

THE OMAHA DAILY BEE

E. ROSEWATER, EDITOR. PUBLISHED EVERY MORNING.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION: Daily Bee (without Sunday), One Year $4.00...

OFFICES: Omaha—The Bee Building, Twenty-fifth and M Streets.

REPRINTS: Remit by draft, express or postal order, payable to The Bee Publishing Company.

STATEMENT OF CIRCULATION: State of Nebraska, Douglas County, ss.: George H. Tschuck, secretary of The Bee Publishing Company...

Table with 3 columns: Date, Circulation, and Total. Rows include dates from 1903 to 1904.

Subscribed by my presence and sworn to before me this 1st day of March, 1904.

The policeman who uses his club on every occasion will have to go.

Douglas county should not require the services of any middlemen to sell its bonds to the state school fund.

Mr. Stickey has piled the railroad floor to Omaha open and Judge Sanborn has inserted the wedge that will keep it open.

When King Edward visited his alma mater he at least was saved the chagrin of meeting village boys who had trounced him in fair fight.

Why should any reform movement have to be carried on in secret? A good cause ought to need no other means of attracting support than publicity.

Dock laborers who are idle at Odessa need not be without hope, as the war which has rendered them idle stands ready to give re-employment for some time.

The Japanese have sent their entire general staff to Chemulpo without half the fuss and feathers raised in getting General Kouropatkin out of St. Petersburg.

The Russians have decided that coal is contraband of war only when in the hands of people whose national government is in no position to enforce an objection to the rule.

Having approved the plan for seating the delegates to the republican national convention the national committee can now start to work on its plans for seating the next republican candidate for the presidency.

The present war, with its consequent activity on the part of almost every nation to increase its defenses, threatens to give the czar additional work on his disarmament plan when he gets time to take it up again.

The reason for the decision of the czar to go to the front is evident. He has so long been surrounded by the officers detailed to direct the war in the east that he does not feel safe when they are out of his sight.

Residents of San Domingo should realize that they are not getting the same amount of free advertising out of their revolutions that they would if they revolved in more quiet times.

That Chinese officer who threatened to turn the Japanese gunboats upon the Russian vessel which is said to be defying the neutrality laws in Shanghai, would probably have made a more fearful threat if he could have thought of one.

If its experience with the Pacific railroads is any criterion the United States can better afford to build the railroads in the Philippines and lease them to operating companies than to guarantee interest on the bonds of private railroad corporations.

The "board of lady managers" of the St. Louis exposition is having the usual experience of women who try to keep accounts. There is only a difference of 30,000 in the figures as kept by the secretary of the board and that kept by the exposition company.

Will the World-Herald please print the names of the members of the Kearney Grand Army post who were present and voted for that resolution impugning Chancellor Andrews' loyalty and the regiments in which each saw service in the war in which the chancellor lost an eye fighting to preserve the union.

A country weekly imbued with an ardent admiration for the lone democratic congressman from this state asks why the ticket should not be Hearst and Hitchcock? Why not Hitchcock and Hearst? Why should Nebraska take a back seat after occupying the front seat in the democratic coach for two successive national campaigns? We want to know.

THE PRESIDENT'S STATE.

While New York is not absolutely necessary to republican success in this year's national election, yet it is manifestly of very great importance, in the hearing it will have generally, that the republicans of that state should be harmonious and stand loyally by President Roosevelt.

At all events there was no difficulty or disturbance in the committee and the resolution commending the administration of President Roosevelt, declaring loyalty to him and pledging to him earnest support for renomination, was unanimously and enthusiastically adopted.

There is no question that President Roosevelt has recently been growing in favor in his state. It is said that some of those outside of politics who have been opposed to him—as certain of the combination and financial magnates—have ceased their opposition and will do nothing hostile to the president either before or after his nomination.

A REVIVING INDUSTRY.

A very good index to general business conditions is the state of the iron trade of the country and it is therefore gratifying to note a reviving tendency in this industry.

If in that trade why not in other lines of industry? There is no information as to the cause of the iron trade revival, but it is very likely largely due to an increasing demand for iron and steel in building.

A VICTORY FOR OMAHA.

The decision of the United States court of appeals, affirming the right of the Chicago Great Western railroad to enter Omaha over the Union Pacific bridge and to have access to the terminal facilities of the Union Pacific at Omaha and South Omaha is preliminary to a victory for Omaha.

