

they were generally received with cheers as they passed along.

The procession took five hours and a quarter to pass the reviewing stand. The review was given by the Department of the Army and the Department of the Navy.

The participants in the imposing pageant entered with life and vigor into the spirit of the occasion. Each countenance bore evidence of the joy the experience brought to the individual, but it was plainly evident that there was the occasion much of the restoration of youth for most of them.

None Show Age. The "old boys" were evidently living the days of their youth. Not many of them exhibited traces of age in their marching. Almost without exception they walked along with alacrity and kept step with precision.

If the veterans had needed any spur to their enjoyment they would have found it easily in the crowds who thronged the roadway and in the cheering which proceeded bestowed upon them, for the weather was perfect. The spectators were limited in numbers only by the capacity of the broad sidewalks, the stands, the parks, the windows and the house-tops along the line of march to hold them. The government departments gave the parade the most cordial day, and practically the entire population of Washington turned out to do honor to the veterans along with the hundred thousand visitors to the city.

Tonight the veterans held campfires in the big tents in the White House lot.

Martin Leads Sons.

At today's session of the commandery in chief of the Sons of Veterans the Banner was continued as the official organ of the organization, with the provision that hereafter the policy of the paper will be dictated from national headquarters.

The annual report of Memorial university at Mason City, Ia., whose foundation was inspired by the order, showed that institution to be in a healthy condition and growing.

Colonel Frank Martin of Indianapolis has no opposition for commander-in-chief. Rafael Tobias of New York and E. M. Wilson of San Francisco are leading candidates for senior vice commander, while James B. Adams of New Jersey seems to be leading for junior vice commander.

The election of officers will take place on Thursday.

Saratoga, San Francisco and Atlantic City are contesting for the next convention.

Governor A. T. Bilas of Michigan was thrown from his horse near Washington Circle during the parade and suffered severe bruises about the head. His injuries are not regarded as serious.

WEST SHOWS UP IN PARADE

Men from Nebraska and Iowa in Evidence in the Column of Veterans.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—(Special Telegram.)—Although it has been a decade since the members of the Grand Army of the Republic marched in grand review in the nation's capital, it is pecuniary and appropriate worthy of note that the number of Nebraska in the grand and inspiring parade of the nation's heroes today far exceeded the number of those from the Antelope state who participated in the review ten years ago, while its place between the states of Maryland and Michigan by reason of the date of its charter, Nebraska made a most creditable showing and all along the entire route of the parade were the recipients of much attention from the thousands of spectators massing the sidewalks, buildings and stands. Commander Calvin E. Steele of Fairbury, marched at the head of the Nebraska division, while back of him came the department commanders from that state, as is the usual arrangement in all Grand Army of the Republic parades.

The line including in the rear of the department Commander Steele, made up as it was with names familiar in republican councils of the state, was reminiscent of a state convention of the party.

In order of their service as department commanders back of Commander Steele came H. E. Belmont of Colfax, C. E. Nelson of J. P. Culver, John A. Ehrhardt, T. J. Majors, John B. Reese, while toward the end of the parade Major T. S. Clarkson fell in with his comrades, making a line that was remarked by citizens from Nebraska.

Commander Steele had purchased for each comrade from Nebraska a silk flag to be carried in the parade, and the thousands of mismanagement the flags failed to reach Washington in time. At 10 o'clock the Nebraska left their headquarters at the National hotel and marched to their position east of the capitol to await the time to fall into line. It was nearly 3 o'clock before the Nebraska division of the grand parade of Nebraska an opportunity to join in the parade, which will be memorable especially in the light of forty years, for upward of 35,000 old soldiers passed up Pennsylvania avenue today in review, a remnant of the grandest army ever recruited.

