Gordon Case Up Again. Forward and ever and ever and eve Samuel I. Gordon will draw pay because he was once the police judge of Omaha or for the same length of time he will have care in the courts to collect that pay. That practically was the information gives out by his attorney, Judge Eller, this morning, after the judge had requested the supreme court to put over the case for the present because he had been too sick to get ready for trial. This case in question was the one which was decided in favor of the city against the judge and in the decision handed down concerning it, the supreme court said that Gordon was out and the case was settled for good. The case wasn't settled for good or bad

Judge Eller said Judge Gordon has quit holding mosquito court at the station, but lature did it. Judge Eller admitted that was and that the people were, but he did

The State Board of Equalization held a short session this afternon and adopted a resolution to ask Attorney General Prout whether the word "credit" in the new revenue law means net credit or gross credit. The board desires the written opinion of the legal department of the state before beginning its business.

In the recent decision holding the law valid and constitutional which the supreme court handed down it did not pass upon any specific section of the law, though the three commissioners in the three opinions filed by them, each declared that it was the intention of the legislature to make credits net credits. The board will meet again Friday afternoon to take up other matters that the secretary wants straightened out before proceeding.

Insist Barry is Out.

After a series of brilliant and most in teresting engagements in which were rought to play the experience gained in two wars and many political fights, the the vital Organs, the Heart, Liver, Kid- flerce struggle between Adjutant General Culver and Brigadier General Barry may be said to have ended. Outside the breastworks, with a fresh scar added to the many received during a grand career in the civil war, lies General Barry, routed and scouted, a fallen hero. The routing and scouting was done on a technicality, and on that score the vallant

hero may again come back to interest his friends by another discharge of heavy ar tillery in the interest of harmony in the guard. In the statutes which probably will be fired at him as soon as the forces of General Culver get time to do the loading found the technicality. The law provides that the brigadier general shall be elected for a period of three years and nothing is said about him helding office until his successor is elected and qualified. In the records on file in the office of Commander-in-Chief Mickey It is shown that General Barry was elected February 23, 1901. Therefore, on February 23 of the present year he was done for. The statutes also provide that the brigadier general shall be a member of the National Guard As his term of office has expired, Barry is no longer a member of the National Guard, up to him to find a way out of his present standing with the guard. In view of these facts it is beginning to ook mighty like General Cuiver will succeed in abolishing the office, which will also abolish the staff of the brigadier general, leaving himself free to call upon General Daggett to take charge of the brigade should the necessity arise. In the meantime General Daggett, who has served his time and won his star in the regular army. has never said a word about the presensquabble.

INDUIRY INTO CLUBBING EPISODE BEGINS

Accused Policeman Represented by an Attorney and Witnesses Before Coroner's Jury Are Closely Questioned.

The inquisition into the death of George O'Nelll, the young man who died at St. Joseph's hospital Monday morning from injuries sustained while being arrested by Officer Moore at Henry Keating's saloon at an early hour last Sunday morning, was began at 2:20 p. m. yesterday and after a session of three and a half hours an adjournment was taken until 7 o'clock this evening. The morgue was thronged throughout the entire proceedings, many coming and going, but the majority remaining during the entire session and listening with interest to every word that was said by the seven witnesses who were put on the stand. At this evening's session i is expected that as many if not more witnesses will be examined.

Ex-Officer Moore is represented by Atorneys A. W. Jeffries and F. S. Howell, the family of the deceased by E. W. Simeral and the state by County Attorney English. The suspended officer was brought to the morgue in the custody of one of his late fellow officers and sat beside his counsel during the proceedings.

Mohr testified that he had an impression that the officer grabbed O'Nelil and heard the glass fall. He also said that he remembered hearing the officer asking Hall his name and address when, it is said, O'Neill entered the breach. The closest examination failed to elicit any information from Hall or Mohr regarding just what happened between O'Nelli and the policeman, so quickly did the twain leave the scene.
