DR.PRICE'S Gream Baking Powder

Each time the United States Government has officially tested the baking powders the report has shown Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder to be of superlative leavening strength, free from alum, absolutely pure and wholesome.

This is gratifying, for Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder is depended upon by millions of people to raise their daily bread.

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Beard of Health Will Meet to Adopt Rules avoided if possible. This Afternoon.

As for the funds to carry on this work, it is understood that the charter permits the council to make a special levy in addition to the regular 1901 levy. It is hardly probable that this will be done, as it is thought that the money needed can be secured in some other way. There is still a balance in the general fund, and some of this money may be used. The details of securing funds have not yet been decided upon. Inspector Jones is kept busy these days looking after cases called to his attention and fumigating houses where patients in quarantine are discharged. He said yesterday that if the board would give him a man to do the fumigating, he could find time to serve notices for a general cleaning up. It is thought best to employ a policeman for the serving of notices in Trouble About Cashing Warrants.

Warrants for November pay were issued to the police force yesterday, but the members of the force found some difficulty in disposing of them. The banks refused to take the warrants, even at a discount, and the city treasurer also stated that he could not cash them at this time. Some of the warrants were finally placed with a business firm at a discount of 5 per

There remains in the police fund just about $1,000 and if a reduction in the pay roll is made the present force can be paid for the month of December before exhausting the fund. It has been suggested that Special Agent Kelly of the legal department be transferred from the police pay roll to the general fund and Charles Allen, janitor at the city hall, be transferred to the same fund. With these two reductions fund will hold until January 1 and will come out even. It is thought that the council will order the changes suggested made in order to prevent the overdrawing

What will become of the police force after the first of the year no one seems to know. Mayor Kelly is now considering the matter and he will, if possible, make arrangements to keep the force together

Military Order of the Loyal Logion Pays its Tribute to McKinley.

KIND WORDS FROM PERSONAL FRIENDS

Speak in Highest Terms of Him

The monthly meeting of Nebraska commandery of the Military Order of the Loyal Legion held last night was in the nature of memorial to the late President McKinley. After the routine business had been transacted, General Charles F. Manderson, chairwan of a committee appointed at the last meeting, submitted a report embodying the sentiment of the committee in regard to the assassination of the late president as folassassination of the late president as follows:

Commander and Companions of the Loyal Legion of the United States, Commandery of Nebraska: The committee appointed to prepare suitable memorial resolutions incident to the death of Companion William McKinley have the honor to submit the following:

The Commandery of Nebraska, actuated by its hearty appreciation of the noble character, its profound veneration for the choice attributes, its sincere pride in the sacrificing devotion of our late companion, William McKinley, president of the United States, and prompted by our inexpressible detestation of the horrid crime that bereft the republic of its noblest citzen, unites with all law-abiding people in deploring nis untimely death and expressing our deep sympathy with the inembers of his family, who suffer so greatly from the loss of one so much beloved and so worthy of the love and affection so truly his.

We record here briefly the interesting details of the symmetrical life that led from humble beginning to its culmination in the chieftest place and highest honor within the power of men to bestow or of man to reach.

William McKinley was born at Niles, Trumbull county, O., January 29, 1843. He was educated in the public schools at the Poland scademy and Alegheny college. On June 11, 1861, when 19 years old, he enlisted as a private soldier in the Twenty-third Ohio Infantry. He became sergeant, second and first lieutenant and captain, serving on the staffs of Generals Hayes. Crook and Hancock. In March, 1866, after four years of most creditable service, he was breveted major by President Abraham Lincoln for gallantry in action.

BENEFITS OF CONSOLIDATION

Than the Means to Be Accomplished.

The officers of the Real Estate exchange are anxious to place before the residents of the county their idea upon the subject of the proposed consolidation of the city and county governments and object to any inference that the proposed consolidation carries with it any increase in the taxes levied upon country property, either real or personal. Sald W. G. Shriver, secretary of the exchange: "I believe that when the voters of the country precincts and villages understand the object of the Real Estate exchange and he promoters of the consolidation idea their objection to the plan will vanish. in the first place, I do not know whether the intentions of the exchange can be carried out without a constitutional amendment or not, and I do not intend to consider the matter at this time, for that has been referred to a committee on which are some of the best lawyers in the state. What I desire to say will apply to the practical intention of the promoters of the idea. "In the first place, consolidation is not end, but the means to an end. The object is the reduction of taxes, not only in the city but in the county. There are useless officers in the city hall and in the court house, the 'axpayers of the city bear part of the expense of both, while the taxpayers of the county outside of the cities bear part of the expense of one alone. Now, I believe that in any plan of consolidation provision will be made to have the taxes raised in the country precincts apply only to the expenses of the county outside of the city, as the expenses of the different school districts are paid by taxation in these districts; that while the administration of the government of both county and city is invested in but one set of officers and the fewer of them the better, a plan can be devised by which the country precincts and the villages shall and finally, on motion of Rev. Sumner T. be required to pay but their proportion of the expense of the office. A special deputy in some of the offices might be appointed to attend to the work as applied to the country and his expenses be paid out of the taxes raised in the country taxing districts. All money raised by taxation in the country districts should be expended upon country schools, country roads and bridges-and such objects as particularly apply to that section of the county, while the taxes raised in the city should apply to the maintenance of the general government which will have jurisdiction over the entire county. Having reduced the number of high salaried officers and placed the government on an economical basis there would be a resulting reduction in taxes in all parts of the county and the country would receive as much benefit relatively as the cities. In addition to this the country voters would have a direct voice in the choice of the municipal officers and in many cases would be in a position to select men who, coming from the county, would have an especial interest in the welfare of the county outside of the cities,"

The meeting was the first to be held by the general arrangements committee and eighty of the 125 members were present South Omaha and Council Bluffs members were out in strong force. The total attendance at the meeting was 200 and the bustness transactions were preceded by a union prayer meeting conducted by Rev. W. B. Crewdson of Council Bluffe.

A lively discussion was precipitated by a letter from Benjamin L. Smith of Cincinnati, secretary of the American Christian Missionary society, stating, somewhat imperatively, that the matter of railroad rates was not to be taken up except in co-operation with that society. Some of the members feel that the local committee is the one to lead in this matter and asserted that the rate of a fare and a third for the round trip, heretofore prevailing for the conventions, could probably be lowered at least a third if the people of the tri-city league were allowed to conduct the negotiations with the railroads as they should see fit. Some of the remarks concerning the letter became somewhat pointed in nature Martin of the First Christian church, Omaha, the whole matter was tabled until after the visit of the secretaries, which is expected some time before the first of the Combating another suggestion of Secretary Smith's, there was introduced and adopted a resolution to the effect that the local arrangements committee would agree to furnish as many copies of an official program, to equat in design and workmanship the programs furnished the Minneapolis convention, without expense to the convention or to the national board, but with the understanding that it (the local committee) would oppose as an unfriendly act the attempt of anyone else to secure Educate third. Letters of congratulation and encouragement were read from prominent workers in other states among their predictions before one that the convention in Omaha would be the largest in the Disciples' history with the one exception of the jubilee.

Mr. Karpf is reaching the end of a long journey in the interests of bowling, during which he has covered 5,000 miles of railroad in this country.