One of the most striking features of the parade of the veterans was furnished by Tom Hale of Omaha, who is always wide awake to the interests of the state. He carried at the head of the Nebraska division an enormous bundle of native grasses, bound with vari-colored ribbons, which is a treasure contracted the effect made by the Southern states in the review of corn fastened to pikes which they carried instead of guidons or corps badges. The Iowa were about 300 strong in the parade today. The Hawkeye State contingent is under command of Colonel John Lead of Council Bluffs, department commander, and his staff in the rear of the division Commander L. S. Durgen of Decatur, Vice Commander S. Durgen of Decatur, Junior Vice Commander Joseph Mollison of Ponda, Assistant Adjutant General George Newman of Cedar Falls, Lieutenant Governor Harriott, General Granville M. Dodge, E. G. Miller and M. W. Davis, past department commanders; Hugh Pickell of Des Moines and D. F. Young of Oelwein, also marched with the state, Marshalltown, Sioux City, Marengo, Traer, Council Bluffs and Terrill posts were well represented. Iowa men wore as an emblem on an ear of yellow corn, swung across their shoulders, the ear resting at the right side in a position similar to that of a cane.

At 7 o'clock tonight the Iowa veterans tendered a reception at their headquarters to Secretary Wilson. Secretary Shaw had been invited, but declines owing to prior engagements which called him to Boston today. During the course Secretary Wilson was presented by J. B. Dennis of Traer with an immense pumpkin raised near his home in Iowa. A companion pumpkin was also brought from Traer for Secretary Shaw and will be presented to him upon his return from Boston.

WANTS PENSIONS FOR ALL

General Baum Tells Veterans All Civil War Heroes Should Be Paid.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Camp Roosevelt was again tonight the scene of a number of reunions of old soldiers. Grant tent was occupied by the Fifteenth army corps, Sheridan tent by the Eighth army corps, Meade tent by the Fourteenth army corps and Farragut tent by the naval veterans.

At Sherman tent General Greene B. Baum presided. He said the time had come when every survivor of the civil war should be given a pension.

Colonel James P. Campbell of Pennsylvania, Congressman Davenport of West Virginia and Captain T. H. McKee were the leading spirits in the meeting of the Eighth army corps.

The Fourteenth corps was entertained at Meade tent by a long list of speakers, including Justus Hawkins of the United States supreme court, General Abram Baird, General H. B. Carrington and Captain O. T. Chamberlain.

The naval veterans gave their big dog watch at Farragut tent.

TRUE FOOD

Always Cures Dyspepsia.

Wrong food brings penalties. A lady in Lone Tree, Okla. found this out. After suffering for years with dyspepsia, she says:

"Many times I could not eat anything, sometimes I drank a little hot milk, at other times the lightest food distressed me so that death would have been gladly welcomed as a relief. I was weak and listless and unable to work for want of strength.

Two years ago a dear friend earnestly recommended me to try Grape-Nuts as she had found it a most valuable food. I commenced to use it immediately and the benefit I received in an incredibly short time was almost marvelous.

When I cannot express the joy and thankfulness I felt when I found I was relieved of this dreadful distress from indigestion that I had been experiencing after each meal.

After continued use, health and strength returned. I began to enjoy life and go on my way again with such improved health. I was able to do my own housework, I sleep well now, all day with perfect ease and comfort and now and then I feel as if I wish I could induce every sufferer from dyspepsia to use Grape-Nuts. BAER'S ROAD MAKES REPORT

In Spite of Strike Earnings Have Substantially Increased.

ANTHRACITE PRODUCTION IS MUCH LESS

Company Buys Many Tons of Coal and Sells Fewer by Nearly a Million—Large Expenditure Promised.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 8.—The board of directors of the Reading company met today and approved the report for 1901-1902, which will be submitted at an adjourned meeting next Monday.

The report, which embraces the operations of the Reading company, the Philadelphia & Reading railway and the Philadelphia & Reading Coal and Iron company, gives the net earnings of the three companies before payment of the Reading company's dividends and the general mortgage sinking fund as $2,378,826, as compared with $2,563,087 for 1901.

