Authority is Given for Two New Companies of Infantry.

Two Additional Sections for Battery of Artillery-Fremont, Grand Island and Plattamouth Likely to Be New Stations.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Nov. 27 .- (Special.)-The first formal steps in the reorganization of the Nebraska National guard were taken today by Adjutant General Colby. Authority was given for the organization of two independ- accepted ept companies of infantry, a company of signal and engineer corps and two additional sections for the battery of artiflery, and requisition was made on the War department at Washington for enough of the latest pattern Krag-Jorgenson rifles to equip one regiment, also enough artillery equipment for one complete battery.

The company of engineer and signal corps will be organized as infantry by Lieutenan Hull, captain of the Pershing Rifles, University battalion, and formerly of the First Nebraska volunteers, and W. R. Brooks, who was also a member of the First regiment of volunteers. It will be stationed at Fremont and after the preliminary organization is completed will be divided into two sections, one to be known as the signal corps and the other as the engineer corps. Each section will be under command of a lieutenant and both will be subordinate to the captain, there being only-three commissioned officers.

Judgment in Lincoln Hotel Case. Judgment for $9,494.09 was rendered by Judge Holmes today against the New Lincoin Hotel company and in favor of the John L. Carson beirs and the First National bank. This was an old controversy, originating nearly seven years since, over the right of possession to the furniture in the hotel. The bank and Carson had a mortgage and the hotel company a lien for rent on the property, which was owned by the Shears estate. The supreme court decided that the mortgage took precedence. The furniture was sold two years ago for $5,000, but its value at the time the controversy began was $12,662.44. The judgment includes the difference between what it sold for and the value at the taking, together with interest.

ABSTAINERS HELP A SALOON Temperance Element at Humboldt

> Forced to Peculiar Action-Barman's Coup.

HUMBOLDT, Neb., Nov. 27 .- (Special.)-After another sharp conflict between the license and anti-license elements two saloons are again in operation in Humboldt the traffic having been only temporarily interrupted by the action of the courts. As has been stated in these dispatches before action was begun in district court by the remonstrators asking that a mandamus be granted compelling the city council to revoke the licenses recently issued to Hiram Quackenbush and Henry Meyer for alleged rregularity in proceedings of the council in granting the same. This case came on for bearing before Judge Letton, and it happened that James B. Davis, who is interested with Quackenbush in the business had, since the granting of the license to the latter, managed to secure one also, without any remonstrance. Therefore, Quackenbush made no fight on his case and the mandamus was issued, being served on the city council Saturday afternoon last. In the evening that body met and proceeded to revoke the license of Quackenbush as directed by the foreign Missions." Mrs. Williams then ad court. Mr. Davis at once applied for his license, secured the same and in a few hours the saloon was opened again under his control. A peculiar situation then dehis control. She yearned for congenial society and she found such in her own cousin when her parents took her to Cheyenne to visit during last fall's carnival. FREMONT, Neb., Nov. 27 .- (Special Telegram.)-The jury in the Dusseldorf case, after being out one hour, brought in a verdiet finding the defendant guilty of manslaughter. The members practically arrived at their conclusion on the first ballot. The defendant turned pale and his lips trembled while the verdict was being read. but he seemed much relieved after the trial was over.

The case went to the jury this afternoon at 3 o'clock. The morning session was taken up with the arguments of counsel. Acting County Attorney Martin opened for the state. He argued that the facts and circumstances connected with the affair were in harmony with the dying statement of Payne made to Dr. Engler and that the defendant's account of the trouble did not correspond with those facts and circumstances. J. C. Cook opened for the defense. His line of reasoning was that no motive had been shown and that the wounds upon the person of the defendant were inconsistent with the state's theory and could be accounted for only by accepting defendant's testimony as true. Frank Dolezal closed for the defense.
