DISCUSS PRESIDENT'S REPORT

Pharmacists Inclined to Side with Him on the Certificate Question.

WILLING TO PAY A DOLLAR FOR RENEWAL

Mrs. Fletcher Howard Reads a Paper on the Value of Attending Conventions of One's Profession.

The greater part of the business session yesterday morning of the Iowa State Pharmaceutical association was taken up in the discussion of the recommendations contained in President Baker's annual address of the night before. Action, however, on the recommendations was deferred until this morning's session.

Prof. Teeter of the Iowa state university was present and addressed the association on the question of granting certificates to graduates from colleges of pharmacy without examination. He took the ground that a graduate from any recognized school or college of pharmacy should not be required to take an examination before the state board before being granted a certificate.

Value of Conventions. An able paper by Mrs. Fletcher Howard, wife of the secretary of the association, on "Conventions" was read. It stressed the value of attending conventions as a means of keeping abreast of the latest in pharmacy.

The members of the Madelon Temple, Dramatic Order Knights of Amosness, have leased the third floor of the St. Joseph building at the corner of Broadway and Scott street for club rooms. They expect to have the rooms fitted up in time for the next meeting of the Grand Lodge next month.

Hon. Emmet Tinney, past exalted ruler of the Council Bluffs Chapter of E.K.S., who left yesterday for Baltimore to assist in the funeral of the late Judge of the Supreme Court, will visit in New York, Boston and other eastern cities for a month before returning home.

John Bertch, a German who had worked at a farm near Menden, this county, was taken to Mercy hospital last evening in the police ambulance, suffering from a heart ailment. He had been to Colorado for the benefit of his health and was on his way back to Menden when he suddenly became ill and applied to the police for assistance.

Albert Hayes, a 27-year-old, formerly of this city, but who has been living in Chicago for some time, was taken to the St. Joseph hospital last evening for treatment of a serious ailment. He was taken to the hospital in the ambulance which he had with him. He reported the matter to the police, but no trace of the young boy was secured.

Fire Wagon Strikes Buggy. The hook and ladder truck from No. 4 hose house, while responding to a fire at 20 Lincoln avenue last evening, ran into a buggy in which the daughter of N. P. Anderson was driving, while making the turn at the corner of Broadway and Franklin street. The pole of the truck struck the buggy, overturning it and breaking a wheel. Miss Anderson jumped and escaped without injury. The fire at 203 Lincoln avenue, the residence of Mrs. Mary Mackland, was caused by a gas stove overflowing. Damage to the kitchen walls to the amount of about $25 was done before the flames were extinguished.

No Trains Before September. President A. B. Stickney of the Chicago Great Western, who was in Council Bluffs for a few hours Tuesday night, announced that no attempt to run trains, either freight or passenger, would be made until the roadbed was in perfect condition. He expected that trains would be running about September 15.

President Stickney and party came in Tuesday night over the recently laid track, the trip between Fort Dodge and this city taking five hours and twenty minutes. After spending an hour in the city the party returned to Fort Dodge and from there will go to Chicago via Kansas City.

Interest over the election of officers became more manifest yesterday. The local members are anxious to see Max Morgan elected president. Howard E. Baker, the retiring president, is said to be willing to serve another term if the association desires it, while F. J. Gressler of Chapin, the first vice president, is said to be a candidate for advancement.

For secretary of the present incumbent, Fletcher Howard of Des Moines, while not an active candidate, having already served three years, is said to be willing to continue in office for another two years. Ben J. Kister of Sioux City is an avowed candidate for the secretaryship and is making an active campaign. Mr. Kister is one of the most active of the younger members of the association.

balance of the program of sports will be carried out. In the evening the visitors will be the guests of the local druggists at an entertainment in the Palm Garden at the lake.

A Wonderful Feast.

How is it possible for a man to perform Diavolo's marvelous and daring feat of "looping the loop" on a bicycle, which is now astonishing the country as a feature of the Forough-Bells circus?

