CONTESTS IN THE SENATE

Special Committee Likely to Be Asked to Carry Their Disposal.

SHAW APPRECIATES NEBRASKA COURTESY

Federal Positions Considered by Politicians—State Meeting of Supervisors—Republican Caucus Called.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

DES MOINES, Jan. 10.—(Special.)—It seems probable that the special committee to investigate the case of the two contest cases which are to come before that body in the Cass-Shelby district Dr. Emmert, democrat, had just one more vote than James E. Bruce, republican, according to the official count.

Governor Shaw's Plans. Governor Shaw spent the day at his office. He received the printed copies of his address which are to be sent out in advance and attended to other matters relating to the closing up of his business. He also received many callers. He expressed himself as highly pleased with the very flattering compliment to him of the night before in the banquet of the Grand Club.

Federal Positions Considered. Among the politicians gathered here this week there has been much talk about the final disposal of the federal positions in Iowa. The term of Attorney Miles, representing the United States in the southern district, expired today and no provision has been made for appointing a successor.

State Meeting of Supervisors. A state convention of the members of the boards of supervisors will be held here beginning January 21. J. M. Matthews of Council Bluffs is president, and the program is quite extensive. Among the subjects to be discussed and presented are those of county care of the insane, transient paupers, publication of proceedings of the boards, care of sick paupers from the county in city hospitals, laws in the interest of taxpayers, bad roads, county bridges, township and road taxes, and county papers.

Attacked on Husband's Complaint. ATLANTIC, Ia., Jan. 10.—(Special Telegram.)—E. J. Conard and Mrs. Lizzie Harrow, both of Malvern, were brought to this city from Griswold by Constable Swarby and turned over to the sheriff for confinement in the county jail to await the action of the grand jury on a charge preferred by the woman's husband.

For Attempt to Commit Murder. ATLANTIC, Ia., Jan. 10.—(Special Telegram.)—Tom Walters, who was released from the county jail today after serving a thirty days' sentence for being drunk, was at once rearrested by Marshal Root of Cumberland upon the charge of assault with intent to commit murder. While Walters was enjoying the spree for which he has just paid with thirty days of the furniture, he was remonstrated with him and he got out a shotgun and said he would kill her. A terrible time was had and a big hole is said to be seen in the door where the lord intended for the woman struck. Mrs. Walters made her escape to the home of a neighbor.

Elks Hold Charity Fair. CRESTON, Ia., Jan. 10.—(Special.)—The Order of Elks of this city expect to give a charity fair soon. Wholesale houses doing business with Creston merchants have been solicited to contribute and have responded liberally, and many articles of value will be offered.

Progress of Great Western. STORM LAKE, Ia., Jan. 10.—(Special.)—J. E. Carter, a railroad contractor of this county, who has a contract for the construction of a portion of the Hampton-Clarion extension of the Great Western, was in the city this week. Carter, who was recently in Fort Dodge, called at the office of the company and was informed by an official of the road that the Sioux City extension would surely be built and

For Theft from Government Building. ATLANTIC, Ia., Jan. 10.—(Special Telegram.)—Ed Sanford, a well known youth of Atlantic, son of respectable and well-to-do parents who live at Avoca, was arrested this morning by Constable LaRue upon a warrant issued out by John Michael of Cumberland upon the charge of larceny. Michael set his telescope grip down in the lobby of the postoffice while awaiting the arrival of the Cumberland hack and Sanford took the grip and departed. He was noticed by the constable at an acquaintance, who notified the officers, and they finally made him produce the grip from the booth where he had hidden it on reaching home.

Discrepancy in Accounts Alleged. CRESTON, Ia., Jan. 10.—(Special.)—The new county Board of Supervisors held its sessions in this city this week, adjourning Thursday afternoon. Among other business that came before the board was an investigation of the books of ex-County Superintendent C. W. A. Seaight, the defeated candidate on the republican ticket last fall for the office of representative of this county, owing to a charge filed that his accounts would show a shortage. An examination, conducted by experts, revealed, according to the report of the examiners, a shortage of $207.10.

making false representation as to premiums, was dismissed in Justice Bryan's court yesterday on motion of the assistant county attorney. Mr. Kimball moved to decide the case on the grounds that the alleged promises under which Gibbs is charged with obtaining money were future promises and a mere contract and not an existing fact and the breach of promise would be merely a breach of contract, for which civil damages could be collected. Gibbs was arrested on complaint of Charles Turbloom, although other dissatisfied subscribers were said to be lack of the prosecution. Gibbs said through his attorney in court yesterday that he intended to begin an action for damages against those responsible for his arrest.

