Condition of Mud Creek Reopens Old Debate on Sewers.

QUESTION OF COST SETTLES MATTER

People May Be Asked to Vote Bonds to Build the Big Drain that is Needed at Present-Magic City Gonnip.

Since complaint has been made to the State Board of Health regarding the alleged unsanitary condition of Mud creek, the attention of South Omaha officials has again been called to this matter. While the state board can make recommendations, it has no power to enforce the recommendations, and it does not look as if the complaint will have much weight with the packers and the stock yards

The packers and the stock yards company assert that every effort is made to keep the creek in a sanitary condition. It is also asserted that Iye is turned into the creek every day in order to purify the sluggish stream.

This complaint again brings the question of a big sewer to the river up. Some time ago the corporations agreed to pay one-half of the cost of an eight-foot brick sewer to the river, but the city council could not see its way clear to provide the money needed, and so the matter was dropped. There is some talk now of submitting a bond proposition at the November election to raise the money needed to pay for a sewer from Swift's to the river. Naturally the packers and the stock yards people say that they pay heavy taxes here, and that the city should provide sewers to carry off waste water at the yards and

With the rapid growth of the south end, and the increase in business at the yards and packing plants, something will most likely be done soon to provide larger sewits utmost, and some of the storm water sewers are being used for sanitary sewers. on account of the limited number of sanitary sewers. Some of the city officials seem to think that if the proposition to build a big sanitary sewer is rightly presented to the people, bonds for paying the cost would carry.

More Changes Predicted.

It was reported on the streets last night that the Fire and Police board proposed making more changes in the police departent before long. As was mentioned in The Bee last week, Chairman Van Sant sald that there was going to be a shaking up of dry bones. A start has been made, and the end has not yet been reached. One of the members of the board made the portance will come up. statement that harmony must prevail on the police force, even if a number of patrolmen had to be tried and discharged. The discipline at night has been bad for Briggs shot the animal. some time, but from now on a watch is to be kept, and an effort will be made to keep e night patrolmen awake. One plan that is being worked out is the installation of a system of patrol boxes. This will necessitate the officers on beats calling up at stated hours and reporting. A committee of the board will soon hold conference with General Manager Lane of the Nebraska Telephone company, with a view to ascertaining the cost of installing and maintaining about sixteen patrol boxes in the city. For years the matter of locating patrol boxes has been talked over by city officials, but nothing was ever done, as there was always a deficit in the pofice and fire funds. With the city now practically on a cash basis, it is thought that suitable arrangements can be made to have this special telephone service in-

Payement Badly Worn.

The asphalt pavement on Twenty-fourth street is just as bad now, if not worse, than it was before the repairs were made. It cost the city about $2,000 to make repairs on this street in the spring, and the holes that were patched up are still holding together. Other holes are being worn and the roadway is in very bad shape. This is especially so at Twenty-fourth and L streets. While there is money in the street repair fund to make repairs, now that the 1903 levy is available, the council does not feel like spending on-third of the levy to repair one street, when so many miles of unpaved streets need constant attention. Property owners are not inclined to sign a petition to repaye the street, and as there is not money enough in the general fund to pay the cost of repaving, it looks as if the council is practically helpless. The chances are that the council will let the street sione and thus possibly force the property owners into signing a petition for the repaving of the street. There has been some dedicating of the Jetter portion of the FLOCK street will be filed with the council and the city engineer as soon as the petition is presented. Several attempts have been made to have this street opened, but defects were always found with the petition. Now it is asserted that the petition to be presented is legal and the council is expected to go ahead and pass the necessary ordinances so that the street may b pened for traffic this fall.

Board Employs Attorneys,

The Board of Fire and Police Commissloners has employed F. A. Brogan and J. H. Van Dusen, both Omaha attorneys, to represent the board in the quo warranto proceedings now pending in the supreme court. As the mayor and city council do not recognise the Fire and Police board, it appeared to the members of the board that outside counsel would have to be obtained to make a showing before the court. The board has until August 18 to make an answer, but the case will not come up for hearing until October.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS IN OMAHA Poor Clares to Celebrate a Quarter of a Century of Work in Nebraska.

Concerning the work of the order which will soon observe the twenty-fifth anniversary of its establishment in Omaha the following letter has been given out:

Now the foremost and mest essential of all our spiritual duties consists in prayer. In fact, what can anyone do without prayer? Simply nothing. Prayer is the golden key of heaven. For it unlocks unto us the spiritual treasury of divine graces without which we can do nothing to secure for ourselves a happy eternity. A man who is careless about prayer is in a very critical condition. But a man who neglects prayer entirely is lost already. There is no hope for him.

