Pianos in a Ditch.

Three carloads of pianos (39 in all) shipped from Steger & Sons' factories to Schmolzer & Mueller, the prominent Omaha dealers, were derailed on the C. & E. I. railroad and rolled into the ditch last week.

Fortunately, the freight train was not running at full speed and the cars were not badly broken up. Factory experts examined the pianos and they were found to be damaged only on the cases, accordingly they were continued on their journey, and Schmolzer & Mueller let the people of Omaha have an opportunity to get a bargain out of the railroad company.—Musical Times, Chicago.

A coated tongue, foul breath and clogged condition in the bowels suggests the use of Frickley Ash Bitters. It is just suited for such ailments.

You'll miss a treat if you fail to visit Hayden Bros. Saturday. Read about their big bargains on page 7.

A Real Live Santa Claus. Will receive the ladies and children at our store Saturday morning from 8 till 10 o'clock. His great mail box is here and every child is instructed to write Santa and express their wish for his Christmas giving. Deposit your letters with him Saturday morning and up to Christmas eve at HARDY'S, "The 99-Cent Store," 1519-21 Douglas St.

Dance Tonight. Jolly Eight's lively ball this evening, Washington hall, Eighteenth and Harney streets. Fine orchestra. A grand, good time for you. Gen's, 25c. Welcome.

The bargains offered by Hayden Bros. for Saturday will well repay you for a visit. Read their ad on page 7.

An Unsuspecting Victim.

The cattle, mining stock, coal and ice aggregation—drug clique—members of the rural gang—have roped in an unsuspecting victim in order to help them in their flight against us—in the drug war—being too stingy to run an advertisement by themselves. He doubts has been led to believe that he can increase his business by joining this little corner trust. This is worse for him, in our opinion, than being a member of the main show. Great scheme!

December's First Saturday

Finds large operations moving along because of carefully arranged plans, dating far back when new goods were ordered for this month's sale. Dull times would indeed be strangers here. Only a personal visit can give you a ripe idea of the extent of the Holiday stocks. The store's scribe might use figures and words by the columnful and yet miss the point—the interest. But everything on which the eye rests obeys the impulse and affirms or denies. An hour's selling is worth a day's reading.
