WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.-The senators and representatives of the Pacific coast, who have been considering a bill for Chinese exclusion, have perfected a measure, which will be introduced in both houses in a few days. It is much more comprehensive than any bills that have been presented heretofore on this subject, most of which simply provide for excluding Chinese or reeffecting the Geary law.

The bill under consideration contains forty-five pages. It does not limit itself to any term of years, as did the Geary act, but if passed in its present form would be perpetual unless repealed. The bill declares that all Chinese other than citizens of the United States or those who are secured in coming to and residing in the United States under the present treaty with China, shall be refused admission and returned to the country whence they came at the expense of the transportation company bringing them. Transportation companies bringing Chinese to the United States shall detain them until their right of admission shall be ascertained, -

The secretary of the treasury is to ask the Chinese government for the list of names of all officials other than diplomatic and consular officers who desire to visit the United States.

Argument Begins in Case to Protect Board's Market Quotations.

Argument of the case of the Board of Trade of Chicago demanding a temporary injunction against divers Nebraska commission houser preventing them from using market quotations of the plaintiff was begun before Judge Munger of the United States court yesterday morning.
In all the principal cities of the middle

The matter involves a precedent of forty years' standing, which the Chicago Board of Trade now seeks to demolish by litigation, having tried other means with no avail.

The contentions in the case are: Since its establishment in 1859 the Chicago CUTS THE SCHOOL SALARIES Board of Trade has sent out its quotations to its agents in the different cities by wire but has been unable to keep them from the hands of the independent commission houses. Time has proven that as soon as the figures are once on the wire they can no longer be protected. 'So the commission houses have had the figures the of Trade, securing them in various ways.

The last move of the Board of Trade to stop this practice was to enter into a contract with the different telegraph companies, which bound them not to give out companies were compelled to sign before the board would give them the business. Even that failed.

The position taken by the defendants is that the practice has been going on so long that the right of the Board of Trade to exclusiveness has long since expired. It is maintained that the long standing of the matter without legal objection has resulted in certain rights of the people to coln, Expresses His Opinion on Governor's Act.

"Sentiment in Lincoln relative to the Bartley pardon is of course divided," said C. E. Yates, a prominent citizen of the capital city, at the Millard, "but a great many people there think that the action of Governor Savage was an outrage and inexcusable in every way.

"To me the whole thing is absolute tommyrot. The pardon should never have been issued. The addition by the governor of that long apology for his act made to still worse. The only thing to do was to make him show up the money.

"This talk about his helping out the banks is absolutely inapplicable when analyzed. It is true that he helped them, but what if he did? He received good securities for all the money he gave them.

"Many Linconites are of the opinion that good many prominent Nebraekans were the beneficiaries of the shortage, and they say that these men were on a terrible strain of suspense during the time that Bartley was out on parole for fear that he would let down and tell about them."