If, therefore, prayer is so important, it follows necessarily that the science of prayer holds the highest place among all our spiritual attainments. Should not therefore, also exist individuals who excel as specialists in this particular department? Why not?

Hence, it is that Almighty God who dispenses His talents, and to whom He wishes, calls upon special souls to devote themselves wholly to this particular exercise. And yet, such vocations are, as a rule, not rightly understood, and sometimes even despised. To leave the world entirely, to ahut oneself up in a living prison, and to give oneself wholly to a life of penance and retirement, is looked upon by many as sheer madness and utter waste of time. People seem to appreciate the value of the lives of the Little Sisters of the Foor, Reporting Lights Out.

All police officers have been directed to pay particular attention to street are lights in the future and make a written report to Chief Briggs of the location of lights not burning at sight and also of the number of hours the lights are out. Chief Briggs has been directed to send these reports to the chairman of the street lighting committee of hours the lights are out.

The method of distributing tickets for tomorrow's coronation is much criticised. Americans on going to Cardinal Gibbons found he had only ten tickets for ladies while at the Vatican they were told they must apply to the American college. There they found that the college authorities had not even received those to which they were entitled for the students. Similar complaints are made by foreigners of all nationalities and by the foreign cardinals themselves, who have not received the number of tickets to which they consider they have a right. Today hundreds invaded the Vatican,

Pope Honors Gibbons. Cardinal Gibbons today expressed his regret at not seeing the late pope before his death. "But Plus X is a worthy successor," he said. "I was struck with Cardinal Sarto's appearance immediately on his entering the conclave. He reminded me strangely of Pius IX, his simple, dignified bearing giving a truly apostolic exterior. His simple, strong exterior corresponds with his spiritual, intellectual character. He is an ideal pastor, commanding love and veneration at first sight."

Cardinal Gibbons yesterday had a second private audience with the pope, being the only "foreign" cardinal thus privileged. "The pope received me most affectionate ly," he related, "bidding me sit near him and holding my hand during the greater part of the interview.

"The pope smilingly recalled having seen tiny American flags in the crowd in St Peters when he gave his first papal blessing after election, and said: 'America is the youngest, but strongest and most prom ising daughter of the church.'

"He expressed a hope that American Catholicism will progress during his pontificate as much as during that of his predecessor, and said the strenuous American Catholics set a splendid example to Euopeans. "He authorized me to give his solemn apostolic blessing to the flock." The pope closed the audience by cordially blessing the cardinal and all Americans. Cardinal Gibbons refused to express an opinion about the pope's attitude toward Americanism, calling it a "much abused, misinterpreted word."

Then he added: "I think the pope is favorable to all true progress, is capable of assuming the initiative in great democratic reforms and will avoid political is There are specialists to be found in every branch of arts and sciences. Cardinal Gibbons qualified this, however, by saying that all conjectures are premature, the only thing certain being that the choice was an evident inspiration of the Holy Ghost.

American Cardinal Better.

The great heat and limited accommodations during the conclave caused a gastric trouble from which the cardinal still suffers, but today he said there was a slight improvement.

Today the cardinal went for a drive. After the coronation of Plux X, tomorrow, he intends to go for some days' rest to Castle Gandolfo, on the beautiful lake of Albano near Rome, where the American college has made summer quarters. The pope in order to aid the Catholic university at Washington has promised Rector O'Connell that he will shortly issue a bull granting the apostolic benediction to all the faithful participating in the yearly collection which the archbishops and bishops in the United States will raise for the uni-

Merry Del Val to Succeed Rampolla. The report that Mgr. Merry Del Val, the Spaniard, who is soon to be made a cardinal, is destined to be the papal secretary of state, in succession to Rampolla causes consternation among the liberal Catholics. He is an extremist among the irreconcilcables, and he hates the United States, his most active hatred dating from the war with Spain.

Until now there has been a persistent report that Cardinal Vincenzo Vannurelli was to be appointed secretary of state.

the advertising agent of the Union Pacific system of this city:

The efficacy of able and arduous advertising is strikingly apparent in the status of the Chicago, Union Pacific & Northwestern system. This system is the admitted leader in the great west if not in the American states generally. There is nothing small or strained on its advertising policy, and the easily distinguished results should not be surprising. In Mr. Charles G. Hall the Chicago & Northwestern has a tireless genius who is making a most notable record. Mr. Hall had fine schooling in the Queen & Crescent general offices.