The surplus of the three companies amounted to $1,374,850, which, with the accumulated surplus, makes the total $4,686,614.

Receipts Show Increase. The gross receipts of the railway company increased $1,171,354 over the previous year, notwithstanding the loss of anthracite tonnage in May and June, and the surplus for the year increased $50,791, but the payments on account of fixed charges, taxes, insurance fund, equipment renewals and improvements were $262,001 less than the previous year.

The tonnage of anthracite decreased from 10,523,891 tons in 1900-1901 to 9,465,553 tons this year, a loss of 1,057,338 tons, or 10.05 per cent, and the tonnage of bituminous coal increased from 5,018,491 tons to 5,087,083 tons, a gain of 1,068,592 tons, or 21.39 per cent. The revenue from coal traffic increased from $12,391,307 to $12,438,159, a gain of $46,852.

Anthracite Production Less. The total production of anthracite coal from lands owned and leased by the Coal and Iron company was 8,128,274 tons, a decrease of 1,055,699 from last year's production. The reduced production was the result principally of the miners' strike which began May 12, from which date to the end of the fiscal year the collieries were idle.

The coal purchased aggregated 1,034,290 tons, an increase of 66,855 tons, and the sales amounted to $2,589,828, a decrease of $10,588 tons. The cost of coal mined and purchased was $12,438,159, which is 30.5-10 cents higher than the cost for the previous year, due to increased cost of labor, additional expenditures, arising from freshets, the strike and colliery improvements.

Announcement is made that the management has decided to raise the steady increase in the consumption of anthracite and to meet the loss of production caused by lessened efficiency of labor, to expend $2,500,000 in the sinking of seven new shafts and the construction of new breakers and machinery.

SHOTS FLY IN STRIKE RIOT

ing out the militia, but one of the speakers, in referring to them, said, the strikers stood in no danger. Resolutions were adopted denouncing the railway company and protesting against the importation of outside labor. The crowd dispersed without disorder.

One company—Company C of the First regiment—wanted the strike service because of sympathy with the strikers, and all officers and men resigned in a body. The governor has not been heard from on this, but it is understood the resignations will not be accepted.

BRIBERY CASES ARE CALLED

Accused St. Louis Men Plead Not Guilty and Are Remanded to Jail by the Court.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 8.—Delegates Emil Hartmann, Louis Decker and John (Kid) Sheridan, arraigned in Judge Douglas' court today on charges of bribery, pleaded "not guilty." They were remanded to jail.

Delegate Charles F. Kelly, fugitive from justice, did not appear today when his case was called in the criminal court. The defendant is charged with misconduct in office and his trial went over until a later date. The cases of Delegate Charles L. Geraghty and Councilman Louis Schaeff, charged with similar misconduct, were also called today.

Schnell and Geraghty answered in person. Schnell and written motion to quash the indictment in the case of Schnell and a verbal motion by Attorney Mulvihill to quash the indictments against Kelly and Geraghty.

Judge Clark said that he would eventually quash the indictments in the case of Schnell and Geraghty, but he believed the city had sufficient evidence upon which to base a new indictment and he would continue the cases to October 24.

FIRE PROPERTY.

Loss to Record.

BEAUMONT, Tex., Oct. 8.—Reports received today regarding the loss sustained by last night's fire in the oil fields vary, though experts place it from $100,000 to $250,000, while the number of tanks destroyed will not be known for several days, being variously estimated between thirty-five and eighty-five.

Rumors of loss of life have proved untrue. Thomas Crowley, an employe of Brice & Co., was probably fatally burned while working at the top of a derrick. He is the only one who was injured, according to the latest accounts.

The fire started in the J. S. Corbett well, near the center of the Spindle Top avenue fronting the middle section of the Hogswayne tract, and swept the section completely, destroying practically every derrick and pumping rig. The fact that there was no wind prevented the spread of the fire into the other sections.

