Young Woman Leaves Home to

Buy Poultry and Fails

Powell, a young German woman living on Seventh avenue, Mount Pleasant, a suburb of Vancouver, has been missing for three days and is supposed to have been murdered. On Thursday the woman was at home with her father and was called to the door by a stranger, an undersized man, who wanted to sell her some poultry. She agreed to buy and the man said he had the fowls at his place, a short distance away. She threw on her shawl, took her purse, containing $45, and went out, remarking that she would be back in a few minutes. Since then she has not been seen.

The upper portions are scalloped and fall over the full lace cuffs, which are unlined and transparent and are seamed to the lower edge of the lining. The five gores of the skirt are carefully shaped and fitted without fulness at the belt, to give the new habit back and provide just the anuguess required by fashion. The flounce falls in soft undulating folds and widens as it approaches the back, forming admirable lines.
