

ALL INVITED TO BANQUET

Must Bow to the Bryan Creed, However, When They Get There.

NO OTHER FRILLS ALLOWED AT FEAST

Attorney for Father Murphy Files a Brief in Answer to That of Bishop Bonacum in Famous Church Litigation.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, Jan. 11.—(Special.)—The program for the Bryan dinner and reception to be given on the evening of January 18 has been completed and these are the speakers and their subjects:

James Manahan, toastmaster. "We Have Kopt the Faith," Hon. W. H. Thompson, Grand Island.

"Principles, Not Men," Hon. W. D. O'Connell, Kearney. "Just Democrats: That's All," H. B. Fiehrly, South Omaha.

"The Signs of the Times," Hon. A. C. Shellenbarger, Alma. "Fusion, Good and Bad," Hon. C. J. Smyth, Omaha.

"The Salt of the Earth," G. W. Berge, Lincoln.

Notwithstanding the banquet announcement was a challenge to the Jacksonians for a fight and to other conservative democrats who were desirous of harmony in the party ranks. It is expected that probably 500 people will be in attendance. There is no doubt that many of the Jacksonians will be here, as they have intimated as much, even though Chairman Hall of the democratic state committee was the only Lincoln democrat present at the Jacksonian banquet, with the exception of the Hon. Andrew Jackson Sawyer, and it was eminently fitting that he should be present on such an occasion. Every democrat in the state is invited to be present at the reception and banquet, but it is distinctly understood that it is a reception to William J. Bryan, and by William J. Bryan democrats. If the gold democrats come, they come, according to the invitation sent out, with this understanding:

The dinner is to be served at the Lind hotel and is to be an old-fashioned affair, with everything on the table when the eating begins. After the guests are seated nothing will be brought to the table but coffee and such things. It is expected that Mr. Bryan will arrive home Saturday night.

Murphy Files Brief. Rev. Father William Murphy of Seward today filed in the supreme court his brief in answer to the brief filed some time ago by Bishop Bonacum in the suit wherein the latter is trying to oust Father Murphy from the parsonage and church at Seward.

The brief of Father Murphy recites that application for an injunction is not the proper proceeding to be brought by the bishop; that Bishop Bonacum had no right to try him; that he had no right to excommunicate him, and furthermore that he had appealed to the higher court of the church from the decision of Bishop Bonacum and no decision had been handed down from the church.

County Assessor Miller has prepared his list of assistants to present to the county commissioners for confirmation and of the thirty-eight the city of Lincoln gets eleven. Mr. Miller will instruct all of his assistants that there will be no evasion of the law and that his provisions will be carried out to the letter. The men chosen are:

For the city, Thomas Carr, J. C. Pentzer, E. T. Roberts, R. H. Corner, George Knopp, Theodore Hurl, Joseph Fetters, John G. Hovvers, Adam Eax, Samuel McCloy and S. J. Dennis; Buda, Vandeweghe; Ceterville, A. J. McClain; Denton, A. J. Hoever; Elk, A. L. Ivary; Grant, H. Greenberger; Garland, A. M. Trimble; Highland, George Winsonberg; Little Salt, G. W. McFarlane; Lancaster, J. W. Smith; G. N. McFarlane; W. W. Bertrand; Middle Creek, T. L. Voss; Mill, J. E. Pierce; Nemaha, R. E. Stall; North Bluff, George Herr; Oak, Charles Leckie; Olive Branch, Herman Primmer; Pawnee, Ernest Franz; Rock Creek, H. Knudson; Sallilo, A. Schmutz; Stockton, O. H. Boesetter; Stevens Creek, Charles Hall; West Oak, Alfred Graham; Yankee Hill, Homer Williams; South Pass, W. Leffler; Webster, J. W. Miller; West Lincoln, E. H. Jenkins; Waverly, J. D. Dickinson.