The king reproached the queen with being the curse of his life. Drags retorted with coarse abuse, accusing him of a liaison with her sister Hele and even boxed the king's ears.

EVICT MANY IRISH TENANTS

Lord Defere Obtains Three Hundred Extra, but Judge Suspends Operation.

DUBLIN, Oct. 8.—Lord Defere applied at Castle Rue, Roscommon county, today, for 300 ejectment writs in tenants' cases. They are all undefended. The friends and neighbors are caring for the homeless in out-houses and cottages. All the tenants on the Ellis estate at Ballyfeale, Limerick county, have decided to submit to eviction and are building huts on land adjacent to the estate.

After granting the ejectment writs, Judge O'Connor Morris delivered a long and sympathetic address, in which he advised the tenants to settle with their landlords and then appeal to Parliament to remove their legitimate grievances.

The judge assured the tenants that there was nothing in the story that the government was going to pledge the credit of British taxpayers to the extent of $750,000 to pay the landlords, and in conclusion promised in order to enable them to come to their senses and not be led into foolish agitation that he would not sign a single decree until the end of the session and the consent of tenants who paid one year's rent and costs that he would stay the decree for six months.

FRENCH MINERS WANT HELP

Strikers Appeal for Funds and Predict Rise in Price of Coal.

PARIS, Oct. 8.—The committee of the striking miners has issued a manifesto addressed to the comrades in the United States, England, Germany, Belgium and Australia, which appeals for aid from the troops mobilized against them to remember the conduct of Colonel St. Remy in refusing to obey orders during the Brittany school troubles, which were contrary to his conscience.

The secretary of the mine owners' committee, in an interview predicts coal in Paris this winter. He says the Pennsylvania strike will be partly responsible for this, as orders have been given in England to reduce the available stocks there and to increase the price of coal exported to France.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—The condition of Russell Sage, who has been suffering from a bad cold and was threatened with pneumonia, was reported this morning as favorable. He is at his country house at Cedarhurst, L. I., and it was said there that he had passed a comfortable night. The physician attending Mr. Sage said he was in no danger, but that it would be better for him to remain at home until next Monday. The physician said there was no reason for alarm.

Wall street was inclined to be doubtful about Mr. Sage's condition this morning. Mr. Sage has a large number of loans out on collateral that might be wanted at any moment, and in the event of his death a sudden calling in of his loans or other situation which would require his safe deposit vaults, which are held as collateral would be tied up indefinitely, would result in considerable trouble and loss.

C. W. Osborne, cashier for Mr. Sage, to set at rest any fears on the latter point made the authoritative statement that in no event would the securities held as collateral for loans be kept. He admitted that they were held jointly in the name of Mr. Sage and himself, so that it would not be sealed up at Mr. Sage's death, but could be opened at any time and securities advanced to borrowers in return for the amount of their loans.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—In a letter from Athens dealing with the Roumanian matter a correspondent of the Times says the unfortunate position of the Jews is due to religious prejudice than to the jealous spirit of the Roumanians. Little can come of Secretary Hay's note because the great powers will not support it.

The best hope for the Jews lies in the immediate approach of an attempt by the Roumanian department to raise a great loan.

BRIDGE TENDER IS KILLED

Twelve Other Persons Injured in Collision on Pennsylvania Road Near Menlo Park.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Courtney Silpath, a bridge tender at the Pennsylvania ferry, New York, was killed and twelve persons injured in a rear-end collision of passenger trains on the Pennsylvania railroad at Menlo Park, N. J., today. The western express, known as No. 4, eastbound, made up of four Pullmans, three coaches and a postal and baggage car, was run into by a local passenger train from Philadelphia.

Aid was immediately summoned from the scene, and the injured were taken to possible physicians who responded dressed the wounds of the injured, who were placed in a car and hurried through to Jersey City.

Knowing that the local was due, passengers were told to leave the train and a flagman was rushed back. There was a very close call when the local was about to reach the bridge when the Philadelphia train came around the curve at a high rate of speed and crashed into the express. Some of the passengers had not left the train when the collision occurred.