In rendering this decision the United States court of appeals has simply reaffirmed the decision rendered last year by Judge Munger of the federal district court.

Colonel Bryan stopped long enough in Omaha before lecture dates to say that he has not taken back anything he has said in the past about Mr. Cleveland.

The finances of Douglas county should be placed on a cash basis as soon as possible and they should be kept there.

An impression is gaining ground that much of the apparent activity of the terminal facilities to connecting railroads and especially to the Iowa railroads converging at or near its initial point.

One of the most damaging drawbacks to Omaha's commercial growth and prosperity past years has been the protracted contention over the Union Pacific terminals.

It is a singular friendship indeed between the United States and Russia, which has been the most autocratic and the United States the most democratic nation on the globe.

More useless than the extinction of the buffalo, more cruel than the war upon the stupid seal, more vain than the killing of plumage-bearing birds for the exterminating slaughter of the stately elk merely to furnish a fraternal order with ritualistic insignia.

The United States is today entangled in no foreign alliances. It is bound up in the political fortunes of no other power.

It is a useless and somewhat expensive body that does not represent the people who elect it. A farmer or business man as soon as elected by his neighbors to represent them becomes a criminal, a bribe taker, a thief, and cannot be trusted to do the business that devolves upon him under the constitution.

CONTENDING ARMIES IN THE EAST IS DUE TO THE FACT THAT THE NAMES OF THE SAME PLACE ARE SPOILED IN DIFFERENT WAYS.

In no other manner can the report of the presence of a force under one commander in two places at the same time be conformable to truth.

Sample of Russian Cruelty.

The abolishing of the censorship on foreign press dispatches is another instance of Russian cruelty.

Talking for Publication.

The only man among the Japanese who is not darkly secret about Japan's war plans seems to be Baron Hayashi.

Provocation for a Fit.

Governor Garvin of Rhode Island only a short time ago was on Bryan's list of demagogues who would make acceptable presidential candidates.

Burning Up the Surplus.

The Rochester fire is small only in contrast with the Baltimore conflagration, but if comparison is made with the great fires of recent years prior to the Baltimore explosion, the total figure among the most destructive.

Shy on Tact.

The Novoe Vremya of St. Petersburg is perfectly justified in the statement that the traditional friendship for Russia occupies a firm position in the American mind and heart.

Slaughter of the Elk.

More useless than the extinction of the buffalo, more cruel than the war upon the stupid seal, more vain than the killing of plumage-bearing birds for the exterminating slaughter of the stately elk merely to furnish a fraternal order with ritualistic insignia.

No Foreign Alliance.

The United States is today entangled in no foreign alliances. It is bound up in the political fortunes of no other power.

AMONG THE CANDIDATES.

Button News: The congressional convention has not yet been called, but when it is held Hon. G. W. Norris will be renominated without one dissenting vote.

Dakota County Record: The delegate to the national republican convention, Mr. Childs is vouched for by the York Times as one of the original Roosevelt men and that being the brand we are looking for he has our earnest support.

Nebraska Herald: Hon. A. Galusha of Red Cloud, secretary of the grand edge clause committee of the Ancient Order of United Workmen, is a candidate for the office of secretary of state.

Red Cloud Argosy: It is conceded that that portion of the state of Nebraska lying west of the east line of Webster county is a strong factor when it comes to voting in state politics.

St. Edward Sun: The Tekamah Journal last week brought out the name of Hon. John P. Piper as a candidate before the congressional convention as a delegate from this district to the national republican convention at Chicago.

Minden Gazette: If there is one department in the public affairs of the state which has been carefully and conscientiously conducted for the last three years it is that of the commissioner of public lands.

St. Edward Sun: The Tekamah Journal last week brought out the name of Hon. John P. Piper as a candidate before the congressional convention as a delegate from this district to the national republican convention at Chicago.

Minden Gazette: If there is one department in the public affairs of the state which has been carefully and conscientiously conducted for the last three years it is that of the commissioner of public lands.

St. Edward Sun: The Tekamah Journal last week brought out the name of Hon. John P. Piper as a candidate before the congressional convention as a delegate from this district to the national republican convention at Chicago.

Minden Gazette: If there is one department in the public affairs of the state which has been carefully and conscientiously conducted for the last three years it is that of the commissioner of public lands.

St. Edward Sun: The Tekamah Journal last week brought out the name of Hon. John P. Piper as a candidate before the congressional convention as a delegate from this district to the national republican convention at Chicago.

