Omega Oil If you hit your thumb with a hammer, you rub on some soothing, healing remedy, wrap it up and let Nature do the rest. That's just exactly what you ought to do for Rheumatism. There is no more sense in swallowing medicines for Rheumatism than there is in swallowing medicines for a bruised thumb. Rub your Rheumatism with Omega Oil every night and morning. Nature will do the rest, and between Omega Oil and Nature you will be cured. Keep those strong medicines out of your stomach.

INDICTMENT OF KARBACH

Former Bertillon Clerk is Charged with Forgery.

STREET CAR PASS FIGURES IN CASE

pass was found in the hands of a woman friend of Oscar Karbach and was taken up. An investigation followed. The chief knew nothing of the issuance of the pass to the woman and began to examine the records. In his letter copybook was the letter containing the names of those to whom passes were to be issued. One name which had been interlined in the list was partially erased.

Karbach is charged with having written the name of his friend into the list after Chief Donahue signed and approved it. Karbach was dismissed from the police department last summer.

Oscar Karbach, formerly secretary to the chief of police and Bertillon clerk of the police department, has been indicted for forgery by the grand jury. A bill against him was returned yesterday. He was immediately arrested and released on bond. Charles Karbach and R. W. Duell being his sureties.

Some rather interesting testimony was brought to light in the grand jury's investigation of the charges preferred against Karbach by Chief Donahue of the police department.

While Karbach was serving as Bertillon clerk to the police department he made out a list of members of the police department to whom passes were to be issued by the street car company. The chief signed the list and Karbach sent it to the company. A short time after the passes were issued for the present year some of the street car officials remarked to Chief Donahue that it was something new to have a female policeman or detective in Omaha and added that a woman was riding around on a pass issued on the police department's account.

The chief knew of no woman in the department and asked the street car company to get the number of the pass she was using and take it up. In a few days the

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Council Holds a Special Meeting to Act on Health Ordinances.

PASSES FIRST READING AND IS REFERRED

Special Meeting Today to Put It on Passage—Grand Jury Stirs Things Up in the Board of Education.

A special meeting of the city council was held last evening for the purpose of considering the ordinance regarding the rules and regulations adopted by the Board of Health. Mayor Kelly occupied the chair and all members, with the exception of Martin and Miller were present. Clerk Strigley read the ordinance for the first time and it was referred to the judiciary committee. Another meeting of the council will be held at noon today to receive the report of the judiciary committee and pass the ordinance.

The ordinance, which is numbered 1061, is decidedly lengthy, as City Attorney Lumber took particular pains to include the salient points of the suggestions made by members of the board. One of the first sections pertains to the removal of garbage. This must be done upon an order from an authorized agent of the Board of Health and a penalty is provided for a violation of such orders.

Strict quarantine regulations must be maintained in all cases and there is also a penalty provided for infractions of this rule.

It will be further ordered by the board that persons dying from any contagious disease shall be thoroughly disinfected before being placed in a casket. More than this, the undertakers are advised to permit attendants and undertakers to be permitted to attend such funerals. Then there must be a thorough disinfection of the clothing of attendants after the interment.

Another section provides that the board may require the removal of a person infected with a hospital or pesthouse.

A fine of not more than $100 may be imposed for any violation of any of the sections of the ordinance. All ordinances heretofore passed in conflict with this are repealed. The new ordinance has been drawn up in view of the ordinance which was passed by the Nebraska and the rules of the State Board of Health.

WEDDINGS WHILE YOU WAIT

Judge Vinsonhale Makes a Record for Quick Tying of the Nuptial Knot.

Couple Made Happy While Train Waited

Bright Idea Strikes a Des Moines Man Who Comes to Omaha to Meet His Intended, Who Was on the Train from Denver.

Judge Vinsonhale performed a marriage ceremony at the Union station yesterday afternoon which was speedier than any of the lightning weddings which Bertha M. Clay has given to the world.

The bride arrived from Denver on the Rock Island train which reached this city at 4:30. She was hastily escorted to the office of E. Haney, depot master, by the groom, Judge Vinsonhale, pronounced the marriage ceremony and wished the couple happiness in exactly two minutes. Then there was a brief hand shaking and Mr. and Mrs. William E. Miller rushed back to the train on which the bride arrived and were speeding toward their home in Des Moines in exactly ten minutes after the bride's arrival, armed with a wedding certificate which had enough turtle doves on it to make them happy all the rest of their lives.