DEATH OF FANCHER STIMSON Former City Engineer Expires of Heart Trouble After Short Illness. Fancher Stimson died early yesterday morning at his home, 221 Tenth avenue, of heart trouble, after a brief illness. He was 73 years of age and had been a resident of Council Bluffs since 1878. He had held the position of city engineer from 1888 to 1890. Of late years he had not been actively engaged in business. Five sons survive him, Edgar F., assistant city engineer in this city; F. C., yardmaster for the Northwestern in Sterling, Ill.; B. B., treasurer for the Colorado Southern at Trinidad, Colo.; A. E. of Houston, Tex., and W. C. of Wichita, Kan.; also two daughters, Mrs. George Allingham of this city and Mrs. W. P. Adkins of South Omaha. Mr. Stimson was born in Bloomfield, N. Y. In the winter of 1849 he went overland to California in the rush for the newly discovered gold fields. A year later he returned east by way of Panama and subsequently removed to Wisconsin. In 1879 he came to Council Bluffs as chief engineer for the Iowa division of the Omaha & St. Louis railroad and a year later being transferred to the Colorado Southern engineering department, remaining with that road until 1887. No arrangements will be made for the funeral until the absent sons are heard from. N. Y. Plumbing Co., telephone 250. U. R. K. P. dance tonight. Hughes' hall. Objects to Division of Estate. Mrs. Mary Allen, who was not remembered in the will of her father, John Clausen, yesterday in the district court filed objections to the sale of the real estate by the administrator. She objects on the ground that the personal property is sufficient to pay all debts standing against the estate; that no report has been filed by the administrator and that no claims have been allowed against the estate; that it would be to the best interests of all interested in the estate that the personal property be sold and exhausted in payment of the liabilities of the estate before any order is made by the court for the sale of the real estate. Mrs. Allen has also filed a protest to the probate of her father's will.

ORDER RAILROADS TO LIGHT

Mayor and Councilmen Demand Illumination at Crossings.

INSISTS THAT PUBLIC SAFETY DEMANDS IT

Inasmuch as the Roads Do Not Maintain Flaggmen, the Authorities Believe Their Order is a Just One.

In accordance with the instructions given by the city council at its meeting Monday night, Mayor Jennings yesterday notified the railroad companies that they would be henceforth required to maintain lights at the points where their tracks crossed the streets of the city. There are already lights at a number of these points, which have been maintained by the city, but the authorities are of the opinion that the burden should fall upon the railroads. In addition to maintaining the lights already established, they will be required to establish lights at points which are not already illuminated.

The intersections where the railroads will be required to maintain electric lights are: Sixth avenue and Twelfth street; Avenue B and Eleventh street; Broadway and Eleventh street; Fourth avenue and Eleventh street; Eighth avenue and Twelfth street; Broadway and Eleventh street; Avenue B and Thirteenth street; Avenue B and Eleventh street; Broadway and Thirteenth street; Seventh avenue and Eleventh street; Eleventh avenue and Eleventh street; Sixteenth avenue and Fourth street; Eleventh avenue and Main street; Eleventh avenue and Eleventh street; Twenty-first avenue and Seventh street; Sixteenth avenue and Main street; Fifth avenue and Fourth street.

The city council is of the opinion that it has the authority to enforce the maintenance of lights at these railway crossings for the benefit and safety of the public. Many of the points where the lights are ordered to be maintained are regarded as dangerous crossings and the aldermen feel that as long as the railroads have not been required to keep flagmen at these places they can have no valid objection to maintaining the lights as directed.

County Attorney's Report He Shows that Officials Are Conscientious in the Matter of Fees.

Assistant County Attorney Kimball completed his annual report for 1901, which he will submit to the Board of County Supervisors today. The total number of cases in the local justice courts, 251, and 71 outside the city. The convictions were 109; acquittals, 71; dismissed, 10; pending, 46. The total cost of these cases in the city was $1,298.70, an average of $5.57 a case. The cost outside the city was $601.51, an average of $8.47 a case.

It will be observed that the number of convictions is almost twice the number of acquittals, and that a large number of cases is much lower in the superior courts than in the justice courts. The reason that the superior court judges and the city marshal are paid salaries and not fees, the average per cent case is also slightly varied from year to year among the courts and is due much to the character of the cases before the courts. There is the utmost harmony between the various courts and this office and all in making the expense to the public. The justice court officers are compensated on a fee basis, and it should be said that all such officers who should this office has worked exceedingly hard for the purpose of drawing such fees by calling only necessary witnesses, and by as far as possible calling them but for reasonable expense, which public expense is made in of more importance than the mere amount expended.

The following comparative summary of the costs and fees paid by the county for cases under the jurisdiction of the criminal courts of the city, eighteen hundred and ninety-six being the last year before the present year, is here given, such cases omitted because the expenses have never been computed for that year:

It will be seen that the total amount expended by the county is less for this year than last, and that the cost on an average per case is also less. It can hardly be expected that it will continue to be so low all of the time. It is worthy of note that nearly $2,000 less is chargeable against the county for these cases during the year than in 1896.

Smith & Bradley's big discount sale still continues with unabated interest. Judging from the amount of business they have turned out since the opening of the sale, the people of Council Bluffs know a good thing when they see it.

BILLS FOR SMALLPOX PATIENTS

County Supervisors Receive Claim of Eight Hundred Dollars for City Supplies.

At the meeting of the Board of County Supervisors yesterday the city presented bills aggregating about $800 for supplies furnished to smallpox patients. The bills did not include expenses of physicians or nurses. As they were not fully verified, they were referred back to the city, and Supervisors Baker and Kerney were appointed a committee to pass upon and allow when properly verified. The publisher of the West Publishing Bureau presented a bill for $40 for publishing the terms of district court. As there seemed to be some question as to Depew's having been authorized to publish them, the bill was referred to the city attorney.

