FORTSMOUTH, England, July 13.—The prince of Wales visited the United States squadron this morning and breakfasted with Rear Admiral Cotton on the flagship Kearsarge. All the ships in the harbor and the channel flew, at Spithead, dressed ship, rainbow fashion, and fired a national salute as the prince boarded the American flagship.

The prince was received on the quarter-deck of Kearsarge by Admiral Cotton and his officers and the party descended to the admiral's cabin for breakfast, at which President Roosevelt and King Edward were escorted. Admiral Cotton subsequently escorted the prince of Wales around the ship, while the admiral's party descended to the admiral's cabin for breakfast, at which President Roosevelt and King Edward were escorted. AMERICAN HOIST ROYAL STANDARD. Admiral Cotton and Captain Hemphill, stood with their hands at the ship's side and in response to a signal from the flagmast at the American vessels hoisted the royal standard at the main and fired a salute of twenty-one guns. As the first gun boomed, all the ships in the harbor, including the British ships, the United States fleet flying of Spithead, dressed ship.

On the prince of Wales expressing a desire to inspect the ship, Captain Hemphill escorted him along the gun deck of the superstructure and also along the superimposed turrets and Captain Hemphill conducted him inside the forward double turret. The prince stooped to enter the lowest turret and mounted the ladder leading to the upper turret gun turret. The prince then returned to the deck, where he was met by the admiral and the other American ships. As the prince crossed the gangway Lieutenant William V. Pratt of Kearsarge shouted: "Three cheers for his royal highness, the prince of Wales!"

TENT ENDEAVOR COLLAPSES

Eight Thousand Young Christians Are Buried in Canvas Folds.

NEARLY A SCORE SUFFER INJURIES

Trenton, Nebraska, Girl Among Those Maimed in Catastrophe Which Overtakes Big Denver Convention.

DENVER, July 13.—The big tent endeavor, where the Christian Endeavor convention is being held, blew over this afternoon while more than 3,000 people were attending a meeting.

A feature that showed the strong religious feeling animating the victims was seen from the canvas folds, where the delegates all gathered around in the open air and held an impromptu prayer service. The convention was in full progress, and although there were signs of rain and some wind was blowing no trouble was anticipated by the management. The sides of the tent had been rolled up to admit air and this enabled the equal to lift up the big canvas as if it were a balloon. The gust of wind that turned the tent over came so suddenly that no preparation could be made to forestall the consequences. The wind swept under the tent, the roof of which immediately belched out like an immense sail. The smaller guy ropes were pulled from their places and in a moment more the big poles were drawn from the ground.

Immediately the 3,000 persons were in a panic, which was heightened by the screams of hundreds of women. It was then that Mr. Ramsey sprang to a chair and called loudly on the men to hold up the canvas and catch the large supporting poles as they fell. Hundreds of men sprang to their feet and successfully carried out the Chicago man's suggestion and thus averted a calamity.

As the poles fell more than 1,000 people seated near the walls of the tent escaped and formed themselves into a rescue corps. Women who had fainted and those suffering from slight injuries were quickly removed to the hospital tent.

List of Injured Losses.

Mrs. Powers, Trenton, Neb., knee injured and body bruised.

Mrs. Thurnburg, Denver, bad wound in forehead; serious.

Allie Muldoon, Denver, arm fractured.

J. C. Peters, Alamosa, Colo., scalp wound and shock.

Mrs. Mary Ellis, Denver, bruised about body.

Mrs. I. N. Johnson, Denver, badly bruised and fainted from fright.

K. C. Patterson, Alamosa, Colo., head hit by electric lamp; bad scalp wound.

Miss Etta Ward, 1518 West Taylor street, Chicago, large pole fell across back and badly bruised her.

Among those who are suffering from severe nervous shocks are: Miss Elizabeth Farver, Oregon, Ill.; Miss Minckel, New York; Miss Adams, Oregon, Ill.; Miss Nipper, Pueblo, Colo.; Miss Myrtle Moore and Miss Warren, Illinois; Miss Small, Denver.

Last Day Begins Early.

Sunrise services in five churches marked the opening of the fifth and last day of the twenty-fifth biennial international Christian Endeavor convention.

Large audiences attended these early meetings and thousands of Endeavorers pledged themselves anew to carry on the work which the organization has undertaken.

From 2:30 study classes were in session at six churches. "China" was the subject of discussion by the foreign mission study classes, of which Rev. Harlan P. Beach of New York was the leader. Rev. E. E. Chivers, D. D., of New York led the discussion of "Our Brother in Black" at the session of the home mission study class.

Mr. Chivers drew from colored preachers and professors the admission that not one colored preacher in the south is an educated man. The missionary schools, he thought, were the best means by which the colored preachers and teachers could be properly trained.

The recent lynchings were touched upon and Mr. Chivers got all the colored preachers to agree that all the lynchings were crimes of the most fiendish sort and called for the most severe punishment.

Rev. Dr. F. Powell of Washington, D. C., presided. Rev. John Roy Harris of Pittsburgh disengaged the League Problem. Rev. John Bacon Shaw of New York in an earnest address urged Christian Endeavorers to stand for the study of the bible in the public school. George A. Chase of Fall River discussed "The Rights of Capital and Labor."