Shortly before 4 o'clock Mr. Miller rushed into Judge Vinsonhale's office and applied for a license to marry Ida B. Graham. While the clerk was preparing the license Miller was making arrangements with Judge Vinsonhale to accompany him to the station and perform the wedding ceremony. E. Haney, depot master, was notified of the wedding and announced that he would entertain the party in his office. Mr. Miller explained to the judge that he is a resident of Des Moines and came to Omaha to meet his future wife, who was on her way from Denver to Omaha. It suddenly occurred to him that it would be a good scheme to get married in Omaha.

Judge Has Speed to Spare.

Judge Vinsonhale was game and assured the excited groom-to-be that he could tie the knot speedily enough to permit the couple to continue their homeward journey without delay. When the train arrived Miss Graham was escorted into the private office in the station by Mr. Miller, Judge Vinsonhale and Mr. Haney. It took the bride just one minute to make her wedding toilet. She removed her hat, took off her gloves, gave her hair a little pat and extended her right hand to the groom. In her neat brown traveling gown she made a very pretty picture.

Meantime the bridal party, consisting of James E. Dewar, W. Craxton, R. W. Jaxter, E. Haney and several newspaper men, gathered in a little circle about the couple and Judge Vinsonhale. Two questions, a brief announcement, a kiss and the ceremony was over. After saying a hasty farewell to the witnesses of the marriage the happy couple fled to the train, which was about to leave the station. Ordinarily the train stops in Omaha for quite a little while, but yesterday it pulled into the station more than fifteen minutes late.

When the groom was told that the train was late he was very uneasy. He became anxiously back and forth on the platform and looked eagerly toward the west. For a while he thought it would be necessary to abandon the ceremony until he and Miss Graham arrived in Des Moines. But the judge assured the nervous candidate that the ceremony could be performed while the trainmen were unloading baggage and this bolstered up his hope.

"It occurred to us that it would be a good plan to get married in Omaha," Miller explained in talking of his marriage. "I could only come this far west to meet my bride, so I decided that we would marry here and have our trip back to Des Moines as a sort of a honeymoon. I wired to Miss Graham. She approved of the plan, so we were married."

The groom gave his age as 41 and the bride was 27.

MONEY NEEDED FOR CHILDREN

Public Requested to Come Forward with Pledges for Child Saving Institute.

"This is the time of year when all charitable people are planning their gifts for the coming year," said Superintendent A. W. Clark of the Child Saving Institute, "and it is sometimes a question to determine just what institutions are needed. The Child Saving Institute closed its fiscal year on October 31 and now finds itself without subscriptions and pledges to carry on another year's work. An average of more than thirty children are on hand, and must be fed and cared for. This institution does not send out paid agents, either on salary or commission, to solicit subscriptions and collect funds. Members of the board and those in charge do whatever is done in this way, but it is impossible for them to visit all the friends of this work.

"It is earnestly hoped that all who can make a subscription or donation to the work will notify the superintendent or some member of the board. The expenses for the coming year, with the increased number of children in the new home at Eighteenth and Ohio streets, will be much larger than last year. Those in charge depend upon the friends of the unfortunate and dependent children to help meet the many calls for aid. The superintendent's telephone is 1991 and I will be glad to hear from many."

THE OUTLOOK

For a woman's happiness in the married state depends less, as a rule, upon her own health, than the woman who enters upon marriage, suffering from womanly weakness, is "heaping up trouble against the day of trouble."

Weak women are made strong and sick women are made well by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is the one reliable regulator. It dries enfeebling humors, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. It nourishes the nerves and invigorates the entire womanly organism. It makes the baby's advent practically painless, and gives strength to nursing mothers.

"I suffered for twelve years with female trouble," writes Mrs. W. G. G. of Adams, Ark., "which brought on other diseases—heart trouble, Bright's disease, nervous prostration, and finally brought on a paralysis of the stomach. I can freely say your medicine (nine bottles in all) cured me. I have cured me. I can work with comfort now, but before I would be tired all the time and have a dizzy headache, and my nerves would be all unstrung so I could not sleep. Now I can do a big day's work, something I had not done for over eleven years before I started on your medicine."

POLICE DO A RESURRECTION

Mayor Orders Carl Atheno Dug Up from Grave.

BROTHER SAYS HE STILL SLEEPS

Letter Received from Another Woman Who Claim to Be His Wife

An official order from Mayor Frank E. Moores to the police was the Gabriel's trumpet that brought Carl Atheno from his grave at Eighteenth and Douglas streets, at 11 o'clock Wednesday night, and necessitated his managers showing him above the ground until his self-imposed hypnotic sleep ends at the scheduled hour of 9 o'clock next Saturday night. The mayor issued the order because of his apprehension that something might go amiss with the man who had been buried alive and the city be held responsible.

The managers of the exhibition say that the subject will have to sleep until the time set for his awakening, as they claim it is physically impossible for them to arouse him sooner, except by using an electric battery, which they say would be a dangerous experiment. Were Atheno to awake today he would no doubt find interesting a letter which has been received from Kansas City, and in which a woman other than the Mrs. Atheno with him here declares herself his wife.

