Poppleton and pledging the union to municipal ownership of the water works was submitted by several members. The resolution created considerable discussion. BETWEEN PLANE AND BOTTLE BOYS AND THEIR MOTHERS

Reception at the Mission Room Turns Out Some Interesting Situations.

The Boys' Temperance club of the Tenth

Street City mission celebrated its annual tea party from 4 until 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon and entertained their mothers as their guests. The class is under the direction of Mrs. E. L. Shinrock and her daughter and is composed of some thirty or more newsboys, bootblacks and street urchins of the vicinity of Tenth street and Capitol avenue. For weeks the boys have been looking forward to the occasion, not only on account of the feast, but as an opportunity of showing their mothers just what their club and its work meant. Accordingly the entire membership was present, arriving quite a half hour in advance of their guests. Several of their number had been appointed ushers and others waiters, the first set doing the honors as their guests arrived, the others busying themselves with preventing the girls of the sewing classes, who were not included. from even peaking into the windows by holding up their aprons, with which each had been provided. About fifteen women were present. Previous to the tea party a program had been arranged, which opened with the roll call by the secretary. The first number was the club's rally song, "We Are Coming," followed by the address of welcome by Joe Marinelli, which was quite the feature of the afternoon, to the uptown visitors at least. The youthful speaker, after assuring the guests of the club's pleasure in their presence, hoped that they might derive much "porfit" as well as enjoyment from the occasion. Two recitations followed by two very small boys, who stood upon chairs that they might be seen and heard. A review of the class work by questions from Mrs. Shinrock and the singing of the class song, 'Our Glasses Unside Down." concluded the the sale of union beer only in seloons. Commander Booth-Tucker Tells His Organization's Work.

Booth-Tucker, commander of the Salva tion army in America, lectured to a well filled house at Boyd's theater last night. On the stage with him were Brigadier General Toft and wife, in charge of the Omaha work; a half-dozen Salvation lassles from the local corps and a band of eleven pieces, which furnished music in lieu of the usual theater orchestra.

The program was carried out much after the order of a religious service, being in troduced with hymns and prayer, and winding up triumphantly with a collection. The lecture was in the nature of a report of the work accomplished by the Salvation army, and was punctuated with many pungent anecdotes. The speaker said the army is now furnishing homes to 9,000 persons who were formerly homeless. This was accomplished, the Board of Education requiring cadets to he said, by means of the colony system. The law committee reported a revised California. CHINESE AND THE OLD LAW

Ng Poen Chew Tells of the Plane His Countrymen Have Laid.

HOPE TO BECOME AMERICAN CITIZENS

San Francisco Editor Expresses Sur prise at the Situation and Guarantees His Countrymen Will Not Warrant Exclusion.

Ng Poon Chew, editor of the Chung Sal Yat Po, published in San Francisco, will tonight on "The Crisis in China from the Standpoint of a Chinaman."

Ng Poon Chew has resided in the United States for twenty-one years and is a graduate of the San Francisco Theological seminary. For the last two years he has been the managing editor of the Chung Sai Yat Po, the first Chinese paper published in the United States and the largest and most influential. The Christmas number contains many elegant pictures of the managthe Chinese emperor. Editor Chew is enthusiastic over his paper, and while it is difficult for an American to read, it is certainly a thing of beauty.

"Our paper," said the editor, "of course circulates only among the Chinese. While we have only about 5,000 subscribers, we consider that good for the number of people we can reach. You will be surprised coming to Omaha from South Omaha and to learn that the trouble in South America has effected our circulation. We have many to those cities unless they were directed to progressive Chinamen in Colon, and because of the war twenty-five of our readers have requested their papers discontinued as they have become impoverished by the trouble. The Chung Sai Yat Po readers in the United States pay $6 per year for the paper; outside of this country the subscription price is $8 per year.

"We Chinese think you Americans are queer people," continued the editor, "We don't know why the Chinese exclusion act should be re-enacted. You are surely not afraid that too many Chinese will come here. At the present time there are not more than 70,000 Chinese in this country. During the twenty-five years when there was no restriction placed on Chinese emmigration there was never a time when there were more than 150,000. People who come from my countr, are the progressive class. They come to learn your ways and become educated. They are a lawabiding and lawloving class. Only the dark side of the Chinese people has been shown to the masses of the people. The fight against us is caused and carried on by the politicians and the labor unions. We are in a false light.

"For instance, during the Epworth league convention in San Francisco guides employed by the politicians and others piloted the visitors to what they called the Chinese quarters and showed them the Chinese smoking opium. The truth is these quarters were rented by politicians and these Chinese were paid to go there and smoke and live in filth that the visitors would go home and tell of the horrors of the Chinese quar-

"The Six Companies you hear so much about is also misrepresented. This is an organization formed by the Chinese of six districts of China. Its object is benevolent. We take care of our sick and send home our dead. We are assessed nothing until one member desires to return to China, and then he pays $10. We have requested every Chinese in the country to contribute something in order that we can fight the re-enactment of the Chinese exclusion act, or to get it modified. Many of us here would like to bring our families over, our wives and children. At present we cannot. We want the United States and our government-if the former doesn't want usto make some kind of a treaty. It is to your interest as well as ours. China is the market for American products. We are waking up and progress is our watchword. We want to become citizens. I have been here twenty-one years, but cannot vote, and yet European emmigrants are allowed to vote after a certain number of years without regard to character. We bring no anarchists here; we bring no nihilists. The Chinese will make good, true, honest citizens. If ever we get a vote, then the good and bright side of the Chinese will be shown and the fight on us by politicians will cease. Many people in California are now petitioning their congressmen to work for the removal of the restriction of Chi-

Two Children Rescued.

Two little girls, aged 3 and 5 years, respectively, were taken from a disorderly house on Ninth street by the police Friday morning and turned over to the Child Saving institute. They were Mary Josephine and Virgil Evernghin, daughters of Rose Evernghin, one of the inmates. She said she had taken them from the Creche, where they had been staying, because they were ill and she wanted to nurse them.
