

IN FAVOR OF ANNEXATION

Enlightenment of People of Danish Islands Has Been Misrepresented.

MAJORITY ARE IN FAVOR OF THE SALE

Opposition is Engineered by Speculators Who Hope for Still Further Depreciation in the Value of Lands.

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—The special correspondent of the Tribune at St. Thomas, D. W. I., sends the following in connection with the reported transfer of the islands to the United States:

What puzzles the average Danish West Indian more than anything else is the impression which seems to have gained ground in America and elsewhere, that he objects to the transfer of these islands, and that a plebiscite is necessary. Apart from the fact that there are so many different nationalities in the Danish West Indies that it would be a matter of great difficulty to arrive at a just conclusion in case of a plebiscite, it may be confidently asserted that no such wish has been expressed, and if it were possible to take a vote, under such circumstances, it would be in favor of the transfer.

That there might have been a feeling against it some time ago among the natives is possible, but this was partly owing to sentiment and partly to the statements made by the anti-sale party about the miserable condition of Porto Rico under American rule. Now that the truth has come to light about that island, and every mail brings further reports of its progress, once again, as in 1867, our people are looking forward to the change, believing that there can be nothing but prosperity for these islands should it take place.

It is a pity that this state of feeling of the inhabitants has not been more widely circulated throughout the United States, so that Americans might know that they are not taking under their protection an unwilling population—a fact which can be substantiated by any American who has visited these islands.

Planters for Annexation.

There has been a little excitement here the last few days owing to a rumor that the sale was "off." At St. Croix, as an offset to the telegram sent to the finance minister and the Rigsdag by 146 leading inhabitants, among whom were forty planters, representing 40,000 out of 50,000 acres of cultivated land of the island, praying for the sale, an opposition list was started. The few property holders that were overlooked refused to sign it, but the officials and a few policemen did so. But the opinion seems to be gaining ground that all the opposition has been fostered by Danish speculators, in the hope that should negotiations be declared off and values become further depreciated they may be able to purchase lands and houses for a song.

The St. Croix Avis, in a letter from the rector of the Anglican church, exposed the manner in which anti-sale signatures were obtained to a list in Bassen and other towns. The list was sent by cable to the prime minister at Copenhagen on the 9th inst. It protests against the telegram sent by the forty planters and 106 proprietors, already alluded to, characterizing them as American capitalists and asks "his excellency to use his influence to keep St. Croix under the Danish flag, on condition that the mother country will know how to fit means to make the cultivation of sugar, which at present finds itself in a most critical position, remunerative to this island."

This is signed by three Danish planters, two merchants and by 215 other persons, all eminently respectable, but not employers of nearly two-thirds of the island's laborers, who will shortly be without employment unless some change takes place, for even the protestants against the sale admit the critical position of the sugar industry. The general feeling is that of despair for the future of these islands if the sale is not completed.

Mr. Wheeler Got Rid of His Rheumatism.

"During the winter of 1898 I was so lame in my joints, in fact all over my body, that I could hardly hobble around, when I bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. From the first application I began to get well, and was cured and have worked steadily all the year."—R. Wheeler, Northwood, N. Y. For sale by all druggists.

ALL READY FOR ELK'S FAIR

Finishing Touches Put On for Great Show, Which Opens Thursday Night.

Donations came in to the elk's fair yesterday so rapidly that the secretary's desk was fairly overwhelmed with the work of recording the articles and the names of the donors. The professional decorators were busy all day preparing the booths and the women who have been assigned to each booth were employing themselves during the day and evening in adding their own individual touches of beauty to the same. The work will be continued today and the fair will open at the announced hour, 2 o'clock, tomorrow afternoon. Everything will be in readiness and the long-heralded

Sluggish Intellect

CAUSED BY COFFEE

"Careful inquiry in the school-room developed the fact that these children who are habitually given coffee to drink have slow complexions, are nervous, more or less irritable, and very sluggish intellects, or an overwrought and abnormal imagination, results of extreme nervousness. My own experience with coffee drinking kept me afflicted for some years with severe and constant headaches, with extreme nervousness at times, and I was compelled to abandon coffee altogether, and was quickly relieved of the headaches and other troubles. I was fortunate enough to secure a package of Postum Food Coffee, but my first attempt at making it was a failure. After another trial and following directions (which are very easy, by the way), I secured a delicious drink, far superior in my mind to coffee. I have continued to use it from the start, and my improvement has been steady, with no ill effects at all."