End to Subterranean Peeps.

Atheno was buried in a grave of the ordinary dimensions and almost the ordinary depth, last Monday night at 9 o'clock. The casket in which he was placed was enclosed in a wooden box and lighted with an electric globe. A tube four inches square extended from the glass top of the casket. Just over his face, to a point three feet above the ground, and down this tube the people with abnormal curiosity were permitted by Atheno's brothers and wife to peer at 10 cents, the tenth part of a dollar, per peer.

When the mayor's order was issued early Wednesday evening there was consternation at the grave. The relatives of the interred insisted that the man's life was endangered by his removal and that they needed the money. They said that to bring him up from a temperature of 85 degrees to the surface of the earth, where it was so cold that the cashier froze her fingers trying to make change, was the worst thing possible, and that if he died from the effects they would sue the city.

Brother Says He Still Sleeps.

But Captain Hays had his orders and at 10 o'clock an undertaker's car arrived and with it a grave digger, who would accomplish the resurrection for $2, coin of the realm. At 10:15 the first coffinful was turned by two colored men, who later gave way to the undertaker's assistant, and at 10:25 the coffin was lifted from the hole. Lee Atheno, brother of the subject, examined him and reported the pulse at 54 and that the condition was in all ways satisfactory. The coffin was placed on a cot in the tent a few feet from the grave, where it was to remain until a hall could be secured.

The scenes at the grave were not those usually incident to cemetery services. The chief concern of the half hundred spectators who gathered in the cold seemed to be their own comfort rather than any possible distress of the alleged slumberer in the pine box. Only a few colored people in the rear of the group betrayed any symptoms of the so-called feeling. The managers of the show sooked themselves with the expressed belief that there "would be two or three columns about it in the morning papers."

Mrs. Atheno Much in Evidence.

Before the digging began Mrs. Atheno spent much time adjusting the blanket over the peep tube and explaining the depth and enduring quality of her affection for the husband under her feet. After the digging began she turned to the financial end of the affair and "Jake," the juvenile of the aggregation, was admonished to "get his money" and "tend to his business."

Another brother stood at the grave head to inform all listeners that Omaha was unique among all the towns his "scientific" relative had visited. "We have planted Carl fifty-two times in the last eight

DR. SARGEANT'S RESIGNATION

Congregation Accepts It and He Plans to Accept a Call to Kansas.

At the weekly prayer meeting at St. Mary's Episcopal church on Wednesday night the resignation of the pastor, Dr. S. C. Sargeant, was tendered and accepted, to take effect March 1, 1902.

Accompanying the resignation was a letter, which Dr. Sargeant read to the members present. He reviewed the work done by the church before and since his ministry. During the last two and a half years, more people had united with the church than with any other in this part of the country.

"While the call for me to take charge of the church was unanimous," said the pastor, "I know there were numbers who desired some one else. The seed of discord had been sown, and some time ago I made up my mind to resign. I trust the two elements in the church will unite and much good may be accomplished."

Dr. Sargeant has several calls from other churches and offered his resignation at this time in order to be free to decide upon and accept one of them, and also to leave the church free to choose a pastor.

At the conclusion of the meeting a committee was appointed to draft suitable resolutions to be presented to Dr. Sargeant. Dr. Sargeant said last night that he had not fully decided where he would locate.

"I have about concluded to accept the call to Wichita. They have an elegant church there and have made me a flattering offer. The action of the church Wednesday night will be ratified by a meeting of the church council to be held soon."

No Time to Be Heavens.

Some one has said that "no one whose time is fully occupied has time to be miserable." That may be so, and yet you will naturally ask: "How is one to avoid feeling miserable when stuffed up with a cold?" Very easily, we assure you. You have only to take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It will make breathing easier, aid expectoration, relieve the lungs and dispel all symptoms of the cold and the miserable feeling which accompanies it. This remedy always cures, and cures quickly. For sale by all druggists.

Married Women

Every woman covets a shapely, pretty figure, and many of them deplore the loss of their girlish forms after marriage. The bearing of children is often destructive to the mother's shapeliness. All of this can be avoided, however, by the use of Mother's Friend before baby comes, as this great liniment always prepares the body for the strain upon it, and preserves the symmetry of her form. Mother's Friend overcomes all the danger of child-birth, and carries the expectant mother safely through this critical period without pain. It is woman's greatest blessing. Thousands gratefully tell of the benefit and relief derived from the use of this wonderful remedy. Sold by all druggists at $1.00 per bottle. Our little book, telling all about this liniment, will be sent free.