Malone's Protrage Killed. Detective James Malone received word today that James J. Leo had been shot and killed at Webster, B. D. No names were given. Leo is one of the trio of bad men whom Malone had cooped up in jail here for a long time about a year ago, but while he knew they were desperate fellows he was unable to find where they were wanted. After serving their terms in the county jail for vagrancy they departed. Leo was best known as John J. Brennan, another of the crowd, is awaiting trial at Sioux City for safe blowing, while Standish has disappeared.

Fowler Starts Debate. Superintendent Fowler is now endeavoring to conduct a debate by correspondence among the various county superintendents.

The questions he has chosen are: "Resolved, that the transfer of section 4a, subd. 5, school laws should be repealed;" and, "Resolved, that section 11, subd. 4, relative to teachers' certificates, should be repealed."

In a circular letter sent out by Mr. Fowler and Deputy McBrien the superintendents are requested to send in from 100 to 200 words on either side of the questions. The best arguments submitted will be arranged for and against and will be published. The negative side has the right to offer amendments or substitutes in lieu of repeal and the affirmative on the first question is recommended not to forget consolidation.

Governor Mickey left his afternoon for Osceola, where tomorrow afternoon he will attend the funeral of S. S. Shell, one of that city's oldest citizens, who died Sunday. Mr. Shell for a number of years had been in the brick manufacturing business and was a close personal friend of the governor. He left a widow.

Seeks Pardon for Bush. Attorney L. C. Burr of Lincoln was at the governor's office this morning in behalf of Ernest Bush, who is now in the penitentiary for life for the killing of Thomas Bailey about five years ago. Mr. Burr acted as attorney for Bush through the lower and the supreme courts. The governor has the case under advisement.

One Insurance Company Pays. Prospects are good now that there will be no further contest from the insurance companies against the new revenue law. This is based on the action of the New York Life Insurance company, which this morning paid to Insurance Deputy Pierce 2 per cent of the amount of premiums received in Nebraska during 1933, amounting to $2,232,572. It has been the general impression here that the companies would attempt to compel Deputy Pierce to issue licenses without the payment of the 2 per cent tax by mandamus proceedings, but it is believed now that the action of the New York Life company will be followed by others and there will be no further attempt to discredit the paramount work of the last legislature.

Invite Congressional Committee. In the call sent out by Chairman Lindsey for a meeting of the republican state committee the chairman of each congressional committee is invited to attend and take part in the proceedings. This was done that ideas might be exchanged for the good of the party. The number of delegates to the national convention is just double the representation in the national congress, two delegates from each congressional district and four elected at large. As both the congressional conventions and the state convention will have the same duties to perform in this line, it was thought that a meeting together would be of benefit to the organization of the party throughout the state. The committee meeting is set for January 20, and as that is the date the farmers will be holding about fourteen state meetings here there is no reason why the attendance should not be unusually large.

Roosevelt Club Convention. A resolution was adopted by the Roosevelt league tonight to request each congressional district to send five delegates to Lincoln on January 20 to meet at the Lindell hotel for the purpose of calling a state convention of all the Roosevelt clubs of the state, to be held the evening before the state convention in the same place in which that convention is held. This meeting is also to fix the basis of representation. The constitution and bylaws as previously outlined were adopted. Speeches were made by Superintendent Greene of the Lincoln office and Norris Brown and Judge Rees.

Chamberlain at Old Tricks Absconding Tecumseh Banker Swindles an Havana Acquaintance.

TECUMSEH, Neb., Jan. 11.—(Special.)—The officers here have received a copy of the Havana (Cuba) Daily Post of December 17, which contains the information that Charles M. Chamberlain, the absconding cashier of the defunct Chamberlain banking house of this city, has, up to a recent date, been making his home in that city, and has got in some of his fine work there. He was known there by the name of Charles M. Clark, and according to the Post's story has sailed from that city to Tampa, Fla. The story as printed in the Post follows:

A well known American business man of this city has received a letter in which it is stated that Charles M. Chamberlain, who was remembered as a prominent figure around the principal hotels during the greater part of the past year. He lived for a long time in this city, in a house and gave out that he was a cattleman searching for investments. He always appeared to be prosperous, if not well-to-do, spending money in the cafes and other public places.