Minden Gazette: If there is one department in the public affairs of the state which has been carefully and conscientiously conducted for the last three years it is that of the commissioner of public lands.

St. Edward Sun: The Tekamah Journal last week brought out the name of Hon. John P. Piper as a candidate before the congressional convention as a delegate from this district to the national republican convention at Chicago.

Minden Gazette: If there is one department in the public affairs of the state which has been carefully and conscientiously conducted for the last three years it is that of the commissioner of public lands.

St. Edward Sun: The Tekamah Journal last week brought out the name of Hon. John P. Piper as a candidate before the congressional convention as a delegate from this district to the national republican convention at Chicago.

NOMINATING A U. S. SENATOR.

Kearney Hub: The assertion of the Fremont Tribune that those who are not in favor of nominating a senator by the next republican state convention are a "sure enough B. & M. crowd" will stand revision.

There are a good many good men and good republicans out this way, not allied with any railroad crowd, who doubt the wisdom of nominating a senator.

Norfolk Press: Last Sunday's Omaha Bee contains lengthy and labored editorial in opposition to the nomination of a candidate for United States senator by the republican state convention.

The Press is not so much surprised at the attitude of the Bee as it is at the grounds on which the paper has its argument.

Philadelphia Press: Governor Garvin of Rhode Island only a short time ago was on Bryan's list of demagogues who would make acceptable presidential candidates.

Springfield Republican: The Rochester fire is small only in contrast with the Baltimore conflagration, but if comparison is made with the great fires of recent years prior to the Baltimore explosion, the total figure among the most destructive.

Chicago Chronicle: The Novoe Vremya of St. Petersburg is perfectly justified in the statement that the traditional friendship for Russia occupies a firm position in the American mind and heart.

Chicago Tribune: More useless than the extinction of the buffalo, more cruel than the war upon the stupid seal, more vain than the killing of plumage-bearing birds for the exterminating slaughter of the stately elk merely to furnish a fraternal order with ritualistic insignia.

Washington Star: The United States is today entangled in no foreign alliances. It is bound up in the political fortunes of no other power.

Wayne Herald: Some editorial lights are tearing their vesture over the prospect of a senatorial nomination by the state convention, alleging the fear that defeated candidates will weaken the strength of the republican ticket.

Crete Vidette-Herald: We hope to see the United States constitution amended so as to require the United States senators to be elected by a direct vote of the people, but until so amended it is a foolish plan to try and get around existing law.

Our opponents have quit that foolishness. They see it as impossible to get around the constitution in some and as foolish in others. They aim to get all the votes they can, and pool their interests in the legislature. The more good candidates we can have the better, because it routes local pride, size up a healthy competition.

Our opponents have quit that foolishness. They see it as impossible to get around the constitution in some and as foolish in others. They aim to get all the votes they can, and pool their interests in the legislature. The more good candidates we can have the better, because it routes local pride, size up a healthy competition.

Our opponents have quit that foolishness. They see it as impossible to get around the constitution in some and as foolish in others. They aim to get all the votes they can, and pool their interests in the legislature. The more good candidates we can have the better, because it routes local pride, size up a healthy competition.

Our opponents have quit that foolishness. They see it as impossible to get around the constitution in some and as foolish in others. They aim to get all the votes they can, and pool their interests in the legislature. The more good candidates we can have the better, because it routes local pride, size up a healthy competition.

Our opponents have quit that foolishness. They see it as impossible to get around the constitution in some and as foolish in others. They aim to get all the votes they can, and pool their interests in the legislature. The more good candidates we can have the better, because it routes local pride, size up a healthy competition.

Our opponents have quit that foolishness. They see it as impossible to get around the constitution in some and as foolish in others. They aim to get all the votes they can, and pool their interests in the legislature. The more good candidates we can have the better, because it routes local pride, size up a healthy competition.

Our opponents have quit that foolishness. They see it as impossible to get around the constitution in some and as foolish in others. They aim to get all the votes they can, and pool their interests in the legislature. The more good candidates we can have the better, because it routes local pride, size up a healthy competition.

Our opponents have quit that foolishness. They see it as impossible to get around the constitution in some and as foolish in others. They aim to get all the votes they can, and pool their interests in the legislature. The more good candidates we can have the better, because it routes local pride, size up a healthy competition.

Our opponents have quit that foolishness. They see it as impossible to get around the constitution in some and as foolish in others. They aim to get all the votes they can, and pool their interests in the legislature. The more good candidates we can have the better, because it routes local pride, size up a healthy competition.