When the train bearing the injured reached Jersey City a few of those hurt were taken to hospitals, but it is understood that none of them received serious injuries.

EXPLOSION IN WAREHOUSE

Causes Fire at Birmingham and a Loss of Two Hundred Thousand Dollars.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Oct. 8.—An explosion today in a one-story warehouse, owned by Moore & Handley Hardware company, adjoining the other buildings of the company on Powell avenue near Twenty-first street, caused a fire which destroyed property valued at $200,000 before it was checked.

The company's main building, a three-story brick structure, had a narrow escape from destruction.

C. M. Rice, a clerk, who was in the warehouse when the first explosion occurred, was badly injured. John Simpson, a salesman, was also hurt by a pump falling on him. Several heavy explosions occurred during the progress of the fire, causing a panic among the thousands of spectators.

The insurance is placed at about 75 per cent of the loss.

KEEP DINNER PAIL FULL

Booth Tucker Says Irrigation is Best Solution of Poverty.

IT IS TWIN BROTHER TO COLONIZATION

Politicians Who Aid Dual Movements Will Be Forever Revered by Thankful Country They Have Benefited.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Oct. 8.—The all-absorbing topic among the delegates to the National Irrigation congress today is the question of the proposed merger with the Transmississippi Commercial congress.

The tendency on the part of the delegates to the merger is growing constantly and there is little doubt in the minds of most observers as to the movement finally proving successful. It is being strenuously pushed by a strong faction headed by F. J. Kessel of Ogden, Utah, on the ground that irrigation should be maintained as an issue of common wealth, while the old leaders of the irrigation congress, headed by George Maxwell of Chicago and John Henry Smith of Salt Lake, are as strongly in favor of the merger on the ground that the irrigation act, as accomplished its mission and has not its justification upon the development of the irrigation theory in the hands of the government officials, to whom it now naturally falls.

An effort was made at the opening of the congress this morning by the opposition to the merger to force the question to a vote by shutting off further speech in the re-opening of the merger. The sense of the convention was to some extent determined by the voting down of this resolution.

Will Aid Colonization. Colonel Thomas Holland, national colonization secretary of the Salvation Army, read a paper prepared by Commander Booth Tucker.

He said: "The fact that the present irrigation congress has included in its deliberations this great question of colonization and has not its justification upon its possibility will undoubtedly place the subject in an entirely new light before the country. It will give colonization an impetus, the influence of which will leave its mark upon the generations to come. Thus colonization, as the handmaid of irrigation, will bring within the reach of the later new confidence and possibilities and irrigation will prepare for colonization new realms, while these combined sciences will provide an immense home market, making it easier for the masses of our population to be and do good.

Full Dinner Pail Always. "Thus we may well hope that in solving the problems of poverty the bulwarks of national prosperity may be strengthened and maintained and the dangers of discord be minimized. And what is more, the political party which will assist by legislation the twin brothers, irrigation and colonization, will surely trench itself deeply in the affections of the people, to whom it would prove itself so true a benefactor. It would not only be a full dinner pail today, but tomorrow and the day after."

CORN BELT EXPOSITION OVER

All Expenses Paid, and a Net Surplus is Left in the Treasury.

MITCHELL, S. D., Oct. 8.—(Special Telegram.)—This evening the fourth corn belt exposition, which has been held for the last ten days, came to a close and it wound up in a blaze of glory. After the closing concert by Reed's Fourth regiment band of Sioux City, the crowd indulged in a jubilation over the great success of the exposition. Confetti was thrown and fireworks illuminated the business part of the city. The exposition has been a financial success, and there will be a goodly sum of money left in the treasury. It cost $100,000 to run the exposition from beginning to the end and $4,000 of the amount was subscribed by the business men of the city. The weather has been excellent since the opening day and the crowds have been large at every entertainment. Doubtless the palace will be held again next year.
