PROGRAM FOR THE EDITORS

National Convention Will Open with Reception at Orpheum Theater. EIGHT HUNDRED VISITORS ARE EXPECTED. Various Questions of Interest to the Newspaper Makers Will Be Discussed During Four Days of the Convention. The complete program for the convention of the National Editorial Association, which convenes here July 7 and continues in session until the night of the 11th, has now been agreed on by representatives of the association and the committee from the Press and Commercial clubs. Tuesday morning, previous to the first session of the national association, which begins that evening, the Nebraska State Editorial Association holds its annual business meeting. The members of the state association will remain for the national gathering and members of the small associations in the surrounding states have been invited to participate. At least 1,000 people will attend the convention, the larger part owners of papers in the smaller cities. The Orpheum theater has been secured for the business sessions and the Millard hotel will be headquarters. The New York delegation has already secured twenty-five rooms there. Saturday evening, after the convention closes, an excursion train in two sections will start for the Black Hills with a large number of editors. Four cars will also go to the Yellowstone park, taking in the hills on the return trip. The first tour will require one week and the latter three weeks. Begins with Reception. The program commences Tuesday evening in the Orpheum with a reception, where it is hoped that a large number of Omaha's prominent citizens will meet the editors. The convention will be called to order by Dr. George L. Miller, who will be followed by music by the Manawa band. Rev. T. J. Mackay gives the opening prayer; and is followed by Mayor Moores with an address of welcome, to which G. A. Willard, president of the association, responds. A quartet follows and then an address by Ross Ham-

RESTRAIN TAX COLLECTIONS

Northwestern and Omaha Roads Follow Burlington and Union Pacific. ALSO RESTRAIN CITY LEVY FOR 1904. Order Prevents Tax Commissioner from Making an Assessment Unless He Takes Valuations Fixed by State Board.

Tax Commissioner Fleming and City Treasurer Hennings have been enjoined, in a temporary restraining order issued by Judge Munger. First—From attempting to collect taxes from the Chicago & Northwestern, or the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha roads, on the valuations placed upon their property by the city, or at any higher rate than the valuation placed upon it by the state board. Second—From levying any taxes upon the property of such roads for the year 1904 on a higher valuation than is placed upon such property by the state board. The papers were served upon the two officials named yesterday morning. No date is set for the hearing on the order. Tax Commissioner Fleming was somewhat indignant when he read the order, and expressed himself to that effect. It was bad enough for the railroads to go into court to prevent the collection of the city taxes levied upon them, but they were going considerably too far, in his opinion, when they started out to prevent the city from levying taxes. City Attorney Wright said the case would involve the validity of the new revenue law and of the section of the charter governing the assessing of railroad property. The order did not go materially further, as he understood the matter, than similar orders secured some time ago by the Union Pacific and Burlington roads. The Northwestern and Omaha roads had not enjoyed the collection of the taxes for 1903 to the making of the levy, but were now following the lead of the other roads, and simply brought into a case, in addition, the laws passed since January. A new Cuming Street Building. Contract for a new building at Twenty-fourth and Cuming streets, to be built by Metz Bros., will be awarded Monday, and the work of building will be begun and carried on as quickly as the condition of the labor and material market will permit. The ground, which is at the southwest corner of the street intersection, is at present occupied by a two-story frame building, which will be torn down. The new structure will be 40x38 feet, one story high, with walls of gray pressed brick and Bedford stone trimmings. The east half will be occupied as a saloon and the west part will be rented for store purposes.

WILL LEARN HOW TO SHOOT

Policemen Will Go Out on the Broad and Open Prairie and Practice. In a few days, probably the first of next week, semi-monthly pistol practice will be indulged in by the members of the police department. This has been in contemplation for some time and now arrangements have about been completed for the first shoot. Chief of Detectives Dunn believes he will be able to get the grounds near old Fort Omaha for the shoot. The chief of detectives believes that all police officers should be good shots with the revolver. "If we get this practice inaugurated," he said, "it will not be long before a policeman will be able to tell whether he strikes the man he is shooting at or some one else's back. Every police officer should know how to shoot, and shoot straight, and for that reason we intend to hold this practice every two weeks. After a while, probably, we will offer prizes for the best shot."

TREASURY TO CLOSE ONE DAY

City Taxpayers Who Want to Save Penalty May Pay Before Wednesday. The city treasury will be closed Wednesday, July 1. The announcement is made at this time by Treasurer Hennings so that those who desire to save the 1 per cent penalty may get in line early Monday and Tuesday. The closing is necessary on account of most of the large property owners waiting until the last moment to pay up and after the 1st of July 30c will require a day to write up and balance the books.

SCRIP TICKET TO DISAPPEAR

Railroads West of Missouri Will Put In Interchangeable Mileage. Some of the Roads East of the River May Also Adopt Interchangeable Ticket Instead of Credential Book. An arrangement has been reached finally by all of the roads west of the Missouri river now using the scrip ticket to have an interchangeable mileage book. It will be for 2,000 miles. It is understood that it will also be put in use east of the river to supplant the present mileage credential book, although the roads using the present credential book are not agreed as to this. If it is put in use east of the river it is doubtful if the Rock Island and some of the other roads will combine in the use of it. The scrip ticket has never been popular, as it was clumsy and had few real advantages over the single ticket system and effected only a partial saving in cost. On the other hand, the credential book proved too popular. It cost only $1 and there was a rebate of 30c if the 2,000 miles were used up. Many bought the credential books where they would not have bought a mileage book and saved the $2 while they only paid $1 if they did not use the full 2,000 miles. Local travel over the lines using the credential books naturally increased, but the number of persons traveling on 2-cent mileage increased more rapidly than the total number of persons traveling. With the new mileage books there is an expenditure of $2 at the outset and only those who use mileage on a large scale will invest. So the purpose of the credential book and the scrip ticket will be subverted with the mileage book and the loss to the railroad and the inconvenience to the patrons will be done away with largely. The Rock Island is set against there being any change from the credential book and has given notice to the Western Passenger Association that it will withdraw from all services west of the Missouri river if the change is made. It has also announced that it will make the $2 rate between St. Paul and Chicago permanent if the change is made. This action has put somewhat of a quietus on the proposition for the interchangeable mileage book east of the river, although it is likely to be brought up again at almost any time.

WANTS TO SEE THE RECORDS

Attorney for Joy Sutphen Says School Board Refuses to Accommodate Him. The attorney for Joy Sutphen wants to get an opportunity to examine the records of the Board of Education and the officers of the High School. His right to do so will be decided by Judge Estelle after a hearing which will be held Monday. Yesterday when the case of Sutphen against the Board of Education was called for the board, while the hearing on the application of the attorney for the High school pupil was set for Monday. The attorney claims that he went to the office of the Board of Education and asked for the records of the work of the pupils of Sutphen's class and the memorandum kept by the officers of the school upon which the issuing and refusal of the diplomas were based and that he was not permitted to see these records. The secretary of the board said the public records were at the service of the attorney and these public records are all that he knows anything about. J. P. Breen, who was representing the board for the time, said there must be some mistake about the matter, as there are no records other than the public ones preserved, and the attorney for Joy Sutphen is asking for something which does not exist. Many to Go to Boston. The advance sale of tickets for the annual meeting of the National Educational Association at Boston in July is proving enormous, and the Wabash is making preparations to handle 10,000 people east from Chicago. It was hardly expected by the roads when they gave the unusually low rates that there would be a larger number than that.
