

HEADQUARTERS IN OMAHA

Women Suffragists Determine to Extend Their Field Work.

NEBRASKA ART ASSOCIATION'S DISPLAY

Governor Savage Has a Kick Coming. His First on the Gridiron—Judge Hollenbeck's Campaign Expenses.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, Nov. 14.—(Special)—The woman suffragists today held an animated executive session, during which it was decided to maintain headquarters in Omaha and rapidly to extend the field work. In the afternoon eight addresses were delivered, all predicting optimistic results which the enthusiasts declared would follow the triumph of the universal suffrage movement. Mrs. C. M. Young of Broken Bow was re-elected president, Mrs. A. Marple of Table Rock vice president and Miss Nelly Taylor corresponding secretary. Mrs. J. A. Dempster of Omaha was chosen treasurer. Mrs. L. Denny of Lincoln was chosen for another term as corresponding secretary. The auditors are Mrs. Belle Sears of Tekamah and Mrs. Mary Smith Hayward of Chadron. The address of Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt of New York was the event of the evening, after which the association adjourned. Mrs. Catt is president of the national association. In the symposium held in the afternoon the speakers and topics were as follows:

Symposium, "How Would the Enfranchisement of Women Advance the Progress of Civilization?" It would tend to develop the higher womanhood of women. Mrs. Anna A. Wells, Schuyler. It would tend to develop the higher manhood of men. J. H. Dundas, Auburn. It would surround the children with healthier influences. Mrs. Emma Shuman, Nebraska City. It would create happier homes. Mrs. Ross R. Modlin, Beaver City. It would tend to elevate the moral standard of society. Mrs. C. W. Damon, Omaha. It would advance the cause of peace. Mrs. Mary E. Jeffords, Broken Bow. It would create better industrial conditions for women. Mrs. Alice Isabell Tracy, Geneva. It tends to purify politics. Mrs. Beale, Starks, Tekamah.

Reform in Penitentiaries.

Superintendent Mallieau of the Boys' Industrial school at Kearney and Warden Davis of the state penitentiary returned today from Kansas City, where they attended the convention of the National Reform Prison association.

"Our sessions were devoted almost exclusively to the discussion of reform methods for penitentiaries and other penal institutions," said Mr. Mallieau. "We considered the various subjects from a practical as well as a scientific standpoint and undoubtedly much good will result from the interchange of ideas. No action was taken at the convention which will have any direct bearing upon the Nebraska institutions, but improvements will be made in the management and in the methods wherever it is possible to do so."

Nebraska Art Association.

Preparations for the eighth annual display of pictures by the Nebraska Art association had been practically completed and when on December 25, at 8 o'clock in the evening, the doors to the gallery of the university library building are opened it will be disclosed an exceptionally beautiful array of specimens from American art.

This is to be called the "Pan-American Exhibition." Many of the canvases will have come from the galleries of the Buffalo exposition, where they have been admired all summer and fall by people from all over the world. Miss Florence N. Levy has made the selections with rare taste. She was connected with the art department of the exposition and was able to choose with the finest discrimination.

Governor Will Kick Off.

Following the custom set in some of the eastern colleges, Governor Savage will kick off the ball next Saturday in the Kansas-Nebraska game scheduled to take place on the State university campus. This morning the university athletic board extended the governor a cordial invitation to perform this function and he has complied with the request. Governor Savage will be accompanied by the state officers and several members of his staff.

Modest Campaign Funds.

Judge Conrad C. Hollenbeck of Fremont today filed with the secretary of state an account of the personal expenses of his campaign for judge of the supreme court. The total expenditure, he says, was $100, one-half of which went to the democratic state central committee and the other half to the populist committee.

Judge E. C. Calkins of Kearney, successful candidate for regent of the University of Nebraska, contributed $5 to the local campaign committee and he insists that he made no other payments in connection with his candidacy. James N. Paul, who was elected judge of the Eleventh judicial district, expended $950 in the interests of his own election.

Delegate to Chicago.

Governor Savage today appointed C. E. Adams of Superior an alternate delegate to the national convention.

EXPECT ANOTHER HOMESTAKE

The State Board of Public Lands and Buildings will meet next Saturday to award a contract for sixty new cells at the state penitentiary. Bids were opened Monday, but an adjournment was taken to permit the submission of supplemental offers.

Fusionist Resigns.

Peter Dahlsten, fusion representative from Greeley, Garfield, Wheeler, Loup and Blaine counties, has filed his resignation with Governor Savage. He was elected county treasurer and he resigns to accept that office.

Eighteen Months in Prison.

As a result of snapping a revolver in the face of Frank Williams after attempting to kill his wife, George Moore was sentenced to eighteen months in prison this morning by Judge Holmes. All the parties mixed up in the controversy are colored.

ATKINSON ANXIOUS TO KNOW

Great Northern's Possible Decision to Hold There from O'Neill Means Much to Town.

