York had an average surplus above their required reserve of $16,000,000. During August, 1908, they had a surplus reserve in their vaults of $22,000,000. In the meantime the trust companies in that city increased the reserve in their vaults $15,000,000. I have good reason to believe, in fact, I have every positive assurance that banks generally have safeguarded themselves materially. The shock that was felt in every central reserve city and promptly communicated to every local money center from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast and from the chain of lakes to the guif on September 29, 1902, as was then predicted, has proven a blessing. Wherever that ghock was felt a little more care has been exercised that it be not repeated in 1902. I am not saying that it will not be repeated. I am making no prediction. I am simply saying that during August, 1903, the banks of New York, and I believe the banks throughout the country, were in better condition to face the annual demand for money with which to move crops and with which to purchase the winter supply of coal than they were twelve months ago.

Balance of International Trade.

Assuming, then, that we are in comparative health and in no imminent danger of discass. E want to invite your attention to the importance of a forward step. I have already stated that we are the greatest producers in the world. The balance of trade in our favor nearly equals and occasionally exceeds that of all other favored nations on the map. We sell $1.000,000,000 per annum to Europe. Twenty per cent of the people of the world will not always consume. In per cent of our surplus. The United Kingdom, with only 3 per cent of the people of the world, will not always consume 40 per cent of our gross surplus. This is not a political gathering, and we are not expected to have political desires; but we are expected to have political desires; but we are expected to have pretty good business sense, and to that business sense I make appeal when I ask, how shall we applie more markets? There are three ways suggested. One is to voluntarily and gratuitously set our doors more or less widely alar and permit more freedom of importation, in the hope that other countries will set their doors more or less widely alar and give us greater freedom of exportation. Some of you gentlemen are importers, and after this meeting adjourns I would like to inquire whether you, in making your purchases abroad, give preferences to those countries which favor us with an open door, or do you buy where you can obtain the desired article to the best advantage? Do you purchase your slike, for instance, in Great Britain because she buys 1600,000,000 of our gross exports without the imposition of customs duties; or do you purchase your slike, for instance, in Great Britain because she buys 1600,000,000 of our gross exports without the imposition of customs duties; or do you purchase your slike, for instance, in Great Britain because she buys 1600,000,000 of our gross exports without the imposition of customs duties; or do you purchase in France and Germany, notwithstanding teriff exactions upon goods coming from the Ship Subsidy Bill. Another way suggested is to trade com-pliments—to exchange trade privileges—to set our doors somewhat ajar for the spa-

TALK OF NEW LEGISLATION Congressman McCleary of Minnesots Says Changes Must Be Made in

Financial Laws. MINNEAPOLIS, Sept. 2 .- Congressman T. McCleary has returned from a trip to Hawaii. The congressman-is a member of the appropriations committee. He said in regard to the attitude of the next searency questions:

Every careful student of American affairs knows that this is the one great civilized country in the world which experienced financial panics. When I say financial panics I mean a different thing from commercial depression men curtail their business and do not care to use capital.

In a financial panic, on the other hand, men engaged in legitimate enterprises and with their affairs in perfectly solvent condition are unable to obtain at the banks the credit to which they are accustomed and entitled. Through this condition perfectly solvent concerns are driven to the wall. Thoughtful men all over the country realize that our financial system has not yet been perfected. The difficulty is that among financial experts there is a marked disagreement as to what should be done. It seems certain that certain phases of the question will come up in congress within the next year.

CARTER MEDICINE CO., New York City

LITHIA WATER

Thousands of people afflicted with this hideously disfiguring disease are daily suffering the most excruciating mental anguish, believing they are doomed to carry its awful scaling blotches until death relieves them. The medical profession, and the greatest skin specialists of the world have always considered the disease as absolutely incurable.

Now positively cured by that won? derful medicament known as

MR. W. B. JENNISON, of the National Express Co., Chicago, Ill., suffered the horrible and agonizing tortures of this disease for more than twenty years. The best skin specialists of Chicago, New York and Philadelphia pronounced his case as incurable. The terrible blotches of this disease had covered his face, head, hands and entire body. His appearance was so repulsive that he had not been able to attend any social or public gathering for years. Mr. David Robinson, head clerk of the People's Drug Store, in Chicago, who had cured himself of a bad case of Paoriasis of ten years standing, with the D. D. D. Remedy, prevailed upon him to try this proparation. Mr. Jennison, speaking of his treatment with this mary clous medicine vays: - "I commenced the use of the D. D. Remedy, and during the first two months I saw little, if any improvement, but was persuaded by Mr. Robinson to continue its use. I persevered in using the remedy, and I now devoutly thank God that I did. For the first time in twenty years I am free from the awful, scaling plotches of this terrible disease. Once more I am free from the bondage of these torments of hell, and can again make a presentable appearance before my fellow men. I earnestly beg every sufferer from a disease of the skin to immediately begin treatment with the D. D. D. Remedy. Use it-persevere with it-stick to it-and you will find that it will cure you. Specialists said I had the worst case ever recorded. I know that what cured me will cure anyone.

We unhesitatingly give this remedy our highest endorsement. The marvelous and effective work; the wonderful cures it is making in this community are simply astonishing.
