Mrs. Burns, colored, who resides in a Utile house beneath the Eleventh street visitiet, had Al Tancey of Council Bluffs arrested yesterday afternoon for rolling a barrel up in front of her door, thus shutting her out from the world and the Fourth of July. Yancey first went to the Burns home and asked for a bucket in which to set some beer, said the woman, and when that was refused he took a few turns at pro-fanity. Then she heard a thumping and a bumping and a big barrel with Tancey as the motor power, banged up against her door. Tancey was locked up, charged with disturbing the peace.

Prank Leads to a Fight.

Prank Leads to a Fight. While J. E. Graham of 1817 Leavenworth street, accompanied by a women friend, was walking along the street last hight Ted King, who lives at the Merchanis hotel, fired a revolver londed with blank cartridges at their feet. Graham took ex-ceptions to that style of larget practice and so informed King. King was ready for the fray and streed a blow at Graham, who retainsted. The fight wound up by King shooting Graham in the right cheek with a blenk cartridge at close range. The wound inflicted was very pellful but not serious. Police Surgeon Schleier dressed it and Graham left for his home.

Pair of Small Fires. A fire in the residence of Mrs. Jennis A. Briggs. 1136 South Twenty-minth street, cailed the department to that point about 10:30 last night. The damage resulting from the biase amounted to about £125, principally caused by burning off a part of the roof. Another call was received by the depart-ment about noon yesterday. The fire woo in the residence of Mrs. Bell, 502 South Eighteenth street, and was caused by her young son celebrating the Fourth by shoot-ing firecrackers in a bedroom. The only damage resulting was a few burned bed clothes. The department did not turn out, but Assistant Chief Windheim with his bucket brigade guenched the fames.
