THREE VICTIMS OF TRAINS

Charley Anderson Injured Fatally-Coroner's Jury Blames Company for Exceeding Speed Limit in City.

Fatally Injured-Charley Anderson. This is the record of fatalities on the Northwestern railway in Council Bluffs yesterday.

Andrew J. Headles, while walking along the tracks of the Northwestern railroad near the north end of the switch yards, was struck and instantly killed shortly after 8 o'clock yesterday morning by passenger train No. 71. Headlee had been camping for the last three weeks at Big lake, north of the city, and was walking into town when he met his death. He stepped off one track to avoid an outgoing train and evidently did not notice the train coming up behind him.

At the inquest vesterday afternoon the jury returned a verdict to the effect that Headlee came to his death by being struck by Chicago & Northwestern passenger train No. 71. This rider was attached to the verdict: "In our opinion the cause of his death was the train being run at an overrate of speed in the city limits." consisted of H. J. Palmer, B. F. Stevick and Samuel H. Ford.

The principal witnesses at the inquest were: O. S. Goodman, conductor; E. W. Stevens, engineer; Bert Hicks, fireman of the passenger train, and William Wells, a colored man, who witnessed the accident. The testimony of the train crew was to the effect that the train after passing the roundhouse was running about twenty miles an hour. Engineer Stevens testified that he saw Headlee step from the northbound pecially strong on this point. Prentice was onto the southbound track and that he at once blew his whistle, but that Headlee did not appear to pay any attention to it. He owned a team and wagon, which he had tried to sell to secure money for the journey. Failing to sell them, he had decided to make the trip overland and had so written to his son Samuel and to his wife in Missouri. These letters, unaddressed, were found on his person. It is supposed he was coming to town to mail these letters when he met his death.

OLD EVIDENCE IS REVIVED

Mining Suit Are Won by

The first two rounds in the Doyle-Burns mining suit in the district court were decided yesterday in favor of James Doyle. Judge Green overruled the motion of the defense to try certain issues in the action in equity to the court and also overruled the objections of the defense to the introduction of documentary testimony of certain witnesses given at the previous trial. In the morning the jury was excused while Congressman Smith, for Burns, and John N. Baldwin, for Doyle, argued the motion to separate the issues involved in the suit and try some of them in the court in equity. At the close of the arguments Judge Green promptly overruled the motion on the ground that it was filed too late and that the defenses urged by Burns as equitable could be made just as well in the law action before the jury. The ar guments occupied the entire morning. After the noon recess the plaintiff began to introduce the testimony of certain witnesses at the previous trial by reading the transcript from the reporter's notes. This was objected to by the defense on the grounds that the amendment filed by Doyle had changed the issues and made a new case, although it was still docketed under the old title and therefore it did not come under the provisions of the statute, holding that evidence taken in a former trial could be used on the retrial of the case. Judge Green overruled the objections and the remainder of the afternoon session was taken up in reading the testimony of the following vitnesses: R. B. Maxwell of Cripple Creek, J. C. Crispen of Victor, C. Prentice of Cripple Creek. E. I. Jones of Watrous, N. M., and George O. Henderson of Dunton. This testimony related particularly to the district and all of it tended to show that James F. Burns, the defendant, had on all occasions admitted that James Doyle was his partner in all of their mining transac tions. The testimony of Prentice was esprospecting in the Cripple Creek district at the same time Doyle and Burns were he said that Burns had told him that he were locating everything as equal partners. The trial so far has been without any of the passages-at-arms between the oppos-

COUNTY RECORDERS ARE IN LEAGUE

Thirty-Five of Them Organize at Dea Moines to Promote Certain Legis-Intion-Matt Carriers

