IOWA CITY, Ia., Aug. 6 .- (Special.) -- Mrs. Lena B. Hermann of Iowa City has received notice from Independence that she has won her suit against her stepson, Dr. John Hermann of Sloux City and that the court has set aside the deed conveying $30,000 worth of property to the physician. Mrs. Hermann alleged that her stepson secured the property, known as "Beulah Land," in Buchanan county, by undue in-fluence, exerted upon herself and her husband, and that for the valuable real estate she received only $800 worth of cheap land in Louisiana. R. J. Andrews, a prominent real estate man of Sloux City, was a party to the suit, inasmuch as Dr. Hermann averred that he had disposed of the property to Andrews.

REVISING FREIGHT CLASSIFICATIONS

Iowa Commission Expects to Bring it Into Harrony with the Western Freight Classification.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

DES MOINES, Aug. 6 .- (Special.) -- The State Board of Health has made a very important modification in the rule regardregular sessions will be held. Among those ing vaccination of school children. The who will appear on the program will be board has been working under a rule which Prof. F. C. Ensign, Hon. Jacob Sims, F. empowers or requires local boards to provide that children shall not be admitted to the public schools without modification. encampment of the Uniform Rank and the Montgomery and Mrs. E. K. Denny. The Jn most parts of the state this rule has been enforced, especially the past two years, when there has been a vast amount of smallpox in the state. In Lucas county, where this rule was in force, suit was brought against a school board to compel It to admit to the schools one who had not been vaccinated, and on the trial of the case in the district court Judge Vermillion decided that the local boards in making such a rule exceed their powers and that it is not within the province of the boards to perpetually keep children from the schools because of fallure to guard against smallpox. In accordance with this decision of the court and to prevent further complications in the matter, the state board today modified the general rule so that local boards shall enforce vaccination in schools only in times of epidemic or when there is actual danger from smallpox. This will avoid much of the friction which has been visible for several years on this subject, Revise Freight Classification. The Iowa railroad commissioners will soon call a meeting, when there will be a revision of the Iowa freight classifiing car, containing Nelson's family, and cation, and it is expected that the entire twenty-five Italian workmen. The train in classification will be gone over thoroughly. classification will be gone over the long of the classification as a whole is hed and the classification as a whole be changed to more nearly correspond with the western freight classification. The freight bureau makes a revision twice a year, but the Iowa revision was made more than a year ago and previously the last classification was published about five years ago. A great many changes were made from time to time by the Iowa rail-road commissioners, and these were embodied in the last revision; but there is bodied in the last revision; but there is complaint on the part both of the shippers and the carriers and a desire for a genal and the carriers and the carriers are defined and twenty parks: Little and twenty yards: C. Test a License Ordinance.

An appeal has been taken to the Iowa supreme court in the case of the City of Waukon against one Karl D. Fisk. He was an itinerant vendor of spectacles who refused to pay license as an itinerant merchant. On the trial in district court it was decreed that the defendant was not a merchant, but that he took orders for goods and sent the orders outside the state to be filled, and therefore the ordinance could not apply to such cases. The defendant was discharged, but the town has appealed the case to the supreme court to get a statement of the rights and privileges of cities and towns in regard to similar, ordinances. If this ordinance is void then there are many in the state in similar condition, and there can be very little restraint of itinerants doing business in the Fulliam Case Goes Over. It is learned that the case of charges against Dr. Fulliam of Muscatine, in connection with the smallpox cases there, will not be disposed of at the present meeting of the State Board of Medical Examiners. The matter was investigated, but no conclusions reached. The doctor is alleged to have failed to report smallpox, but it appears he and another doctor visited a patient, and while one said it was smallpox the other said it was chickenpox, and this is about all there is to the case.