A. Johnson was appointed janitor of the county courthouse in Avoca at $100 a year. The contract for burying pauper dead was awarded to Hill Bros. of this city at $8 a person. Charles Lunkey was the only other bidder. At $10.

The attorney general of Justice of the Peace Ferris showed fees taxed and collected for the four quarters as follows: First quarter, fees taxed, $294.25; fees collected, $129.56. Second quarter, fees taxed, $272.50; fees collected, $207.25. Third quarter, fees taxed, $475; fees collected, $373. Fourth quarter, fees taxed, $324.50; fees collected, $262.70. Total for the year, fees taxed, $1,439.35; fees collected, $1,027.95. The matter of repairing the cylinder in the county jail was discussed and the board decided it would have to secure the services of an expert engineer to determine what could be done. It is believed that the top beam, which supports the cylinder, is bent about four inches and that if this defect was remedied the cylinder would work all right. The board expects to adjourn today until some date in February.

WILLIAM TOMPKIN'S SUICIDE

Coroner Treyner Decides Inquest Unnecessary in Case of Would-be Murderer.

Coroner Treyner was called to Macedonia yesterday morning by the suicide of William Tompkin, after attempting to murder his step-granddaughter. The coroner decided that an inquest was unnecessary. He returned last evening. Nora Miller, the young woman, who had a narrow escape from being killed, was able to be about, although suffering from the shock of her experience.

William Tompkin was well known in Council Bluffs, where thirty years ago he lived for a short time, before removing to his farm near Macedonia. Twenty-five years ago Tompkin tried to kill his wife in this city. He had become jealous of her and finding that she had come to Council Bluffs, followed her. Meeting her on the street in front of the Bryant house on Broadway, now occupied by the Neumayer hotel, he tried to cut her throat with a penknife. He inflicted twenty-seven gashes, and for a time it was thought the woman's injuries would prove fatal. Tompkin was arrested and confined in the county jail. His wife recovered and as she refused to prosecute Tompkin was released. She died about a year ago.

Tompkin was an Englishman and was regarded by those who knew him as not only being eccentric, but somewhat dangerous. When under the influence of liquor he frequently said he had been obliged to leave England for killing a man. He was considered a great sport and lover of blooded stock. On his farm at Macedonia there are over fifty blooded horses, and to mention blooded bulldogs and gamecocks. He was a great cock fighter and was a familiar character at all the main in this vicinity. His farm of 400 acres was one of the best in the county and it is expected that his estate after all debts have been paid will realize close upon $50,000.

HOLDS UP NIGHT WATCHMAN

Nervous Burglar with Revolver Gets George Keller's Coin and Key.

A burglar broke into the A. C. Keller horse collar factory at Thirty-second street and Avenue A early yesterday morning and held up George Keller, who acts as night watchman and sleeps in the factory. Some small change, which he abstracted from George Keller's pockets, and the keys to the building is all that the burglar obtained. The burglar, who was disguised by a handkerchief tied over the upper part of his face, secured an entrance to the building by forcing a window on the east side.

George Keller, who was asleep in a small room off the main factory, heard the fellow prowling and started to investigate. As soon as he was discovered the burglar drew a revolver and pointing at Keller's head ordered him to get back into bed. Keller lost no time in complying with the order. The fellow then went through his clothes and took what little change he had in his pockets. The burglar instructed Keller to stay where he was under penalty of having a bullet through his body, and made his exit out of the window through which he had entered. The fellow examined the safe, but did not attempt to open it. In the manner George Keller took the fellow to be a novice in the burglary business, as he appeared nervous the whole time he was in the building.

Case Against Gibbs Dismissed.

The case against Frank Gibbs, solicitor for an eastern art publication, charged with obtaining money under false pretenses by making false representation as to premiums, was dismissed in Justice Bryan's court yesterday on motion of the assistant county attorney. Mr. Kimball moved to decide the case on the grounds that the alleged promises under which Gibbs is charged with obtaining money were future promises and a mere contract and not an existing fact and the breach of promise would be merely a breach of contract, for which civil damages could be collected. Gibbs was arrested on complaint of Charles Turbloom, although other dissatisfied subscribers were said to be lack of the prosecution. Gibbs said through his attorney in court yesterday that he intended to begin an action for damages against those responsible for his arrest.

Stiff Joints

Omega Oil What a stiff joint needs more than anything else is Omega Oil. The next need is plenty of massage, or rubbing. The rubbing makes the blood flow faster, and the Oil loosens up and softens the hard, stiff places. The first thing to do with a stiff joint in machinery is to oil it, and then work it back and forth until all the stiffness is gone. Now, as a matter of fact, your body is a machine, not of iron, but flesh, muscles and joints, and you want to keep it well oiled with Omega Oil if you expect to have it in good running order. This is common sense, and every one knows it to be the truth.

Omega Oil is good for everything a liniment ought to be good for.
