For Ten of The Bee's Prize Trips to the St. Louis Exposition.

Good Number of New Candidates Listed and Vote Handsomely Increased, Auguring Heavy Closing Vote.

The real battle in The Bee's fifth contest for ten trips to the St. Louis exposition occurs today, and if yesterday's vote has any significance one may look for a heavy vote and many surprises. How many of the big ten in the list below will hold the same level at the close, after the dark horses have plunged into the arena and the cold storage vote has been floated? Not very many you may rest assured and it's going to be a hard race between the dark horses and the cold storage candidates, in which some of the former may drown and some of the latter may be trampled under foot.

DOLLIVER ON THE TRUSTS

Without Protec ion There Would Be Fewer Industries to Combine.

TARIFF THE KEYNOTE OF PROSPERITY

If Changes Are Required to Bring About More Industrial Progress They Will Be Made.

WASHINGTON, April 20 .- The senate today listened to a set speech of almost two hours' duration on the trusts by Mr. Dollier and afterward completed consideration of the sundry civil appropriation bill, again devoting much time to the provisions for an extension of the cast front of the capitol and for an additional office building for the senate. The office building amendmen was agreed to as reported from the committee, but the extension paragraph was so modified as practically to provide for plans half a dozen places and shortly before mid only, the appropriation being reduced to

Mr. Hale, from the committee on appropriations, reported the general deficiency appropriation bill. A bill donating 120 acres of land at Beecher Island, Colo., to mark the site of a battle of a party of fifty scouts and about

,000 Indians which occurred in 1868, was Mr. Dubois introduced and the senate passed without comment a resolution instructing the postmaster general to "ascertain as far as possible and to report to the senate what, if any, postmasters in Idaho are living in polygamy." Mr. Dolliver then addressed the senate on the trust question. He referred to the SWYGARD OF ALBION STILL IN THE LEAD attitude of the democratic party toward the tariff, saying that for the first time in our national history since 1816 the policy of protection stands approved, its enemies themselves being the judges, by the common consent of the American people. He defended republican policies from the charge that they fostered trusts, and said: There is only one sense in which the protective tariff can be held responsible for the trusts, and that is that without the protective tariff there would have been fewer industries to combine and, therefore, fewer combinations.

He declared that the effect of the abelition of the tariff would be to turn our markets and industries over to other na-

Mr. Dolliver referred to the president by name, saying that he was the worthy leader of a greater cause and predicting his election to the presidency on a platform that would protect the interests and cor serve the honor of the country. Mr. Dolliver in closing said:

We approach this presidential campaign united in the bonds of our historic faith. We did not originate it, we inherited it from our fathers.

If changes are required to bring the tariff law of 1897 into a more perfect relation to the industrial progress of the American people, we propose to make them ourselves, whenever in our judgment the work can be undertaken without doing more harm than good, but we shall not consent to any change which surrenders the rights of American labor or the advantage which every man who makes a bona fide investment of his money in the United States ought to have over his competitors in other lands.

When Mr. Dolliver concluded, the co bill was resumed, the immediate question being the amendment for an office and comittee building for the senate.

Amendments Agreed To. Mr. Stone and Mr. Stewart supported the amendment and Mr. Newlands advo cated a postponment of the entire question until it could be investigated by architects. The amendment was agreed to by a vote of 50 to 10. The provision for an addition to the east front of the capitol, inserted by the huose and amended by the senate committee or appropriation, was discussed. Mr. Allison offered an amendment, which was adopted, imiting the immediate appropriation to

Mr. Foss then called up the conference report on the naval bill. He read a letter from Secretary Moody stating that an adlitional expenditure of $175,000 would be required in preparing any navy yard to do the work.

This statement was criticised by Mr. Rixey (Va.), who insisted that congress had appropriated sufficient money and that the yards ought to be ready to build the colliers. On a rising vote, 118 to 57, the senate amendment was accepted.

A special rule was reported by Mr. Grosvenor from the committee on rules providing for immediate consideration of a bill to provide for allotments of land in severalty to the Indians in the state of New York, and to amend the laws of the United States and of the state of New York over such Indians.

Mr. Suiser in opposing the rule declared bill provided for a gigantic steal of the Indians' lands and incidentally to give a legal status to the Ogden Land Grant empany. On a rising vote the rule was lopted, 189 to $1. The bill was taken up and discussed by Mesers. Vreeland, Fitz-

The men were being hoisted to the surface from the bottom of the shaft, which is 900 feet deep, and had reached to within 300 feet of the top when some drills which were on the cage became caught in the timbers of the shaft. Varcoe and Hayas were knocked down, Varcoe being swept from the cage and falling to the bottom of the shaft, 600 feet, while Hayes was forced between the shaft and the cage and his life instantly crushed out. Mullis and Janes succeeded in grasping the rod which runs across the top of the cage and swung themselves out of danger, but not before Mullis was struck by the flying drills and badly hurt. Varcoe's body when recovered from the bottom of the shaft was found to be badly mangled.

TRENTON, N. J., April 20 .- Suit has been began in the United States circuit court for the district of New Jersey against the Northern Securities company by Edward H. Harriman, Winslow S. Pierce, the Oregon Short Line Railroad company and the Equitable Trust company of New York trustee under the Oregon Short Line participating mortgage, to restrain the Northern Securities company from carrying out the plan adopted by its directors for the distribution of the stocks of the Northern Pacific and Great Northern Railway companies held in the treasury of the de fendant company.

The facts in the case as recited in the bill of complaint, cover substantially the same ground upon which was based the intervention suit in the United Staes circuit court for the district of Minnesota which was decided on Tuesday adversely to the Harriman interests.

Judge Andrew Kirkpatrick today issued a temporary order restraining the carrying out of the plan of distribution. PUNY CHILDREN.

It is a fact that quite a large percentage of children born into this world are so unfortunate as to come of parents whose physical condition is such that the child gets but a poor start in life, and the result is that as the days and weeks pass by the poor little one does not seem to grow in weight or strength, but remains through no fault of its own weak, debilitated and prevish, and cries the greater part of the time, thereby giving misery and anxiety to its parents and comfort to no one.

Struggle as they may the parents find life in the child, and in their desperation they are willing to try any remedy or food which may be suggested to them by their neighbors or friends.

There is now being introduced to these parents a tew preparation which has not asyet friled to accomplish wonderful results in establishing sound physical conditions in sickly children and one that is absolutely guaranteed to give relief and make a permanent cure.
