which the sale shall be made is fixed at $50,000. Fifth—The purchaser at the sale will take the property bought subject to the lease and burdens thereby created. Sixth—If the complainant is not the purchaser at the sale, but some other party is, the costs of the action and the costs of the sale shall first be paid. The sum awarded to the complainant by the decree will not be paid and the balance will be paid to the hotel association. Seventh—If the complainant is the purchaser such excess will not be paid in money, but the complainant's bid will be satisfied by discharge of all obligations for rents due him. Eighth—If the complainant is the purchaser he will pay one-half of the costs, including costs of sale, and the respondents the other half. George H. Thummel is appointed special master in chambers to sell the property. Mr. Thummel said that he could not say at this time when the sale would be made. The formal decree will have to be entered on record, and it is possible that the proceedings will be stayed by an appeal by the complainant, who may not be satisfied in that he failed to establish a lien upon the furniture in the hotel.

In 1890, when Sorg purchased the ground upon which the Millard hotel stands, it was at a cost of $200,000. The value of the building in its present condition is estimated at more than $100,000.

Backache should never be neglected. It means kidney disorder, which, if allowed to run on long, may result in Bright's disease, diabetes or other serious and often fatal complaints. Foley's Kidney Cure makes the kidneys well.

Advertisement for 'The Youth's Companion' magazine for 1902. Features a portrait of Henry C. Potter, Bishop of New York. Text includes 'The Youth's Companion' ... FOR 1902 ... and a list of subscription details.

Advertisement for 'The Century' magazine for 1902. Features portraits of Mark Twain, George Ade, and others. Text includes 'A Year of Humor THE CENTURY MAGAZINE IN 1902' and 'A Great Series on "The Settlement of the West"'.

Advertisement for 'The Rochester Shoe Co.' featuring 'Red Fern London Boots'. Text includes 'Since introducing this celebrated shoe we have been forced to discount other lines. No wonder the shoes advertised at $3.50 and oftentimes at $5.00 do not compare in style or quality...' and 'PRICE, $3.00 The Rochester Shoe Co., 1515 Douglas Street. New Catalogue Now Ready.'

Advertisement for 'Drexel Shoe Co.' featuring 'Women's $3.50 Specials'. Text includes 'Stop just a moment while we tell you about our new Drexel specialties—these for the women—the very height of fashion—with wide extension edges with yellow rope stitch...' and 'Drexel Shoe Co., New Fall Catalogue Now Ready. Omaha's Up-to-date Shoe House. 1419 FARNAM STREET.'

Advertisement for 'W. S. Balduff' featuring 'A Sweet Delivery'. Text includes 'Send a woman candy and you'll please her nine times out of ten—get it here and you'll please her every time...' and 'W. S. Balduff, 1520 Farnam St.'