ATKINSON, Neb., Nov. 14.—(Special)—

The result of an interview held at Sioux City recently between L. B. Allen, superintendent of the Wilmar and Sioux Falls division of the Great Northern railway, and T. A. Harris, vice president of the Atkinson & Niobrara River railway, in the course of which the latter gentleman presented the possibilities of an extension of the Great Northern Short Line from O'Neill, the terminus, to Atkinson, is being anxiously awaited at this place. The fact that Mr. Allen expressed himself as being highly pleased with the facts and figures furnished by Mr. Harris, who he assured the information would be taken up with the proper officials, is encouraging news. In case the Great Northern people deem the twenty-mile extension of their road from O'Neill here an advisable action, this road would, it is rumored, get the entire eastern business of the Atkinson & Niobrara River railway, and the present indications point toward the connection of these two roads at this place.

Should this link be built, Atkinson would have a competing line that would not only reduce its freight bill, but the heavy expense of the entire commercial field in Boyd and Gregory (South Dakota) counties as well. Besides, it would actualize a project that has long been in agitation.

Work on the Atkinson & Niobrara River railroad, the new line being constructed for this place through thirty-five miles of a fertile agricultural and as splendid a store country as exists anywhere to Butte, the nucleus and prospective seat of Boyd county, is rapidly progressing. Quarters have been erected for the laborers and their teams out of this place about twenty-five miles, which distance has already been graded. The company's surveyor has made his estimate of the amount of ties necessary and the same have been contracted for and will arrive in a few days. It is now an established certainty that this road will be built by the first of the year.

WARD DOESN'T BLAME JURY

Says His Conviction of Shepard Murder Was Because of False Evidence Against Him.

DEADWOOD, S. D., Nov. 14.—(Special)—

W. H. Ward, convicted of the murder of Lee Shepard, is anxious to be taken to the state penitentiary at Sioux Falls so that he can commence some sort of work and get settled down. He still maintains his innocence. He tells the sheriff that he does not blame the jury in his trial for bringing in a verdict of guilty of murder "after hearing such terrible lies as they did." In the evidence that the state produced, Ward's cabin has been sold to a Deadwood man and it is being taken down for the old lumber. It has just been announced that the jury in the Ward case found what is supposed to be the bullet that killed Lee Shepard. They went to the house during the trial to see the premises and in the springs of a bed was found a bullet. It is the general theory that Ward gave the boy chloroform in his sleep and that as a last resort he fired one shot through the boy's forehead, the hole showing in the skull of the human body that was taken up in Ward's garden.

DEADWOOD TO TAP ELK CREEK

Sends Pair of Aldermen to Look Up Means of Bringing Over the Water.

DEADWOOD, S. D., Nov. 14.—(Special)—

A committee of two aldermen of this city has been making a thorough investigation of the practicability of bringing in the water of Elk creek, a stream of water a few miles south of this city. Something like six thousand barrels of water can be obtained, which will be sufficient for the needs of the city for many years to come. It will cost about $60,000 to bring the water in over the mountains.

WITCOK EXECUTORS WIN.

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Nov. 14.—(Special)—

John Jones, upon returning from Florida, where he has just concluded holding a term of circuit court, brought the information that the locally celebrated testator over the will of S. L. Wilcox, which was tried there, was decided in favor of the executors of the estate. The property involved is estimated by the plaintiff, Alice M. Wilcox, to be worth an aggregate of $100,000, and consists largely of real estate situated in South Dakota, Illinois and other states. Mrs. Wilcox, who is the widow of S. L. Wilcox, alleged that she and her minor children were unjustly dealt with by the deceased, who, she declared, was unduly influenced by the older and opposing heirs. By the terms of the will she and her children received between $12,000 and $13,000.

BLESSINGS OF THE SCAVENGER.

HURON, S. D., Nov. 14.—(Special)—

Beadle county, with several others is beginning the fact that it did not take advantage of the provisions of what is termed the "scavenger" tax law. Counties that did so are thousands of dollars richer and have the satisfaction of knowing that long lists of delinquent taxes have been cleared up. Brown county received over 75 per cent of the tax. Hughes county will have a big surplus and Huys county is at least $5,000 ahead.

HOLD FOR KOMSTAD ROBBERY.

MALMO, Neb., Nov. 14.—(Special)—A. L. Clark, formerly editor of the Cedar Bluff Standard, will begin the publication of a newspaper at this place next Friday.

HURT IN HASTINGS RUNAWAY.

HASTINGS, Neb., Nov. 14.—(Special)—John Penner, a farmer living southeast of Hastings, met with a bad accident in this city this afternoon, while he was driving his team. The team became frightened at a moving automobile and when the horses ran away Penner was crowded against a telephone pole with sufficient force to break his arm.

GAGE COUNTY'S BLOOD MONEY

Druggist of that Name Pays Fine for Selling Liquor at Clatonia.

BEATRICE, Neb., Nov. 14.—(Special Telegram)—Edward Blood, the Clatonia druggist, who was indicted by the last session of the Gage county grand jury on five different counts for selling liquor contrary to law, was today fined $100 and costs on each of three counts by Judge Letton and cited to appear at the next term of court to answer to the two remaining counts. Mr. Blood paid his fine and returned to his home in Clatonia this evening.
