ALLUDES TO ELECTION AS ONLY FICTION

Declares Action by Freedman Useless, as Spalding Has Virtually Conceded His Failure of Title.

NEW YORK, Dec. 24.-Delancy Newell, attorney for Andrew J. Freedman of the New York base ball club, made public a letter today replying to and commenting upon the document addressed to the National league clubs on Saturday last by A. G. Spalding. The latter was addressed to the Boston, Cincinnati and St. Louis clubs, and was as follows:

and was as follows:

You have called my attention to a letter received this day by you from Mr. A. G. Spalding and have asked me what effect. If any, it has upon the present controversy. It seems to me that the letter amounts to a withdrawal on Mr. Spalding's part from the office of president-secretary-treasurer of the National league. He informs you that he "must refuse to act further as president-secretary-treasurer of the National," and goes on to say that it is "up to each club to do that which in its judgment may seem best for its own interest.") This is in effect advice to the clubs to shift for themselves.

Never Legally Elected.

Never Legally Elected.

Mr. Spalding was never elected presidentsecretary-treasurer of the National league.
His pretended election was entirely without authority. The courts have taken this view of it by issuing the injunction and Mr. Spalding seems to have come to the same conclusion himself. Every act of a part of the National league by which it undertook to elect a president, director or other officer, in the absence of a majority of that body, was illegal, and the persons who held their respective offices by such authority are open to the charge of usurpation of the functions of the office.

So far as the court proceedings are concerned the record is as follows:

Mr. Spalding had just declared to the reporters, in an interview at the Fifth Avenue hotel, that he had obtained an opinion to the effect that his election in all respects was legal. The words were hardly out of his mouth before he was served with an order to show cause why an injunction should not be issued against him on the ground that his pretended election was illegal. A few days later he came in court and by opening of the injunction admitted that it was impossible for him to defend his title to the office.

Under these circumstances it does not seem to me necessary that you should make any reply to Mr. Spalding's communication. The status of the National jeague remains the same as it was before the pretended election of Mr. Spalding's communication. The status of the National jeague remains the same as it was before the pretended election of Mr. Spalding as president-secretary-treasurer.

Talcott Set to Thinking.

Talcott Set to Thinking.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24 .- A. G. Spalding, who was elected president, secretary and treasurer of the National Base Ball league by a faction of that organization at its last meeting in New York, had a conference today with Edward B. Talcott, one of the former stockholders in the New York club, the object of which was to induce Mr. Talcott to resume his connection with the latter organization and to endeavor to purchase the interests of President Freedman. Mr. Spalding said that in his opinion nothing would so popularize the game in New York as the return of Mr. Talcott to an active participation in the sport in that city. Mr. Talcott will take the matter under consideration. Mr. Spalding hopes he will act favorably on it.

PLAN TO DEPOSE J. T. BRUSH Reported that Spalding Faction Will Get National Franchise

Held by Him.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 24.—The Commercial Tribune tomorrow will say: John T. Brush of Indianapolis will soon be superseded by Colonel J. D. Ellison of Columbus and Cincinnati associates in the ownership of the Cincinnati club of the National league, backed by the Spaiding faction.

Next spring Mr. Brush will find himself opposed by another club, and that one a member of the National league. In other words the National league, with A. G. Spaiding at its head, has found means of taking the franchise from Brush and placing it in the hands of a local company. Brush will have the lease on the Western syence grounds, but he will have no team for the players go with the franchise, and Brush will have the lease on the Western avenue grounds, but he will have no team for the players go with the franchise, and that will be in other hands.

The new club will have good grounds and they will be more easily reached from the center of the city than the old park. Two sites are under consideration.

Rumor has it that an American league club would be placed in this city and this would have been likely but for the present plans. Ban Johnson is now in Cincinnati. He is on friendly terms with Ellison and also with the Spalding faction and will do nothing to prevent its progress.

Some weeks ago a company was formed in which W. R. Zulick, three other Cincinnatians and Colonel Ellison are interested. The object at that time was to buy out Brush. An effort was made in this direction, but it, falled. Since the National league meeting Zulick and his associates have come to the conclusion that Brush has pothing to sell, or rather will not have by spring, and consequently are proceeding in another direction. Zulick spent several hours in conference with Ban Johnson at the St. Nicholas hotel yesterday afternoon.

From the station word was sent to the nome of Mr. Clark that in all probability a burglar was in his store and he was requested to hurry down with the keys. A half hour later Officer Wilson, who had been watching at the fractured window, was joined by Mr. Clark with the keys. They entered through the front door. Then, coking well to the condition of their pistols they searched the ground floor, where was found plenty of evidence that someone had been rifling the show cases, but nothing was to be seen of the intruder. They then went to the basement, lighting their way with matches as they proceeded. Finally Officer Wilson stepped on the legs of a man who was lying on the floor between two packing cases. The officer gave the command to "Throw up your hands!" which was obeyed, and a moment later the handcuffs were slipped on the wrists of the British Consul Says His Country Needs Radical Changes.

Also.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24 .- A large and ever-increasing number of thoughtful and well informed people in Great Britain express the serious belief that if radical changes do not come about in the near future the United Kingdom will be relegated to the third position in the ranks of the world's trade and commerce. This statement is made by United States Consul Boyle at Liverpool in his annual report, extracts from which were made public today by the State department.

It is conceded, says Consul Boyle, that in manufactures Great Britain within the last few years has failed to meet the competition of the United States and Germany. Mr. Boyle says the optimistically inclined plead exceptional and marvelous natural advantages as far as the United States is concerned, while as to Germany's fierce competition the unsatisfactory financial situation now prevailing in that empire is from commercial bodies, political speakers, Incline to Reclurocity.

There are fears expressed, says Mr. Boyle, that even in the carrying trade the supremacy of Great Britain is threatened. There is a strong sentiment among the masses of Great Britain and one which appears to be gaining strength as time goes on in favor of bringing about what has become popularly known as "fair trade" and which, says Mr. Boyle, is nothing but reciprocity. Protection, he says, is not very much advocated, but it is significant that many of the most widely circulated papers of Great Britain now are boldly advocating a policy of "fair trade," or "do to others as they do to you." Against this sentiment, however, the consul says, must be set the national dislike to change established institutions, of which free trade is one of the most fundamental.

In regard to educational reforms in the United Kingdom, Mr. Boyle says that the universally acknowledged inferiority of Great Britain to most of the leading nations, particularly the United States and Germany, is given frequently as one of the chief reasons why Great Britain is being outstripped in her manufactures.

American Workmen Excel.

A particularly interesting portion of Consul Boyle's report is that wherein he places yesterday morning in the basement of the American and the British workman Walter G. Clark wholesale side by side in a comparison which places the American far to the fore. English manufacturers, he says, find it almost impossible to get the same amount of product from machines as is obtained in America. There are two reasons for this, says Mi Lee-Glass-Andreesen Hardware company, Boyle First, the average British work man is not as adaptable as the American and does not so readily get command of in trouble several times before. He pleads new appliances; and, second, that it is not innocent to the charge of burglary and ex- the custom of the country for an Englishplains his presence in the basement by say- man, whether clerk, mechanic or laborer, ing he had been employed as a private de- to work as hard as an American. The grand jury ran up against a stone wall yesterday morning when it tried to get evidence from Sig. Kohn concerning an alleged policy shop that has been conducted

After trying for half an hour to get the man to make a reply to the interrogation the grand jurous called Elmer E.
