Present Fing to Cadeta.

society and is withholding. The petition states that in December, 1906, the plaintiff corporation had 31,000 members and $3,900 in the treasury, 85 per cent of the sum set aside for the payment of death and disability claims.

At this time, it is asserted, Spinney conspired with one G. M. Smith, supreme medical director of the Sons and Daughters of Protection, and executed a contract with him selling the entire membership, all of the assets, mortgages, records, blanks and office furniture to the Bankers Union.

Such sale, it is declared, was contrary to the laws of the state and in violation thereof. In the filegal transfer of the property it is said that Spinney came in porsession of two mortpages valued at $2.5(A), and other securities amounting to $1,237.76, which were on deposit with the auditor of the state. Also a sum of money megregating in the neighborhood of $8,000 It is averred that Spinney has converted these mortgages and secrities and cash to his own use, with the exception of the $2.500 mortgage, the securities reaching $2. 207.76, and $526 in cash, which were returned. Judgment for the amount named with interest from January, 1999, at 7 per cent., is demanded.

So far there is little talk as to who will be the temporary chairman. Some names have been mentioned of men of more pr less prominence in republican affairs. but there has been little intimation from the members of the committee as to who they will choose. In discussing the matter today a republican stated that the temporary chairman should be one who had worked faithfully for the party and not merely some one who is seeking recognition in order to help in a campaign for some office. The position of temporary chairman, this man remarked, was an honor that any man might well wish and that it should go to some good party worker.

It was filed by James Foley, himself a saloon man, because the chief of police filed a protest before the council against granting Foley a license for the ensuing year, charging violation of strike back or to save himself. No action so far has been taken by the council upon the protests brought in by Foley, but that of the chief against him has been set for hearing tomorrow evening, and a lively contest is expected in view of the fact that the police authorities evidence a disposition not to be bluffed into withdrawing their remonstrance.