The above was written by a school teacher, Miss E. Barnard, of Oxford, Kan.

It is an easy matter to leave off the coffee habit, if Postum Cereal Food Coffee is used in its place, particularly when attention is given to its proper preparation. The whole secret of the preparation is in allowing the Food Coffee to boil long enough to bring out the taste and food value.

All first-class grocers sell Postum.

INDUSTRIES OF NEBRASKA

Census Bulletin Gives Figures on State's Manufacturing Interests.

INCREASE OF MILLIONS DURING DECADE

Noteworthy Growth of Product Despite Apparent Stagnation in Matter of Population Shown by Report of Statistician.

Advance sheets of the bulletin of the twelfth census pertaining to manufactures in Nebraska have reached The Bee from Washington. In the bulletin the manufacturer of the state is treated exhaustively, some very interesting information being given. In his letter to Director Merriam Chief Statistician S. N. D. North says:

The report shows a capital of $71,982,127 invested in manufacturing and mechanical industries in the 5,411 establishments reporting for the state of Nebraska. The sum represents the value of the buildings, machinery, tools and implements, and the live capital utilized, but does not include the capital stock of any of the manufacturing corporations of the state. The value of the product is estimated at $2,255,628 for salaries of officials, clerks, etc.; $11,500,000 for miscellaneous expenses, including rents, taxes, etc.; and $92,397,207 for materials, fuel, mill supplies, freight and mail. It is not to be assumed, however, that the difference between the aggregate of these sums and the value of the product is in any sense indicative of the profits in the manufacture of the products of the twelfth census year. The census schedule takes no cognizance of the cost of selling manufactured articles or of the depreciation of the invested, or of the mercantile losses incurred in the business, or of the depreciation of the value as obtained or fixed at the shop or factory. This statement is intended to avoid erroneous conclusions from the figures presented.

It must be soothing to the vanity of an actress to be accorded the privilege of bowing acknowledgement of the appreciation of an audience marked as one of the largest and most fashionable that has not in Boyd's theater during the present season. Called before the curtain time and time again after each act of the play was the welcome given Mary Manning last night, when she made her first appearance in this city as a star in one of the most popular of the late plays, Miss Manning's reception bordered upon a genuine ovation, yet she carried herself through it all with such superb dignity as to lead one to believe that her splendid ability won for her each and every such demonstrative outbreak of approval. Certainly she was entitled to it all, for she succeeds in furnishing an evening of entertainment that is really enjoyable in the face of the fact that her vehicle is a rather poor dramatization of a novel that is hardly first-class. So many liberties have been taken with the story by the dramatist that it is almost unrecognizable. Of course the same principal ingredients, love, intrigue and war, are used in both, but they are handled in different ways in each.

Miss Manning makes of Janice quite a sensible and at times dignified girl, in marked contrast to the author's ideal. In the dramatization none of the opportunities for a display of the strong military situations of the revolutionary period are lost sight of, and in each of the four acts there are scenes which appeal directly to "patriotism" to the exclusion of all other sentiments. Miss Manning enjoys the dramatization of a personality and magnetism to such a degree as would insure her success in almost any part to play. She is handsome, vivacious, has a charming voice and enunciates so perfectly that not a line or word of any of her speeches is lost even to those occupying seats in the extreme rear of the theater. She is remembered as having been seen here last some four years ago as leading woman of Daniel Frohman's Lyceum stock company and appeared in a play called "The Mayflower."

RECOMMENDS REVENUE LAW

Governor Orman Advises Legislature to Re-enact the Measure with Safeguards.

DENVER, Jan. 28.—In a message which he transmitted to the legislature today Governor Orman recommends re-enactment with the necessary safeguards of the revenue law, which has been attacked by the corporations in the courts. He advises that a new section be added providing for the assessment of mining property whether productive or non-productive. He recommends the re-enactment of an employers' liability law and asks the legislature to correct a defect in the act of the regular session making an appropriation for an exhibit at the Louisiana Purchase exposition.

In regard to corporation legislation the governor says: "It must be remembered that whatever materially affects the interests of the corporation affects the welfare of the people of the state, but we must also remember that it is from the state and its resources that they derive their great wealth and power and that the people should have something to say as to how that power is used and that wealth acquired."