Diavolo's own account of how it feels to ride the loop and how he came to undertake the feat is thus told by him: "Given the nerve, a thorough acquaintance with the action of the bicycle and very high speed on an irregular surface are all that are necessary. My nearest approach to a catastrophe was when some of the balls in the bearings broke and by resistance lowered my momentum. Now I never take the run without opening and examining all of the bearings."

"It is a peculiar fact that one does not realize that one is turning completely over. It is more like running swiftly up a steep hill and down the other side. It is necessary to have the track perfectly level, a banked track having proved a hindrance, so that one has to be quick in steering. If a straight course were taken the wheel would run off the track near the top of the circle. It requires quickness to turn at the right moment under a speed of forty miles an hour, but it has become easy to me."

I feel no nervousness now, though the nervousness of the large audience on the first night of the circus the first time I had done it before an audience I felt distinctly. The feat itself, however, did not bother me.

"I first ran the loop on an experimental track. The track was in some respects imperfect, but the trial was completely successful. I was led to undertake the feat because I was thoroughly familiar with the loop as an electrician. I was associated with Arthur J. Prescott, the inventor of the loop as applied to human traction, and familiarly with it made me willing to take the risk."

Alexander Goes to Mount Pleasant. Despite the fact that ten of the thirteen patients sent to the hospital for incubated at Mount Pleasant from this county have made their escape, another dipomaniac in the person of John D. Alexander was yesterday committed by Judge Wheeler of the district court to the same institution for two years.

For Iowa Missionary. CEDAR FALLS, Ia., July 15.—(Special.)—Friends of P. E. Haskell, a missionary at Salonia, European Turkey, are fearful that he and his children have been killed in the trouble between the Turks and Bulgarians. No word has been received from him for several months. The death of Mrs. Haskell in that city was hastened by the terrible carnage. Recent dispatches show that dynamite and murder are frequent, and no regard is paid to officials, ministry or to women and children.

Cowboy Makes a Disturbance. MARSHALLTOWN, Ia., July 15.—(Special Telegram.)—William Custer, a cowboy, who had been discharged from the Lucella Foreground Wagon crew, created a disturbance at the performance last night. He attempted to shoot the snare drummer, but by a lucky incident the gun failed to go off. He was arrested, but the affair almost caused a panic among the spectators.

Fire in Masonic Temple. An early morning fire starting in the basement of the Lloyd J. Lowry Wall Paper company at 1505 Jackson street, destroyed about $10,000 worth of wallpaper and damaged the building to the extent of $5,000. It was 1:40 when the flames were discovered bursting from the basement. They swept up into the first floor and were not under control until 3:30. The exact cause of the fire is not known, but a probable theory being that an electric wire might have set fire to the paper in the basement.

JOKER PUTS SHOT IN CANNON As a Result Passengers on Steamer Are Wounded, but Not Seriously. NEW YORK, July 15.—Chief Justice Alton R. Baker of the court of appeals has a small cannon at his residence, near Esopus, on the banks of the Hudson. It is sometimes used to salute passing steamers and it is supposed never to be loaded with anything but powder.

Insurance Question Settled. In the district court Judge McVey decided an interesting question today relative to the question of dangerous occupation for one insured. Josephine Mortensen sued the Central fire insurance society on a policy taken out by her husband which provided he should not engage in certain named dangerous occupations. He was killed in a peculiar manner. He was engaged in putting up a windmill and under a beam of the mill he had fastened dynamite and put the stick of dynamite in the tubing. It lodged there, and he struck the tubing with a hammer to jar the dynamite down. It exploded and killed him.

County Attorneys Meet. A state meeting of the county attorneys of Iowa was held today. The most important action taken was the appointment of a committee to work for a bill in the legislature making it a crime for any second-hand dealer or other person to buy from a minor goods that have been stolen, the purpose being to put a stop to the encouragement to petty thievery in cities.
