BOARD CALLED TO DISCUSS QUESTION

Governor Cummins Decides to Send to Ireland for Peisoner in Spite of Efforts to Settle the ### Case.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) DES MOINES, May 28-(Special.)-The resignation of Prof. Samuel Calvin as state geologist will be considered at a special meeting of the state geological board called by Governor Cummins to meet next Saturday at his office. The members of the board are the governor, state auditor, presidents of the State university and State college and president of the Academy of Sciences. It is not at all certain that Dr. Calvin will be allowed to drop the work of directing the state geological survey which he has handled the past twelve years in a manner to reflect great credit on the state of lowa. Some of the members of the board insist that his resignation shall not be accepted. He has been asked to meet with the board and to talk matters over. The only reason assigned for his resignation is that he has some private interests and desires to look after them in vacation time instead of having his entire time taken up with the field work of the survey during the summer months. He has not only directed the geological survey, but has each year actually done some of the field work himself. It is regarded as probable that he will be asked to continue at the head of the work with such relief as he may find necessary, and be given assurance that he will not be expected to do anything more than to direct the work in a broad way and to make up the reports and summaries.

But if this cannot be arranged there will be immediately precipitated a contest for the succession, and more or less of a contest between the two big colleges of the state engaged in scientific instruction. The opposing candidates for the place will be Prof. Frank A. Wilder, assistant professor of geology at the State university, Iowa City, and Prof. S. W. Beyer, of the chair of geology and mining engineering at the State college, Ames.

Both are very able men and both have had to do with the field work of the geological survey. But the contest, if it comes to that, will be chiefly for the prestige of the college or the university. In view of the fact that the university has had leadership in this work a long time, the friends of the college feel that the state geologist might well be picked from Ames. This will be resisted and the geological board will have a sharp and interesting contest on its hands

Condition of Iowa Lakes.

Adjutant General Byers, who is authority on fishing at the lakes of northern Iowa, has been at Spirit lake and Okoboji. He tried still fishing in Spirit and was quite successful and had good luck trolling in Okoboji. He states that the cottages around Spirit lake are this year almost all filled for the first time in a number of years, and there is indication of a return to the popu larity of that lake. The water in Spirit lake is about two feet higher than usual and in Okoboji about two feet lower. The City for embezzling $3,000 from a commiswater is running over the portage from Spirit lake to Okoboji, something which has
