Fruits and Produce. The demand for fruits and vegetables has been somewhat limited during the cold weather. It is, of course, difficult to make shipments of perishable goods during such severe weather, which doubtless had a tendency to cut down the demand. So far as prices are concerned, there is not much to be said, as nearly all lines are selling in about the same notohes they were a week ago. The quotations will be found in another column. The egg market has firmed up consider-ably during the week, owing to light re-ceipts and a fairly liberal demand. Com-mission men say, however, that receipts would not have to increase very much in order to cause a sudden drop in prices and they are warning their customers to that effect. Poultry was also in light receipt, and consequently prices advanced. There was not much change in butter, but still the market was very firm at the quota-tions.

PARIS, Feb. 1.- (New York World Cablegram-Special Telegram.)-The American colony has been exceptionally quiet this week because of the numerous departures for the Riveria and the Pyrennes. Mrs. Ogden Goelet and Miss May Goelet received and returned the usual series of luncheons, teas and receptions before going to Cannes. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ridgeway only spent two weeks here and then returned to their brilliant social realm at Pau, where for the last few years they have been reigning supreme. The Ridgeways' winter festivities will culminate February 10 at Pau, with a great ball to the Spanish Infanta Eulalia. It is rumored that the Infanta, who has just returned from London, has promised to take her mother, ex-Queen Isabella, down to Pau purposely to attend the Ridgeway fete. This has caused a great social flurry. as the jolly old queen has stubbornly refused to have anything to do with Americans since the war, and has been much missed, because before that time her wit, open-heartedness and even her eccentricities made her always in great demand. Another consequence of Queen Isabella's burying the hatchet probably would be the im-mediate sending of her daughter's sons to the United States to complete their education. Infanta Eulalia has long been an advocate of an Anglo-Saxon education, especially in an American school. Her sons are now being educated in England.

Princess Cantacuzene, daughter of General Frederick D. Grant, is passing a few weeks at the Hotel Maurice. She attends the grand opera almost nightly, with various parties of friends. The princess is having two portraits of herself painted by Benjamin Constant and Seymour Thomas respectively. The latter artist, who is a Californian, is also engaged on a likenees of Paul Loubet. Going to the studio yesterday to pose the princess had a long chat with the son of the French president, whose sitting was not quite finished. Both had met at Mrs. Potter-Palmer's dances some years ago and society gossiped then about a possible romance between them. Paul Loubet is a promising attorney.

THOUSANDS GREET SCHLEY

Nashville Citisens Turn Out Enmasse to See Naval

Hero. NASHVILLE, Feb. 1.-The inclement

weather necessitated an abandonment of the parade today in honor of Admiral Schley, but the Admiral and Mrs. Schley were escorted to the capitol by a detach ment of confederate veterans, state milltia and Knights Templar.

The streets along the route were crowded with people and the greeting accorded Admiral Schley was very warm. It is estimated that 10,000 gathered at the south entrance to the house of representatives where the formal welcome to the city was the opinion that many lines of staples are being sold for less than they can be pro-duced at the present market price of cot-ton. The mills that are showing full lines of cotton and woolen goods are asking ad-vances and any fall goods that can be bought on last season's basis are considered cheap. It is claimed that popular makes of staple check ginghams are scarce, as the machinery is now employed in making light fancy styles. Trade for all lines of both printed and woven wash fabrics has been exceptionally heavy of late with jobbers, as well as manufacturers. Although the market as a whole is in a very strong position there have been no quotable changes during the week on staple lines. Those who ought to know look for a firm, healthy market for some time to come. Hardware a Trifle Quiet. Hardware a Trife Quiet.

healthy market for some time to come. Hardware a Trifle Quiet. The cold weather of last week rather put a stop to the active buying of spring index of hardware. During the mild weather poblers were receiving a good many spring orders and were beginning to ship out such in considerable extent. Just at present, however, they are experiencing a little hul, but look for business to pick up as soon as the weather moderates. The cold wave brought them very little business in winter goods, as the season is so far advanced that retailers will not buy much of any-thing in the way of winter goods. Fair Demand for Leather Goods.

Fair Demand for Leather Goods. While there is nothing rushing in the leather goods trade, business is moving along in as good shape as could be ex-pected. A few sizing up orders for im-mediate shipment are being received, but they are mostly very small. Jobbers, though, are busy shipping out their spring goods and are getting a good start on the stack of advance orders they had og hand the first of the year. It is, the general talk of the trade that unless something unex-pected happens there will be more boots and shoes shipped out of Omaha this spring than ever before during the same length of time. All the houses report their ad-vance orders much larger than ever before and their traveling men all claim that the