J. O. Funkhouser of Hagerstown, Md., the author of the accusing letter, came to Havana last spring and looked for the man who had come to buy. He traveled all over the island with Clark, apparently knowing him before he came to Cuba, and the two men considered the advisability of going into business together. Mr. Funkhouser's letter states that after he had left the city without securing what he desired, Clark communicated that he had found a suitable tract and offered to share it with him.

The offer is said to have been accepted and to sum more than $500 sent to Clark to close the deal. Mr. Funkhouser writes that from that day, several weeks ago, he has never heard another word from Clark directly, but has been informed by other parties that he had sailed from Havana for Costa Rica. The money sent to Clark represented a considerable part of the fortune of Mr. Funkhouser, and the loss is said to have been almost completely made away with it.

Investigation by the Post reporter elicited evidence that Clark did not sail for Costa Rica, although he so announced to his acquaintances in the city. A gentleman well acquainted with Clark states that he left here for Tampa. The latter was also made in the Post reporter that Clark was not his real name, as he came to this country a fugitive from justice. He is charged with having been concerned with the wrecking of a bank at Tecumseh, Neb., and another at Elmira, N. Y.

The Chamberlain bank closed its doors in August, 1922, the illegal use of its funds by the cashier, Charles M. Chamberlain, causing it to fail almost completely. Mr. Chamberlain left the city between two days and has not been heard of since a week or two after, when he was seen on the streets of St. Joseph, Mo. The bank went into the hands of a receiver and 7 per cent interest has ever since been deposited. A reward of $1,200 is offered for the return of Chamberlain to this city.

New Officers at Blair. BLAIR, Neb., Jan. 11.—(Special.)—The change in Washington county affairs took place last Thursday and everything at the court house is moving smoothly now.

E. Russell, republican, succeeds Henry Faber as treasurer, and Faber takes F. W. Kenny's place as county clerk; C. G. Marshall, re-elected as county judge; Claus Mencke, re-elected as sheriff; both Democrats, and A. W. Cook, republican, and Henry Hill, republican, succeed themselves as county superintendent and surveyor, respectively. The new sheriff, republican, is the clerk of the district court; Miss Mabel Gains, who has been assistant in the county clerk's office for eight years, goes into the treasurer's office as deputy, and Tom Ostromer, former in the Blair Courier office for eight years, will be County Clerk Faber's assistant. Ostromer was the first newspaper man that has ever shifted from the print shop to a court house job in this county. The County Board of Supervisors stands six democrats and one republican.

Woman Destroys Mortgage. TECUMSEH, Neb., Jan. 11.—(Special.)—Hon. L. A. Varner of Sterling, an attorney and broker, as well as editor of the Sun of that town, had an embarrassing experience one day recently. It seems that Mr. Varner held a mortgage and a note against a German farmer of his locality. On the day in question the farmer and his wife called at Mr. Varner's office, apparently to consult with him. They asked to see the papers and the lawyer produced them from his safe. He handed them to the woman, who started toward the stove with them. Mr. Varner observed her intentions and endeavored to step forward and intercept her, but as he did so the farmer gathered him in his embrace and held him until the woman had consigned the documents to the fire. A lively scene ensued. It is understood that the matter has since been fixed up between the parties.

Fowler Enters a Desist. LINCOLN, Jan. 11.—To the Editor of The Bee: State Superintendent Fowler has formally expressed his appreciation of the good work done by every one of the forty-four outgoing county superintendents in the different counties of this state.—The Bee.

I have done no such thing, either formally or informally. On the contrary, those who have worked with me know that my weakness lies in the opposite direction. Rarely do I express any appreciation whatever for duty well performed; I take it for granted. I am not responsible for any "take" interviews, even when quotation marks are used, and you may recall my threat of a few weeks ago to ask the courts to send a writ of mandamus to compel three of these outgoing county superintendents to file with this department their annual reports due last July.