Our opponents have quit that foolishness. They see it as impossible to get around the constitution in some and as foolish in others. They aim to get all the votes they can, and pool their interests in the legislature. The more good candidates we can have the better, because it routes local pride, size up a healthy competition.

Our opponents have quit that foolishness. They see it as impossible to get around the constitution in some and as foolish in others. They aim to get all the votes they can, and pool their interests in the legislature. The more good candidates we can have the better, because it routes local pride, size up a healthy competition.

Our opponents have quit that foolishness. They see it as impossible to get around the constitution in some and as foolish in others. They aim to get all the votes they can, and pool their interests in the legislature. The more good candidates we can have the better, because it routes local pride, size up a healthy competition.

Our opponents have quit that foolishness. They see it as impossible to get around the constitution in some and as foolish in others. They aim to get all the votes they can, and pool their interests in the legislature. The more good candidates we can have the better, because it routes local pride, size up a healthy competition.

Our opponents have quit that foolishness. They see it as impossible to get around the constitution in some and as foolish in others. They aim to get all the votes they can, and pool their interests in the legislature. The more good candidates we can have the better, because it routes local pride, size up a healthy competition.

Our opponents have quit that foolishness. They see it as impossible to get around the constitution in some and as foolish in others. They aim to get all the votes they can, and pool their interests in the legislature. The more good candidates we can have the better, because it routes local pride, size up a healthy competition.

Our opponents have quit that foolishness. They see it as impossible to get around the constitution in some and as foolish in others. They aim to get all the votes they can, and pool their interests in the legislature. The more good candidates we can have the better, because it routes local pride, size up a healthy competition.

Our opponents have quit that foolishness. They see it as impossible to get around the constitution in some and as foolish in others. They aim to get all the votes they can, and pool their interests in the legislature. The more good candidates we can have the better, because it routes local pride, size up a healthy competition.

Our opponents have quit that foolishness. They see it as impossible to get around the constitution in some and as foolish in others. They aim to get all the votes they can, and pool their interests in the legislature. The more good candidates we can have the better, because it routes local pride, size up a healthy competition.

Our opponents have quit that foolishness. They see it as impossible to get around the constitution in some and as foolish in others. They aim to get all the votes they can, and pool their interests in the legislature. The more good candidates we can have the better, because it routes local pride, size up a healthy competition.

Our opponents have quit that foolishness. They see it as impossible to get around the constitution in some and as foolish in others. They aim to get all the votes they can, and pool their interests in the legislature. The more good candidates we can have the better, because it routes local pride, size up a healthy competition.

BITS OF WASHINGTON LIFE.

Minor Scenes and Incidents Sketched on the Spot. The most entrancing spectacles in Washington is a member of the army general staff on dress parade.

The Hon. Francis Emerson Warren, a senator in congress from Wyoming, may have been born inquisitive. His positively first appearance was made in Hinsdale, in western Massachusetts, a region full of an enlightened curiosity and desire for knowledge.

Mount Vernon, the home of George Washington, has been saved by a cleverly planned expedient from more than possible destruction.

One item in the urgent deficiency bill has been a subject of much discussion by the economists of the House.

The capitol needs a foreign guide, and there is a situation ready for somebody to fill it.

The square is announced of John J. Doran of the United States cruiser Montgomery, who received a medal from congress for his heroic action in cutting the cable at Cienfuegos under the fire of Spanish batteries in the Spanish war.

Wayne Herald: Some editorial lights are tearing their vesture over the prospect of a senatorial nomination by the state convention, alleging the fear that defeated candidates will weaken the strength of the republican ticket.

Crete Vidette-Herald: We hope to see the United States constitution amended so as to require the United States senators to be elected by a direct vote of the people, but until so amended it is a foolish plan to try and get around existing law.

Our opponents have quit that foolishness. They see it as impossible to get around the constitution in some and as foolish in others. They aim to get all the votes they can, and pool their interests in the legislature. The more good candidates we can have the better, because it routes local pride, size up a healthy competition.

Our opponents have quit that foolishness. They see it as impossible to get around the constitution in some and as foolish in others. They aim to get all the votes they can, and pool their interests in the legislature. The more good candidates we can have the better, because it routes local pride, size up a healthy competition.

Our opponents have quit that foolishness. They see it as impossible to get around the constitution in some and as foolish in others. They aim to get all the votes they can, and pool their interests in the legislature. The more good candidates we can have the better, because it routes local pride, size up a healthy competition.

