SENATE'S BUSY GRIND

to provide for the exclusion and deportation of alien anarchists. The first section of the act is as follows:

"That no alien anarchist shall hereafter be permitted to enter any part of the United States, or be admitted into the United States, but this prohibition shall not be construed as to apply to political refugees or political offenders other than such anarchists."

The second section directs the special board of inquiry authorized by the immigration laws to make diligent investigation concerning the antecedents of any alien seeking admission into the United States who is suspected of being an anarchist, and reporting to the board to the extent of examining the person of suspected aliens for marks indicative of membership in anarchistic societies. Section three provides for the return of persons to their native countries who are suspected of membership in the United States contrary to law and who have afterward been found to be anarchists.

The fourth section provides that when any alien is convicted of crime in the United States and it shall appear from the evidence that he is an anarchist the presiding judge shall direct a further hearing and if the judge is satisfied that the convicted alien is an anarchist or that his remaining in this country will be injurious to the government or society in general, he may direct that in addition to other punishments adjudged the convicted alien after undergoing such punishment shall be deported from the country from which he came, and if he returns to the United States shall be punished by imprisonment at hard labor for a period not exceeding five years, and afterward again deported.

Provision is made for the appointment of twelve immigration agents at a salary of $2,500 each to make investigations in foreign countries concerning intended immigrants. The act also contains a number of provisions that have not been mentioned. It provides that the fact that an alien has declared his intention to become a citizen of the United States shall constitute no bar to proceedings against him under this act.

That Anti-Trust Bill. Senator Aldrich introduced a bill authorizing the comptroller of the currency to extend for a period of twenty years the charter of any national banking association extended under the act of July 12, 1882. The extension applies only to corporations desiring to continue their existence after the expiration of existing charters. This bill passed the house last session, but did not get through the senate and is reintroduced.

Senator Jones, Arkansas, introduced, without amendment, the anti-trust bill, which passed the house during the last session of congress, but failed to pass the senate.

Senator Lodge reintroduced his immigration bill, providing for a general test for the admission of immigrants. The bill is reviewed and the new bill requires that the immigrants shall be required to be able to read. Another bill introduced by Senator Lodge is his old measure for the reform of the consular service, applying civil service regulations to the appointment of United States consuls.

Morgan's Canal Bill. Two bills looking to the construction of an isthmian canal via the Nicaragua route were introduced in the senate. The first of these was presented by Senator Morgan and is as follows:

That the president of the United States be and he is hereby authorized, to acquire from, and to conclude agreements with, the United States for the right of way for either of them, for and in behalf of the United States for the construction of a canal of the Nicaragua route, now belonging to Costa Rica and Nicaragua, as may be decided by the United States, which said canal, to be constructed, governed, regulated, police and protect a canal of such depth and capacity as may be required for the movement of ships of the greatest tonnage and draft now in use from port near Greytown, on the Caribbean sea, via Lake Nicaragua to Breto, on the Pacific ocean; and such sum as may be necessary to secure necessary rights, privileges and such control as may be deemed necessary for the successful completion of the canal.

The other bill was introduced by Senator Perkins and provides for a perpetual lease by the United States of the right-of-way across Nicaragua and Costa Rica and confers military, police and sanitary police control of the canal route by the United States for a period of 20 years. The estimated cost of the canal is $11,000,000, of which $1,000,000 is to be expended annually. A nonpartisan commission is to be appointed by the president to have charge of the canal, the members of the commission to be selected from the United States and to have a total salary of $100,000 each per year. This commission is to have its headquarters at Rivas, Nicaragua, with a branch office in Washington. The appointment of engineers in accordance with the resolution of the commission is to be made by the president. It is further provided that the canal shall be of the dimensions recommended by the Isthmian Canal Commission. The commission proposed is empowered to make all contracts and to supervise their performance, the cost of the canal to be borne by a majority of the commissioners. The commission is to report semi-annually to the president and to keep accurate accounts of its transactions. It is explicitly provided that no commissioner or employee shall be interested in any property connected with the construction of the canal. The bill authorizes the president of the United States to make minor change in the route adopted for the canal and the methods of its construction.

Senator Allison's Committee. Senator Allison made the following committee in accordance with the resolution of the republican caucus to select members of the committees of the senate: Platt of Connecticut, McMillan of Michigan, Proctor of Vermont, Perkins of California, Nelson of Minnesota, Warren of New Jersey, McComas of Maryland.