W. K. FOWLER, State Superintendent.

No Case Against Gable. PAPHILLION, Neb., Jan. 11.—(Special Telegram)—Charles Gable, the young man arrested here Friday night and alleged to have attempted criminal assault upon three small school girls, was brought before Judge Wilson today for a hearing. County Attorney Patrick did not consider the case strong enough against the young man and ordered him discharged from custody. Gable denied all the charges made by the girls, claiming they were unduly excited on account of his asking them the road to South Omaha. The young man's parents, residents of South Omaha, came out yesterday and have been working in their own behalf. Gable returned home with them, vowing he would not again come to Paphillon.

Grand Island Wants Tournament. GRAND ISLAND, Neb., Jan. 11.—(Special.)—The fire department of Grand Island at a recent meeting resolved to go after the next annual convention of the Nebraska State Volunteer Fireman's association, and a canvas of the business men has resulted in ascertaining that the necessary funds will easily be forthcoming. The delegation from this city will strive earnestly, therefore, to secure the next convention.

Whitlock, who ran away from the farm of Richard Moore at Wood River with one of Mr. Moore's best teams, and was later apprehended, was given a preliminary hearing on the charge of horse stealing and bound over to the district court. It is expected that he will plead guilty before the district court this week and ask for clemency.

Resents Insult with Knife. TECUMSEH, Neb., Jan. 11.—(Special.)—A disgraceful affair took place on the streets of the village of Crab Orchard, in this county, one evening recently. A crowd of boys and young men has congregated in front of the hall, waiting for the time to go to a show. They were amusing themselves in pushing passersby and one another off the walk. One young man, named William Street, pushed another, James McGrath, off the walk, and the latter became furiously enraged. He resented the insult by attacking Street with a knife. As a result a deep gash was inflicted over Street's left eye and down the side of his nose, splitting his proboscis open.

Blair Falls to Get Papers. BLAIR, Neb., Jan. 11.—(Special.)—The recent order issued on the Chicago St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha railroad, discontinuing the north-bound passenger train at 7:17 a. m. and the south-bound passenger at 8:21 p. m. on Sundays, commencing yesterday, caused a weeping, wailing and gnashing of teeth among readers of Omaha morning papers. A small four-line notice in the local paper had failed to inform many of the subscribers that they would not receive their papers and a general howl went up at the postoffice and news depot. The papers arrived here at 11 o'clock and were locked up at the depot until nearly 1 o'clock.

Coal Operators Will Fight. RAWLINS, Wyo., Jan. 11.—(Special.)—It is reported that the coal companies will fight the legality of the coal tax law passed by the last legislature. They have already asked for a conference with the state officials concerning this matter. Under the law the coal companies must furnish to the secretary of state a report of the output of their mines during the year 1933, and these reports must be certified to the proper authorities not later than April 1. It is expected that one or more of the operators will refuse to furnish such reports and the matter will then be taken into the courts.

New Supervisor Stricken. GRAND ISLAND, Neb., Jan. 11.—(Special.)—C. S. Benton, a prominent farmer of Cameron township, was stricken with paralysis on Thursday and will not be able to attend the meeting of the board of supervisors this week, of which he is one of the newly elected members. The board meets to organize for the ensuing year. Mr. Benton is a republican, but as the board consists of six republicans and one fusionist, his absence is not expected to cause any difficulty as to the organization. Mr. Benton is considerably improved today and the expectations are that in a month or six weeks he will have fully recovered.

No Change at Osceola. OSCEOLA, Neb., Jan. 11.—(Special.)—Joy regis supreme around Polk county's court house. "Why no, coffee is not the cause of my troubles, besides, I have a headache if I don't drink a cup at breakfast."

A self-confessed slave and does not know it. Absolutely sure to suffer worse each year until the cause is removed.

AND THAT CAUSE IS

COFFEE

Care to know how it works with some people?

