PUTS BULLET THROUGH BRAIN

Mrs. Moran Tires of Life and Its Troubles and Attempts Suicide.

NO HOPES ENTERTAINED OF RECOVERY

Had Quarrelled with and Separated from Her Husband, to Whom She Had Been Married Only Few Years.

With the evident intention of ending her earthly career, Mrs. May Moran, a young woman about 25 years of age, sent a bullet from a .32-caliber revolver into her brain early yesterday morning in her apartment over 146 West Broadway, where she had been living for several months past.

When found Mrs. Moran was lying across the foot of the bed with a dressing gown over her nightclothes. A revolver lay on the bed by her side. The bullet had penetrated about an inch, and a half above the right ear and passing clear through had imbedded itself in the wall.

Mrs. Moran had intended returning to her former home at Harper, Ia., and had told several persons that she would leave here Monday. They occupied separate rooms and the door leading to Moran's apartment was found bolted. The woman had on several occasions claimed that Worth was her half-brother, but this Worth denied yesterday.