Our opponents have quit that foolishness. They see it as impossible to get around the constitution in some and as foolish in others. They aim to get all the votes they can, and pool their interests in the legislature. The more good candidates we can have the better, because it routes local pride, size up a healthy competition.

Our opponents have quit that foolishness. They see it as impossible to get around the constitution in some and as foolish in others. They aim to get all the votes they can, and pool their interests in the legislature. The more good candidates we can have the better, because it routes local pride, size up a healthy competition.

Our opponents have quit that foolishness. They see it as impossible to get around the constitution in some and as foolish in others. They aim to get all the votes they can, and pool their interests in the legislature. The more good candidates we can have the better, because it routes local pride, size up a healthy competition.

Our opponents have quit that foolishness. They see it as impossible to get around the constitution in some and as foolish in others. They aim to get all the votes they can, and pool their interests in the legislature. The more good candidates we can have the better, because it routes local pride, size up a healthy competition.

Our opponents have quit that foolishness. They see it as impossible to get around the constitution in some and as foolish in others. They aim to get all the votes they can, and pool their interests in the legislature. The more good candidates we can have the better, because it routes local pride, size up a healthy competition.

Our opponents have quit that foolishness. They see it as impossible to get around the constitution in some and as foolish in others. They aim to get all the votes they can, and pool their interests in the legislature. The more good candidates we can have the better, because it routes local pride, size up a healthy competition.

Our opponents have quit that foolishness. They see it as impossible to get around the constitution in some and as foolish in others. They aim to get all the votes they can, and pool their interests in the legislature. The more good candidates we can have the better, because it routes local pride, size up a healthy competition.

Our opponents have quit that foolishness. They see it as impossible to get around the constitution in some and as foolish in others. They aim to get all the votes they can, and pool their interests in the legislature. The more good candidates we can have the better, because it routes local pride, size up a healthy competition.

Our opponents have quit that foolishness. They see it as impossible to get around the constitution in some and as foolish in others. They aim to get all the votes they can, and pool their interests in the legislature. The more good candidates we can have the better, because it routes local pride, size up a healthy competition.

Our opponents have quit that foolishness. They see it as impossible to get around the constitution in some and as foolish in others. They aim to get all the votes they can, and pool their interests in the legislature. The more good candidates we can have the better, because it routes local pride, size up a healthy competition.

Our opponents have quit that foolishness. They see it as impossible to get around the constitution in some and as foolish in others. They aim to get all the votes they can, and pool their interests in the legislature. The more good candidates we can have the better, because it routes local pride, size up a healthy competition.

Our opponents have quit that foolishness. They see it as impossible to get around the constitution in some and as foolish in others. They aim to get all the votes they can, and pool their interests in the legislature. The more good candidates we can have the better, because it routes local pride, size up a healthy competition.

Our opponents have quit that foolishness. They see it as impossible to get around the constitution in some and as foolish in others. They aim to get all the votes they can, and pool their interests in the legislature. The more good candidates we can have the better, because it routes local pride, size up a healthy competition.

Our opponents have quit that foolishness. They see it as impossible to get around the constitution in some and as foolish in others. They aim to get all the votes they can, and pool their interests in the legislature. The more good candidates we can have the better, because it routes local pride, size up a healthy competition.

Our opponents have quit that foolishness. They see it as impossible to get around the constitution in some and as foolish in others. They aim to get all the votes they can, and pool their interests in the legislature. The more good candidates we can have the better, because it routes local pride, size up a healthy competition.

Our opponents have quit that foolishness. They see it as impossible to get around the constitution in some and as foolish in others. They aim to get all the votes they can, and pool their interests in the legislature. The more good candidates we can have the better, because it routes local pride, size up a healthy competition.

Our opponents have quit that foolishness. They see it as impossible to get around the constitution in some and as foolish in others. They aim to get all the votes they can, and pool their interests in the legislature. The more good candidates we can have the better, because it routes local pride, size up a healthy competition.

Our opponents have quit that foolishness. They see it as impossible to get around the constitution in some and as foolish in others. They aim to get all the votes they can, and pool their interests in the legislature. The more good candidates we can have the better, because it routes local pride, size up a healthy competition.

Our opponents have quit that foolishness. They see it as impossible to get around the constitution in some and as foolish in others. They aim to get all the votes they can, and pool their interests in the legislature. The more good candidates we can have the better, because it routes local pride, size up a healthy competition.

