GENERAL MARKET SHOWS IMPROVEMENT

in the Day's Strength, but Other Interests Betray Strong Tone.

NEW YORK, April 5.- The perturbation NEW YORK, April 5.—The perturbation reflected yesterday in the stock market, on account of the Union Pacific's legal fight to regain its former holdings of the Northern Pacific in the interest of the Securities company, had largely subsided today. The result was a speculative movement of more breadth and more general indication of interest than for a long time. That the operators were largely those of professionals was sufficiently indicated by the methodical manner in which they were conducted, first one and then another stock or group of stocks being taken in hand and advanced to a higher level of prices, the market showing a vast improvement in tone.

and advanced to a higher level of prices, the market showing a vast improvement in tone.

Union Pacific was conspicuously aloof from the day's upward movement, but it had no appearance of being in free supply or being pressed for sale. United States Steel preferred also falled to share fully in the day's strength.

There was an enormous absorption of the second mortgage bends on a strongly rising market. The day's news did not seem to play much part in the general movement. Reports of rains in the southwest may have induced buying of the grain carriers in that section. The reports of railroad earnings for the fourth week in March which came to hand were distinctly better than the recent average, especially in the southern and southwestern sections. Prices of copper rose strongly both here and abroad and the strong statistical position in the trade is much dwelt upon. The local tractions as a group moved upward without news.

The anthracite carriers were inclined to lag on account of the supreme court decision requiring the companies to produce lag on account of the supreme court de-cision requiring the companies to produce their contracts before the Interstate Com-cision requiring the companies to produce their contracts before the Interstate Commerce commission. Sterling exchange moved quite decisively away from the point of profit on the triangular gold export of the gold of t

Wool Market. Wool Market.

BOSTON, April 5.—WOOL—Domestic wools are quiet this week with little change in prices noted. Sales have continued satisfactory to dealers and while trade is not brisk, old wools are being cleaned up. The demand is strong for medium and low wools with offerings very small. Many houses have no quarterblood wool and a demand for foreign cross breeds has resulted. many sales were fully 5@ioc higher than yesterday. Tidy, blocky cattle of good quality were picked up in a hurry at prices safely a dime higher, while the general run of the steers sold at strong prices. Trading was fairly active on most all kinds, with the exception of the warmed-up stuff, and considering the heavy receipts, the market was in very satisfactory condition.

The iznute market was nothing particularly desirable on sale makes the market seem unusually slow. Good stuff would probably have sold without much trouble at fully stendy prices.

Quotations for cornfed stock: Good to choice weights, the market was also active and strong. Light-weight helfers continued to be the most popular line in the yards and in many cases sold higher than steers of the same quality and flesh. They could be quoted strong to a dime higher than yesterday and the same would apply to light-weight cows of good quality. Other cows were steady to strong, but the market wes quite active and a good clearance was made.

Bulls sold fully as strong as they did yes.
