United States Attorney Swears Out a Writ of Habens Corpus-Soldier Tells a Peculiar Story of Platonic Affection.

The United States government started Ernest Kinloch to the Philippines as a sion." soldier and a Douglas county deputy was given to praying at night and had threatened to join the Salvation army. Rinloch is now in the county jail, but United States Attorney Summers late yesterday afternoon secured a writ of habeas corpus and will have the soldier brought before Judge Munger this afternoon at 2 o'clock for a hearing.

The warrant used by Deputy Sheriff Wil-Ham Neve in making the arrest charged that Kinloch is insane and is said to have been issued at the request of John Kirby, fingers for a few minutes in an undecided who has been Kinloch's roommate at the Thurston hetel.

Kinloch's own tale, as related to a representative of The Bee at the jail last night, is that since November to be has been rooming at the hotel with Kirby, George E. Lohefner and R. J. Shanahan all of whom were employed in the Kirkendail shoe factory. He says that the quar-tet was a thoroughly congenial one and that it was a matter of regret when Shanahan took a wife and another room on Thanksgiving day. In fact, he says they felt so badly over the breaking up of the little bachelor alliance that when he announced his collistment in the United States army last Saturday and prospective de- note has been received. Hope that the parture for the Philippines to join the First cavalry the other two declared he should Kirby had a brother in the service, who had written discouragingly of soldier life and Kinloch says he believes that also influenced Kirby in his effort to detain him here.

The king has commanded—it is up to yo to obey.

EN-O-TOG. Rex.
By his lord high executioner, BULC.

This document translated means that ten of the unsuspecting youth of the city were last night initiated into the top order of the Get-One club at the Young Men's Christian association; that after the spectacular rites were concluded music and readings were given by E. H. Packard, a sleight-of hand performance by Mr. Zaable, a reception by the association at large and that refreshments were the final order of the evening. The initiation was the feature of the nominal alimony and the custody of their whole affair. Four distinct ordeals were child. They were married at Roodhouse, undergone by the candidates, some of whom survived. The ten were: Fred Eleasser Charles S. Smith, Carton Roth, Frank Tallmire, D. K. Paxton, C. K. Rich, Herman Hawkinson, John C. Crawford, Charles Reynolds and H. S. Daniel. Coming groping down the stairway, blindfolded one by one, and with hands tightly bound, the aspirants found themselves seized in several pair of strong and willing arms which belonged to athletic looking youths in gymnasium suits, sweaters and rubber shoes and hustled blindly into the ceremonial hall

Here Trouble Commences.

There at the very entrance the candidate heard a stern order coming from some where commanding him to bow to the ing operations, the officers of the circle re- ground in salutation to his goatship. Obeying, with quaking limbs, the initiate found that in order to get his head to the ground They now wish to announce that all who it was necessary to shove it through a foot wish may exchange their tickets for reserve or so of water in a tub, which he did not expect to find at his feet.

This being satisfactorily performed and the innocent as nearly drowned as suited his termenters he was told that he might sit down and regain his breath, and with onspicuous and ostentatious clatter a chair as shoved up behind him. Relaxing with sigh of relief into his seat the aspirant and himself gone deep down into a huge eceptacle, which immediately sped down he hall with the velocity of a locomotive, Before the blindfolded captive had fairly realized that he was being drawn across the floor in a huge market basket by four glants of the gymnasium the upper end of the hall was reached and a sharp turn made, with a jerk at the end of it. There was a rope which stopped the charlot at the turn, but there was nothing to keep the candidate in it, so he just flew out at a tangent and lit wherever he fell. His ride on the Deadwood stage was over. The new member was not allowed to pick himself up after his rude disembarkation for a dozen hands seized him and brought him to the foot of the steps to the shrine before he had regained his breath. Then he was commanded to climb on his hands and knees. The steps were many and high, and it was a long journey, but the trip down was the essence of brevity, for all of a sudden there wasn't any step and the youth toppled over toward the floor headfirst. He never got there, however, for a blanket stretched taut by his handlers just above the carpet caught him as he was awaiting the crash, and he was then further de moralized by being tossed at once to the #### elling four times in rapid succession. Chance to Get Even.

The trip to the shrine was finished, but here was one more stunt to be endured 'Crawl forty feet to the exit" was the next order, and it was about as volcanic a forty feet as mortal ever traversed after any fashion, least of all crawling. If there was any Young Men's Christian association boy there who did not belt said candidate fully forty times during that forty-foo ourney it was because the crowd was so hick he couldn't get in. Being formally installed as a member the nitiate was then repaid by being given the privilege of assisting at the torture of the next candidate, which ceremony he entered nto with a zeal that seemed more inspired than natural. The last man held the sack He did not get to hit anybody back.