A Professional Nurse of 15 years' experience and who studied for 8 years under one of the most eminent specialists of Springfield, Ill., speaks of coffee drinking and its effects, citing particularly the case of her own husband.

"When I married him he was a confirmed coffee drinker and it had to be strong or he missed the stimulant and had headache, as the years went on, the headaches became more and more frequent, sometimes lasting two and three days and the coffee must be made stronger. His stomach became badly affected, headaches became chronic and rheumatic paralysis came on, commencing with the little finger of the left hand and gradually extending to every finger until the entire hand was helpless, then the right hand was affected in the same manner, then extended to his elbows, shoulders and joints of his limbs. His muscles seemed to slowly contract and stiffen and at times the pains were so intense strong opiates had to be administered.

"For over four years I dressed and undressed him as I would a child. He was so helpless he could not even remove his slippers or stockings, or bathe himself. After six years of such terrible suffering a bad cough set in, coming from his stomach, not from the lungs, and he raised the most corrupt matter I ever saw.

"The incessant coughing and straining strained the main artery of his throat and I found a growth or hard substance coming on the lower part of his neck which gradually enlarged until it protruded outward as large as a turkey egg and pressed on the windpipe so much he could only breathe or swallow sitting up in a padded chair, a hopeless invalid. The best physicians and specialists attended him and the verdict of all was the same—he must die, nothing could save him.

"I thought coffee made matters worse and resolved unknown to my husband to try Postum and drop coffee, so I purchased a package and prepared it according to directions, boiling it 20 minutes after it commenced to boil, then scalded a little cream and prepared a small cupful. I gave him two teaspoonfuls and no vomiting followed or nausea and after waiting an hour I gave him two more spoonfuls and he said it tasted good and did not burn his stomach.

"For a week I continued the Postum, gradually increasing the quantity, and then I began to add to each cup of Postum a spoonful of Grape-Nuts food. The doctor said my struggle was useless—that the aneurism in his throat would cease until it choked him to death. But I would not give up. He drank nothing but Postum and the vomiting ceased entirely, the burning in the stomach was allayed and the cough much easier with the discharge from the stomach growing less and losing its offensive odor.

"At the end of three months, after I began to give him Postum in place of coffee, he was actually able to leave his chair and leaning on my shoulder walk a few steps. That was over a year ago and today he can walk to the postoffice, nearly amble, and back every day, takes care of the garden and enjoys life.

"The aneurism is reduced so much that he lies in bed and sleeps with comfort, while the stomach trouble has entirely disappeared. His case is considered one of the most remarkable that has ever been known here in medical surgery.

"You may be sure coffee has been banished from our home and Postum, the life-saving friend, is served at every meal."

Anyone can drop the coffee habit instantly by using good, well made Postum Coffee. There's the snappy taste, rich deep seal brown color that turns to a golden brown when cream is added.

Is bounding health and the power "to do things" worth while? Try it.

I will arrange with a druggist near him so that he may take six bottles of Dr. Ross's Remedial. He may take it month at a time. If it succeeds, the cost is $1.50. If it fails, the druggist will refund the cost. That month's rest will show you what the remedy can do. It is the easiest way to convince you. It is the only way to induce all who need help to accept it. I make the offer to multiply my cure, and I am willing to trust the cured ones to be fair with me. In the past I have furnished my Remedial to hundreds of thousands of sick ones. I give those terms, and 25 out of 10 have paid gladly, because they got well as quickly as when one says I have failed. The remedy is my discovery, the result of a life-time's work. I have performed it by watching results in thousands of cases without case that recedes ever more. I know what it will do. My success comes from strengthening weak inside nerves, and my Remedial is the only remedy that does that. When an organ is weak I bring back the same power which it once operated every vital organ. It is like giving an engine more steam. I give the weak organ power to do its duty, and there is no other way to make a weak organ well. Can you conceive of a sick one who will neglect such a treasure, when I will give the entire cost? Simply state which book you want and address Dr. Ross, Disp. Div., 437 W. 10th St., St. Paul, Minn.