J. S. Folk of St. Louis was to have given an address on "How Shall We Vote Municipal Politics?" but he was unable to be present and Rev. Ira Landtrich of Nashville, Tenn., spoke on the question.

POPE IS NOW

Practically Kept Alive on Stimulants

Chronology of Pope Leo XIII.

Born March 2, 1810. Christened Joachim Vincent Pecci. Entered a Jesuit college, 1818. Took first prize in chemistry and physics, 1828. Degree of Doctor of Divinity, 1831. Subdiaconate and diaconate, 1837. Made domestic prelate by Gregory XVI, 1837. Ordained priest, December 23, 1837. Governor papal province of Benevento, 1838. Bishop and papal nuncio to Brussels, 1843. Archbishop of Perugia, 1846. Cardinal priest, 1850. Camerlingo of the Roman church, 1877. Elected pope, February 20, 1878. Crowned with the tiara, March 3, 1878. Encyclical on Americanism, February, 1900. Last notable encyclical, October 30, 1902. Twenty-fifth anniversary election as pope, Feb. 20, 1903. Twenty-fifth anniversary coronation, March 3, 1903. Surpassed Peter's pontificate April 28, 1903. Taken with last illness July 3, 1903.

The coffin and case are now enclosed in a plain wooden box, which is covered with a red plaid ornamented with golden fringes and an embroidered cross, carried in and placed on the floor of the church, on the left side of the entrance to the choir chapel. A painter is at hand to trace the name of the pope and the Latin initials of the words "high pontiff."

Election of a New Pontiff.

The conclave will begin by the celebration of the mass of the Holy Ghost and the reading of the names of the cardinals, the dean of the sacred college, who will urge that the personal considerations and prejudice be laid aside, and that the cardinal proceed with due diligence, to provide the church with a new chief pastor.

How the Balloting is Done.

The first ballot will be taken the day after the conclave begins. It is all succeeding days of the conclave will be commenced by the cardinals hearing mass and receiving communion. Then breakfast and about 10 o'clock in the Sistine chapel, the first ballot will be taken.

Will Be an Italian.

But in the present case no such coercion is possible, though he would indeed be a wise man who could now predict the length of the coming conclave. That the next pope will be an Italian man, judging from the past, is set down as a probability.

One of the Preconations.

Before Australia was on the map the principles of the Australian system were outlined in the college of cardinals. The ballots are so folded that the tellers see only the name of the cardinal who voted for, but in a folded over corner, or pocket, written the name of the cardinal casting the vote, so that in case of dispute, or what in political conventions would be called a tie, the name of the cardinal is simply the name, years of his reign and date of death.

HOPEFUL FEELING OF PAST FEW DAYS SUDDENLY GIVES WAY TO DEEPEST GLOOM.

RELAPSE COMES WITH EARLY MORNING

All Day Long Patient Grows Progressively Nearer to His End.

DIZZY SPELLS ALARM HIS ATTENDANTS

Hallucinations Trouble Sufferer, Who Sees Fleeing Visions in Room.

LATE AT NIGHT FALLS INTO SEMI-COMA

Lies Unconscious for a Time, Then Wakes and is Kept Up by Stimulant Lagonni Gives Him.

Rome, July 14.—The pope has been somewhat restless and agitated since waking at 11 he again fell asleep till 9:30, but shortly dropped into a heavy sleep once more.

Rome, July 14.—At 4:45 a. m. the pope's end is near, his life now apparently being prolonged only by the free use of stimulants. Shortly before midnight he fell into a state of semi-coma and it was plain that he could not last long.

Doctors Admit Depression.

The bulletin issued at 9:15 is as follows: Up to midnight the pontiff remained tranquil, but afterward he exhibited signs of depression. A physical examination of the thorax showed the following: temperature 37.5; pulse 82; respiration 35, and temperature 38.5 centigrade.

Shortly after mid-day, however, he was attacked with dizziness and grew rapidly worse. Every few minutes the crowd of anxious watchers were informed of the progress of the disease and each message served to drive their long-cherished hopes further and further into the background.

Pontiff Sees Visions.

The pope's dizzy fits continued during the afternoon and on several occasions he was visited by hallucinations or visions.

He explained afterward that he thought he saw an undefined shadow moving about the room and slowly approaching his bed, whereupon he became agitated and called for his valet, Pio Centra, saying: "Pio, Pio, who is it? Who is it?"

Pontiff Obeys Orders.

Never before has the patient's weakness progressed as it did yesterday. For the first time since his illness the pontiff asked to have the shutters almost closed, as the light hurt his eyes, and at the same time, contrary to his custom, he begged to be left as quiet as possible.

Another noteworthy symptom of his weakening condition was the docility with which he took his medicine and nourishment. Previously Pope Leo has always been against doctors' prescriptions or anything being done that he did not desire.

Dr. Rousson was reported to have said in an interview: "The pope's pulse reached ninety pulsations and over. Just calculate how many times it has pulsated in ninety-three years and you will understand that in his present condition all his organs and functions must end by getting so tired that they will stop forever."

At the American embassy it is said no request has been received for information regarding the pope's condition, although King Edward has instructed the British ambassador, Sir Francis Bert, to telegraph twice daily the state of his holiness.

The Tribune last night printed a statement that the pope's real ailment was cancer of the liver. Dr. Mazzoni, however,
