UNION PACIFIC WINS CASE

Secures Decision from Supreme Court in McDonald Land Action.

ALL TITLES QUIETED AND OWNERS SAFE

Ruling of Lower Court is Reversed and Bridge Held to Be a portion of the Railway System.

A decision which is of importance to several hundred farmers in the western part of Nebraska, and especially so to the Chion Pacific railroad since it wins the case, has been handed down by the sureme court. The decision of the the title to several hundred sections of land on which some of the finest farms in the state are located.

The decision affects what is known as the sinking fund lands, which were sold for settlement by the rallroad away back in the '70s. The land was granted to the railroad by the government, and a stipula tion was made in the grant that the land was all to be held within three years after the entire completion of the Union Pacific. The word "entire" in the contract was the word on which hinged the decision of the case in the supreme court.

A number of years ago, in fact, early in the '70s, Henry S. McDonald, who maintained that the terms of the grant had not been complied with by the railroad company, settled upon a quarter section of the land in Buffalo county, taking advantage of the homestead act. This action on the part of McDonald led to a suit being filed by the railroad to recover possession & of the land. At the same time that Mc-Donald settled several other persons also took up homesteads on the tract, and it was agreed between the railroad and McDonald that on the decision of the McDonald case should hinge the decision of all the rest, so that only one suit was filed.

The case came up for trial in the lower court and the railroad, through its attorney, offered as a defense that the terms of the grant had been complied with, and had all been sold

SEASONABLE FASHIONS

32 to 42 bust-Plain Shirt Walst with Fancy Stock Colar, 4577-To be made with or without the applied box plait: Plalu shirt waists are being shown by the smartest dealers and have an undenlable style of their own, besides being a relief after the somewhat over-elaborated sorts which have come into vogue. This one is adapted to wool, slik and cotton waistings and can be made either with a plain hem at the front, as illustrated, or with an applied box plait at the center in regulation shirt waist style. The pocket also is optional. As shown, the material is figured velveteen in gray and white. The cuffs and pocket lap are piped with plain gray and the fancy stock combines white with gray vel-

The waist is made with a fitted lining, which can be used or omitted, as preferred, and consists of fronts and back. The back is drawn down snugly at the waist line, but the fronts blouse slightly over the belt. In the left front is a pocket with a pointed lap, which matches the cuffs. The sleeves are the new ones, that are snug above the elbows and full below and are gathered into deep cuffs. At the neck is a fancy stock, which closes at the center back.

The quantity of material required for the medium size is 414 yards 21 inches wide, 3% yards 27 inches wide or 2% yards 44 The pattern, 4577, is cut in sizes for a 72, 24, 36, 38, 40 and 42-inch bust measure.

For the accommodation of The Bee readers these patterns, which usually retail at from 25 to 50 cents, will be furnished at a nominal price, 10 cents, which covers all expense. In order to get a pattern enclose 16 cents, give number and name of pattern

METROPOLITAN

MAGAZINE for December

R. H. RUSSELL, Publisher

N ISSUE of extraordinary beauty and interest is the Christmas (December) METROPOLITAN MAGAZINE. While space will not permit more than a I brief mention of the more striking features of this great holiday issue, a sufficient number of items from its contents may be quoted to give some hint of its charm. This number is in effect a demonstration of the advancement of reproductive methods and the art of printing. It is profusely illustrated in color. There are some seventy-five pictures, most of which are of full-page size. No more attractive periodical has been offered the discriminating public during this holiday season than THE CHRISTMAS METROPOLITAN.