Also Meet.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) DES MOINES, Nov. 13.-(Special.)-Atorney General Mullan today received further information in regard to the attitude of the court of claims toward the old war claims of the state, indicating that at least a portion of the claims of the state of lowa presented to the government some time ago will be secured without having the court of claims pass upon them, but by direct action of the auditing department of the treasury. The court of claims has had under consideration the claims from Pennsylvania, Maine, New Hampshire and some other states and these claims have stood on the same basis as the Iowa claims. The chief question which interested the lows people was whether the court would the bill would pass at the coming session hold that the claims were filed too late. In of congress if the dairymen used their inthe cases submitted the court has decided that the statute of limitations did not run against them. The court also decided that the fact of having received the principal on the claim without at the same time presenting a claim for the interest and incidentals does not now bar a claim for the latter. The claim of Maine was for $212,678, and that of New Hampshire for $792,353. The claim of Pennsylvania is for a larger sum and Iowa also has a larger claim. It is believed that under the latest rulings of the court of claims the Treasury department will feel warranted in paying about $100,000 of the lows claim without waiting for action by the court of claims. In view of the fact that prominent state officials doubted whether there was any chance of securing any portion of the claim, this is early history of the Cripple Creek mining quite a victory for those who have worked up the case.

County Recorders Organized.

A meeting of about thirty-five of the county recorders of Iowa was held today and organization effected for the purpose of securing legislation which the recorders believe to be necessary. The county recorders have maintained a state association in other years and have accomplished for some time have not held annual meetings. Now they have revived their organization. They desire an adjustment of the salary question and also some changes in recorders.

Matt Carriers Organize.

About twenty-five rural mail carriers met at the city council room this morning on call of W. P. Wood of Cherokee. One of the objects of organization is to secure whose ground it is proposed to prospect and a better understanding of the business that comes under their direction. Mr. Wood propriated for machinery to sink shafts sent out 175 notices of the meeting. Owing to the long distances many of the carriers | wealth in this vicinity, but heretofore those rive until in the afternoon, Officers were elected as follows: President, W. P. Wood, 'herokee; first vice president, Ed B. White, Mount Ayr, second vice president, . L. Luke, Hampton; secretary, Arthur Jordan. Burlington; members of executive committee, N. L. Maxon, Webster City; Leroy C. Zollinger, Ogden. In the informal discussion of carrier work several stated that from one to six carriers went out from a town, loaded with mail, and often worked far into the night. They have to pay for meals, feed of horse or team, repair of wagons, for their clothing, etc., and that the $500 allowance is by no means fair compensation. The carriers met again in the afternoon to confer as to best means of presenting their claims to the government. It is probable a bill will be framed by the executive committee for presentation to congress at the coming session. Mitchell Doesn't Want Office.

The monthly reports from institutions show that during October there was paid tian Temperance union, which is to meet at by the state on account of construction work on the new Hospital for Insane at Cherokee $36,406.82. The work at that hospital is progressing with great rapidity and if the fine weather holds out a few weeks longer the new buildings, chiefly the power house and side buildings, will all be enclosed so that work can proceed all next winter. It is the intention of the contractors to proceed with the interior work during the cold weather and have the buildings all completed by early next spring. The State Board of Control will report to the legislature in favor of making an appropriation for opening the hospital about July 1 next, when it is expected the furniture will all be in place.

Smallpox in Ottomwa

Reports to the State Board of Health indicate that smallpox is gaining in several cities of the state and that in Ottumwa there has been an alarming increase in the number of cases. There are now seventeen cases in the detention hospital in that city and several in private residences. The council has appointed a committee to see to it that the regulations are enforced and all cases reported.

Federal Court on Bond Issues Judge Shiras of the United States district ourt has rendered a decision in one of bonds in northwestern Iowa counties, hold-

The limit of indebtedness at the time the bonds were issued was $3,608, but the bonds issued actually amounted to $160,000. There was a recital in the bonds that the loan did not exceed the limit, but Judge Shiras rules that this was not suffi cient to make the bond issue illegal in face of the fact of exceeding the limit. The bonds were a part of those issued many years ago in Lyon county, over which there has been continued litigation.
