No Advice for Fleming.

The State Board of Equalization and Assessment met this morning with Tax Commissioner Fleming, City Attorney Wright and T. J. Mahoney of Omaha at the request of the latter, who desired an expression from the board as to the taxation of credits and debits. The matter was discussed for some time, the decision from the board being that it was none of its affair to get in the game at this time. The members further advised Mr. Fleming that it was in all probability his duty to take the advice of the city attorney of Omaha in the matter. Mr. Wright's opinion was that the law in the case meant for the ssors to tax the net credits.

The board will not be a board officially until the lath day of December, when it is supposed to meet and organize, consequently the talk today was merely informal. It is the opinion of the board, however, that the matter discussed was a local affair and it had nothing to do with it anyhow. If the jobbers of Omaha don't like the clause in the law it is the board's idea that they go into the courts, and as this is to come sooner or later, the members believe that Omaha might just as well start the ball.

Court Reduces Sentence.

The supreme court today, for the first time in years, reduced the sentence of a man convicted in the lower court, and incriminals who escaped and expressed sympathy for the little fellows who get caught. The case was that of William H. Palmer, who was sent to the penitentlary for seven years because he was convicted of stealing a steer of the value of $20. The suprem court reduced the sentence to two years. Judge Sullivan wrote the opinion and in his reference to the genteel oriminal and the small criminal he said: The sentence—seven years for the lar-ceny of a stray steer worth $20—is excessive and almost Draconian. It should be re-duced and made to fit the crime. The trial court, in adjusting the penasty, acted within the limit prescribed by the statutes; it was not bound to exercise clemency; it was under no obligation to extend to the rude frontiersman the tender consideration it is customary to accord to those genteel persons whose criminal operations are conducted with more refinement and on a larger scale. It was, however, its duty to inflict punishment in some degree proportionate to the crime. This was not done. There is a lack of logical relation between the wrong and the punishment, and under section 50% of the criminal code it becomes the duty of this court to readjust the sentence. We know that the validity of this statute was denied in Barney against State, 45 Neb., 525, and in Fanton against State, 50 Neb., 524, but after much reflection we are fully convinced that these decisions are unsound. The sentence will be reduced from seven years to two years.

The prominent attorney who was down here yesterday from the north part of the grounds upon which to establish an injunction suit, evidently read the records wrong. He claimed that the committee of the whole of the house recommended that aside from the twenty acres of land to be donated by the town getting the school, it be required to put up a bonus of $10,000, and that in the enrolling room this amendment was lost and the bill did not come before the house as the committee recommended it should.

That $10,000 bonus matter was stricken out of the bill upon a motion by Representative Warner of Lancaster and the journal of that day's proceedings so records.

Plumbers Must Pay.

At last the plumber has met defeat. The supreme court did it today in the case wherein the Pomerene company of Idncoin appealed from the decision of the lower court that granted Mrs. Mary L. by falling through a trap door in her home, that the plumbers had left open.

Perkins county prosecuted an action in the district court against Wilcox and his bondsmen because of Wilcox's alleged failure to pay over to the county certain fees claimed to have been collected ing: by him as county clerk. Wilcox claimed to have made a final settlement to the pated in their grand parade, which was county board covering the matters menwitnessed by a crowd of people all along tioned in the petition and for that reason to state that, on the contrary, it is all and the county was estopped from recovering. Late this evening the supreme court granted a writ of mandamus, returnable November 4, to C. W. McComb of Wilsonville against the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad to compel it to supply him with cars in which to ship out grain. In the prayer for the writ McComb stated that at Wilsonville was an elevator and his own grain bin, and that the railroad had discriminated against him in the matter of shipping facilities. He had asked the company to give him two cars when it gave the elevator three, but that during a recent week he was allowed one car and the elevator was givn twenty three. He was then given to understand, he said, that the company would furnish him one car a week. His prayer stated that such discrimination, kept up, would ruin his business. Mr. Bryan in reply said that not 1 cent of the money would be allow either his wife or his children to receive unless Mrs. Bennett were willing. He, however did intend to ask the court to decide the validity of the bequest so that in case it was declared legal he could distribute the money among educational and charitable institutions.

SPRINGFIELD, O., Oct. 21 .- (Special.) After a separation of fifty-three years Mrs. J. P. Harrington of 7 Hennessy avenue this city, and her sister, Mrs. Samuel Tigard, of Crete, Neb., are here together, and are for the first time in their lives getting acquainted. Mrs. Tigard was born sixty years ago at Quebec, Canada. Mrs. Harrington was born seven years later at Tunnelton, Va.

When Mrs. Harrington was 9 months old her parents died within a fortnight of each other. The children were taken by different families. Mrs. Tigard went to live with a Methodist minister, while an Irish priest raised Mrs. Harrington and her brother William. The minister, like all Methodist ministers do, every three or four years changed his charge.

The children became widely separated and in time lost track of one another. The girls grew to womanhood and Mrs. Tigard married soon after moving to Nebraska. Mrs. Harrington came to Springfield and her brother William made his home with her for several years. He was of a rumbling disposition and while out west learned that the other sister lived in Nebraska. He informed Mrs. Harrington and after laborious correspondence Mrs. Tigard was
