BIG-NEW OFFICE BUILDING

It is Among the Improvements Contemplated by Union Pacific.

PLANS FOR NEW SHOPS TAKING SHAPE

Grounds Are Already Laid Out for Part of the Buildings and Hardware Piling for Foundations Has Been Received.

There is a feeling of mingled relief and satisfaction in Union Pacific circles as a result of the amicable settlement of the many differences existing for years between the city and the company. Coupled with that feeling is an evident determination on the part of the high officials "to do the right thing" by Omaha, to use a bit of expressive slang. Not only is this determination manifested in the mammoth shops to be erected soon, but it is safe to predict, judging from sentiments expressed yesterday that Omaha will receive other substantial benefits at the hands of the Union Pacific greater than the most enthusiastic believer in Omaha's future has ever dreamed of. A magnificent headquarters building is among the possibilities of the not distant future.
While no definite time has been announced for the beginning of actual construction of the new shops, it is understood that the work will be started as soon as the preliminaries are out of the way and vigorously pushed from that time. These preliminaries, in addition to finishing touches upon the plans, include the formal approval of the agreement drawn up by the representatives of the city and the company, as announced by The Bee. As far as the railroad company is concerned, President Burt was given a free hand in the matter, with the single instruction to make the best settlement possible, so there is no doubt that the board of directors will formally sanction the agreement.
Chief Engineer Berry is out of the city and details of the new shops are therefore unobtainable. The general plans have already been approved by the board of directors and the working out of the details has been left entirely with the headquarters officials. As announced by them, upward of $2,000,000 will be used in the construction of the shops, the completion of which will require nearly three years. President Burt has said that everything would not only be up-to-date, but in advance of the times, if possible.
Some preliminary work has already been done on the shops site. The engineering department has laid out the grounds for a part of the buildings, particularly the machine shop. Nearly 100 carloads of hardwood piling have been received and prepared for use in the foundation. The large force of men who will do this portion of

NEW FACES IN COURT HOUSE

First of Year Will Bring Fusion Countenance More in Evidence.

GUNSOLUS FOR DEPUTY COUNTY CLERK

Harry Miller Takes Recommendations from Democratic Clubs, but Refuses to Make Good for Howell and Herdman's Committee.

After January 1 there will be many new faces in the court house, as two of the best offices now held by the republicans are to be turned over to the fusionists, the register's and the county clerk's.
The county clerk, with the exception of the clerk of the district court, has more patronage at his disposal than any other county official, the number of his assistants running as high as fourteen at the time of the year when the assessment rolls are being made up. The lowest number of employees at any time of the year is eleven.
Harry C. Miller, the county clerk-elect, has not decided upon all of his appointments, but will probably have the list complete early next week. W. H. Gunsolus, at present messenger in the office of the county attorney, is to be Miller's chief deputy. Gunsolus is a democratic leader in the Third ward and is credited with having had more than a little to do with the nomination of Mr. Miller. The position of deputy county clerk pays $100 a month, while that of messenger for the county attorney pays only $75.
Trouble with Committee.
Mr. Miller, so it is reported, is having some trouble with the democratic county executive committee over the appointments to be made in his office. It seems that Ed Howell and Will Herdman, who control the executive committee, disposed of considerable of the county clerk's patronage in advance of the election and now Mr. Miller refuses to recognize claims for positions coming to him through the committee.
"I have been elected county clerk," says Miller, "and I suppose the people who elected me are going to hold me responsible for the conduct of the office. Under the circumstances I propose to select my own assistants. I shall, however, make two appointments on recommendations, one for the Jacksonian club and the other for the Douglas County Democracy. All other

WILD DASH DOWN FARNAM

Spirited Team Belonging to General Macderon Indulges in Runaway.

MRS. MANDERSON ESCAPES WITHOUT HARM

Coachman Guides Runaway Horses Through Crowded Thoroughfare Without Getting Into Collision—Driver Slightly Injured.

A team of spirited horses, hitched to General Manderon's private carriage, occupied by Mrs. Manderon, ran away about 12:30 yesterday. Mrs. Manderon was entirely unharmed and suffers only from the nervous reaction of the shock, while the driver, Charles King, escaped with some contusions and abrasions of the skin. His injuries are not serious.
The team started to run while coming down the hill on Farnam street, from Twenty-fourth street. So far as the driver knows, neither of the animals was frightened at anything, but the keen air caused them to feel their oats and when they broke from a trot into a lunge and finally into a run, he was unable to hold them. He started the entire length of Farnam street, from Twenty-fourth street to Ninth without colliding with any vehicle or mishap to pedestrians, though the thoroughfares were crowded at the time and the horses were running at a breakneck speed. At Ninth street he turned them to the left to avoid going over the bluff. A wagon loaded with lumber stood at right angles across one-half of the street and in making the sharp turn to avoid this the carriage was overturned.
Several workmen from the lumber yard ran out and caught the horses, which would otherwise have dragged the carriage as it lay upon its side.
King, the driver, was dazed by his hard fall upon the pavement, but Mrs. Manderon, as soon as the carriage was righted, started to walk in the office of Dr. Jones in the Union Pacific headquarters. A telegram was sent to General Manderon, who, with General John C. Bates, is now on his way to Sheridan, Wyo., on a hunting expedition. He was told that there had been a runaway, but was assured of the safety of Mrs. Manderon.

ANOTHER DRY GOODS HOUSE

It is Among the New Enterprises Expected in the Omaha Field.

A new dry goods house backed by eastern and southern capital is among the new enterprises proposed for Omaha the coming season. The promoter of the enterprise is now in correspondence with the secretary of the Commercial club to learn definitely of the business which may be expected at this point. The promoter, who prefers to keep his name from the public at this time, is now with a firm operating in this territory and has secured backing sufficient to launch the enterprise. He will locate in some Missouri river point and Omaha has the preference above others.

Two More Car Loads—

We've been having such good sales on our stoves the past few weeks we got a little short—but this week we got two carloads in so now we're ready to see you.
