The clash of interest in "C. Broadway."

Open Sundays.

The clash of interest in "A Breezy Time," which will be seen at the Dohany tonight, is brought by the fact that the creditors of a young college student have pursued him out of town, and that the girl he loves has done likewise. It is easily to be seen that comic complications can grow out of this state of things. Leaving the plot altogether out of the question, however, the plece is said to bring upon the stage a great many people who have made hits in their time and who have been brought together for the first time in the newest—"A Breezy Time."

The program is diversified, presenting songs, dances, monologues, dramatics and other ciever specialities. There will not be a dull moment during the entire evening. CLASH IN THE HIGH SCHOOL Principal Ensign at Issue with Athietic Association.

BOYS WANT TO CLEAR AWAY DEFICIT

Dance Proposed as Method of Finance but This is Frowned I pon -Youths Threaten De-

A clash of authority has arisen between Principal Ensign and members of the High School Athletic association. The association closed the season with a big deficit in its treasury and this the young men are desirous to clean up. They suggested giving a dance to raise the funds needed and to arrange for this asked that a meeting of the association be called at the High school building Monday night.

Principal Ensign through action of the Board of Education was invested with authority and jurisdiction over the affairs of the Athletic association, as he has over all societies formed of the High school pupils. Mr. Ensign is opposed to the young people's giving dances and refused to allow he meeting to be called for such a pur-

Some of the members of the association are inclined to resist the authority of the principal and yesterday announced they rould meet Monday evening outside the High school building, if they were not permitted to do so within. They say they are determined to have the dance, as by it they hope to clear off the indebtedness of the association.

Principal Ensign is a creditor of the Athetic association to the amount of $60. which he advanced at different times to help the organization along, but he has refused to accept the money if raised by means of a public subscription dance.

After the foot ball team returned from Harlan, where it played the High school of that place, the landlord of the hotel at which some of the boys stopped sent in a bill to Principal Ensign of $10 for damages. The landlord claimed that the walls in some of the rooms had been defaced with chalk marks, bed linen torn and other damage

The boys declare the bill is an imposition and refuse to pay it, and this is said to be the chief cause of the clash between Principal Ensign and some of the members of the Athletic association. Principal Ensign, it is said, has announced that the bill must be settled before he will permit the association to clear off its other indebtedness in any manner.

CROSS-EXAMINES MR. BURNS

Counsel for Doyle Takes the Defend ant Witness in Hand for Awhile.

On adjourning court Saturday evening until Monday morning Judge Green, in giving his usual instructions to the jury is the Doyle-Burns suit, impressed upon ther the importance of doing nothing that would invalidate the trial of the case, which had cost so much time and money

The direct examination of James Burns was completed shortly before the noon recess, when Counsel Hughes began the cross examination of the witness. It is expected that the cross-examination of Mr. Burns will occupy all of Monday and possibly part of Tuesday.

After the noon adjournment and before the cross-examination of Burns was re sumed W. F. Crosby and L. Erich of Colorado Springs, witnesses for the defendant were placed on the stand. The plaintiff tried to introduce the testimony of T. J Weipper of Victor in rebuttal of the evi dence of W. C. White for the defendant but the court held that as the testimony of White, which Weipper was placed on the stand to impeach, was on collateral matter that of Welpper could not be ad-

In his direct examination yesterday morn ing Burns was permitted by the court to explain how the term "partner" was used in the mining camp. He said it was a term of general expression used by miner when talking of the men working and liv ing with them and used in the same sense as veterans of the civil war use the word comrade. He talked of Doyle as his partner because Doyle shared the same cabin with him, ate at the same table with him and was his partner in the Portland and

Professor Grubbs claims. Explaining why some of his stock was is sued in the name of James Ferguson the witness said he did so at the time Doyle was trying to acquire control of the Port land company and he thought it might be a good time to speculate in stock. He could not speculate in his own name, as being president of the company to do se would affect the market. The trouble, however, was settled by the old boards being re-elected and he had the stock transferred back in his right name. He said that Doyle demanded that the company refund him the $5,500 he paid O'Haire in settlement of the suit brought against him, but the company refused to reimburse him because he had settled th case without consulting the other directors He asserted that Doyle always took an active part in the affairs of the company and that he (Burns) was in no sense of the word Doyle's guardian. Doyle, he said never made any demand for the stock for which he is now suing before July, 1898. He testified that before the suit against Doyle was commenced by O'Haire he heard about it and told Doyle and Doyle suggested that his stock be placed in Burns name to protect it. When the suit was started Burns was made a party defendant O'Haire secured an injunction restraining

Doyle from covering up or transferring

had no intention of transferring or disposing of his stock. On cross-examination counsel asked the witness to reconcile these | Clark, the Plattsmouth company intends, if statements. Burns said he could not, other than both statements were true. On direct examination Burns testified that he never allowed Doyle to sign any affidavit or swear to any pleadings without having a telephone franchise which was received them carefully read and understood by him. This was in denial of Doyle's testimony that he frequently signed papers which were handed him by Burns without looking at their contents. On cross-examination Burns said he himself was very careful to read over and understand and know what he signed and swore to in the way of pleadings, etc.

Counsel Hughes then showed him a page answer which he had sworn to in the O'Haire suit, in which he swears that the complaint filed in the case was true and correct to the best of his belief and knowl-'edge." Burns' counsel rose in a body and protested that the word "complaint" was simply a cierteal error for the word "answer." Counsel Hughes felgued great surprise that such a careful swearer as Mr. Burns had testified to being would not notice such a vital error in a pleading, which it was presumed had been read over carefully by him before swearing to it. Mr. Hughes, however, finally admitted that he did not think that Mr. Burns really intended to admit O'Haire's claim was true and correct and the witness was spared an explanation.

On cross-examination Mr. Burns admitted that $800 worth of work was done on the Tidal Wave, being $300 more than sufficient for a patent, and that Doyle did balf of the amount without being paid for it. W. F. Crosby, a banker, who with T. G. Condon held a bond and lease on the Port. land and who assisted in the incorporation of the Portland Gold Mining company, testified that as a director of the company he objected to the price Burns demanded for the Devil's Own and Tidal Wave claims and spoke to Doyle about it, who agreed with him, and that Doyle never made any claim of having any interest in these properties. Neither did Doyle make any demand for any share of the stock issued by the company for the purchase of these properties from Burns.