Our opponents have quit that foolishness. They see it as impossible to get around the constitution in some and as foolish in others. They aim to get all the votes they can, and pool their interests in the legislature. The more good candidates we can have the better, because it routes local pride, size up a healthy competition.

SMELLING COMMITTEE OF ONE.

The Hon. Francis Emerson Warren, a senator in congress from Wyoming, may have been born inquisitive. His positively first appearance was made in Hinsdale, in western Massachusetts, a region full of an enlightened curiosity and desire for knowledge.

Mount Vernon, the home of George Washington, has been saved by a cleverly planned expedient from more than possible destruction.

One item in the urgent deficiency bill has been a subject of much discussion by the economists of the House.

The capitol needs a foreign guide, and there is a situation ready for somebody to fill it.

The square is announced of John J. Doran of the United States cruiser Montgomery, who received a medal from congress for his heroic action in cutting the cable at Cienfuegos under the fire of Spanish batteries in the Spanish war.

Wayne Herald: Some editorial lights are tearing their vesture over the prospect of a senatorial nomination by the state convention, alleging the fear that defeated candidates will weaken the strength of the republican ticket.

Crete Vidette-Herald: We hope to see the United States constitution amended so as to require the United States senators to be elected by a direct vote of the people, but until so amended it is a foolish plan to try and get around existing law.

Our opponents have quit that foolishness. They see it as impossible to get around the constitution in some and as foolish in others. They aim to get all the votes they can, and pool their interests in the legislature. The more good candidates we can have the better, because it routes local pride, size up a healthy competition.

Our opponents have quit that foolishness. They see it as impossible to get around the constitution in some and as foolish in others. They aim to get all the votes they can, and pool their interests in the legislature. The more good candidates we can have the better, because it routes local pride, size up a healthy competition.

Our opponents have quit that foolishness. They see it as impossible to get around the constitution in some and as foolish in others. They aim to get all the votes they can, and pool their interests in the legislature. The more good candidates we can have the better, because it routes local pride, size up a healthy competition.

Our opponents have quit that foolishness. They see it as impossible to get around the constitution in some and as foolish in others. They aim to get all the votes they can, and pool their interests in the legislature. The more good candidates we can have the better, because it routes local pride, size up a healthy competition.

Our opponents have quit that foolishness. They see it as impossible to get around the constitution in some and as foolish in others. They aim to get all the votes they can, and pool their interests in the legislature. The more good candidates we can have the better, because it routes local pride, size up a healthy competition.

Our opponents have quit that foolishness. They see it as impossible to get around the constitution in some and as foolish in others. They aim to get all the votes they can, and pool their interests in the legislature. The more good candidates we can have the better, because it routes local pride, size up a healthy competition.

Our opponents have quit that foolishness. They see it as impossible to get around the constitution in some and as foolish in others. They aim to get all the votes they can, and pool their interests in the legislature. The more good candidates we can have the better, because it routes local pride, size up a healthy competition.

Our opponents have quit that foolishness. They see it as impossible to get around the constitution in some and as foolish in others. They aim to get all the votes they can, and pool their interests in the legislature. The more good candidates we can have the better, because it routes local pride, size up a healthy competition.

Our opponents have quit that foolishness. They see it as impossible to get around the constitution in some and as foolish in others. They aim to get all the votes they can, and pool their interests in the legislature. The more good candidates we can have the better, because it routes local pride, size up a healthy competition.

Our opponents have quit that foolishness. They see it as impossible to get around the constitution in some and as foolish in others. They aim to get all the votes they can, and pool their interests in the legislature. The more good candidates we can have the better, because it routes local pride, size up a healthy competition.

Our opponents have quit that foolishness. They see it as impossible to get around the constitution in some and as foolish in others. They aim to get all the votes they can, and pool their interests in the legislature. The more good candidates we can have the better, because it routes local pride, size up a healthy competition.

Our opponents have quit that foolishness. They see it as impossible to get around the constitution in some and as foolish in others. They aim to get all the votes they can, and pool their interests in the legislature. The more good candidates we can have the better, because it routes local pride, size up a healthy competition.

Our opponents have quit that foolishness. They see it as impossible to get around the constitution in some and as foolish in others. They aim to get all the votes they can, and pool their interests in the legislature. The more good candidates we can have the better, because it routes local pride, size up a healthy competition.

Our opponents have quit