Talks on Selfishness.

The distinction between the terms selfishness and unselfishness is rather vague. They can be so twisted and juggled that anything or everything may appear selfish or so many things which we are inclined to consider selfish may appear as unselfish. To the cynic all human conduct is selfish, while on the other hand, to the optimist with his ineliation to give everything a rosy and bright reasoning, nearly everything appears unselfish. Let us analyze "the self." What is it? Therein lies the crux of the argument. It is used in many different senses of meanings. In its narrowest application it may be said to mean the nucleus of personal appeitte and satisfaction. In its wider applications, however, it takes in various loyalites, the family, the school, clubs, the community, the nation, and, in a vague sense, the whole human race. With the expansion of the self, selfishness becomes more and more altruistic. The With the expansion of the self, selfishness becomes more and more altruistic. The higher selfishness is unselfishness. The distinction thought to be expressed by the terms selfishness and unselfishness might be better expressed by the use of the terms the littler and the larger self and the littler and the larger self and the littler and the larger selfishness. Education should be the expanding of the self so that it shall include not merely the little sphere of personal gratification, but wider interests outside of that. If it does not do this it loses its chief aim. Charles H. Taylor and Miss Barr entertained with youal solos and the class tertained with vocal solos and the class rendered its class song. President Heas of the Board of Education presented the sheepskins to the gradas they were presented by Princi-Bee June 3 by the abstract, title and loan pal Ensign, Mr. Hess taking the opportunity to say a few words to each graduate. DELAY IN WORK ON NEW LIBRARY Contractor Cannot Commence Before Word has been received here that Win-chester & Cullen, the firm which secured the contract for the construction of the Carnegie library building, will not be ready to begin work until July 1, or peruled to start at 10 in the morning, but it haps later. James F. Cullen of the firm when before the Library board last month stated that work would be commence June 1 without fall. The firm is required to file a bond in the sum of $33,000, but up to date has not done so. Secretary Stewart has been advised, however, that the companies on furnishing bond.

The delay, however, it is said, is due to the inability of Winchester & Cullen to get their pile driving paraphernalia here before July 1, if Under their contract Winchester & Cullen are required to have the foundation of the building completed by September 1, the building enclosed by February 1 of next year and the structure completed and ready for occupancy by September 15 1905. The Pinney residence, which stends on been purchased from Winchester & Cullen by Charles Paschal of this city and workmen are now making the necessary preparations to remove it. The building, which is two stories and basement high and of brick, will be moved to a lot on Willow avenue, between Sixth and Beventh streets. The Pusey home, occupying the west part of the site, has not yet been disposed of and will probably be torn down and the brick used in the basement of the new library. Winchester & Cullen deducted from their contract price $1,000 for the two buildings.

The saloonmen, without exception, expressed themselves as anxious to terminate the fight and, if it could be in any way managed, to resume business under the old conditions. The money necessary to pay court costs and the fees of certain attorneys who were prominent in the injunction business, it was stated at the meeting, would be forthcoming and that all that remained to be done to bring about the desired resumption of business on the old lines was the dissolution of the injunctions by the district court. The saloonmen present at the meeting were given to understand. It is said, that this would be accomplished.

Excursions to State College, AMES, Ia., June 3 .- (Special.)-The excursions from different counties in the state and the one from Rockford, Ill., of the Winnebago Boys' club visited at the Iowa State college yesterday and today. The lilhols party numbered about 200, arriving Wednesday and staying until Thursday forenoon. They were accompanied by O. J. Kearn, county superintendent of schools James Boyles, state superintendent of publie instruction, and J. W. Cook, principal of the State Normal school. They were invited to the college chapel, where brief welcoming exercises were held, and they then went on tours of 'napection through the different buildings and departments. An excursion from Iowa county arrived Thursday morning, numbering about 700, and spent the day viewing the college grounds and inspecting each and every de partment, returning home in the evening. Today the Boys' Agricultural club, known as the "Keskuks," and the Girls' Home Culture club, from Keokuk county, accompanied by Captain Miller, county superintendent, spent the day at the college These county excursions are becoming quite popular, and it is expected more will be held during the summer. The annual state excursion will be held probably some time in September.

DES MOINES, June 8 .- (Special.)-A call was issued today by a number of the prominent negroes of lows for a great state meeting of the colored people in the two factions, it is understood, have Des Moines, July 4, for the formation of a state branch of the National Afro-Amerlean council. The national body, which was formed last year, meets in St. Louis, August 2. A delegate and alternate will be sent from Iowa to this meeting. The pends upon the willingness of the judges call is signed by George H. Woodson of Oskaloosa, an attorney, and other prominent negroes of the state. The meetings be on the program. The colored men say that the main purpose is to do what they can for the uplifting of the race in the nation. They deny any intention of having a political purpose back of it, but the appearance in various papers at this time of figures to show how powerful the colored vote would be in deciding states if united has some significance.

County Tenchers' Institutes. Was Architect of Capitol. 'Mifflin E. Bell, who died in Chicago this week, was one of the architects of the Iowa State capitol and had much to do with arranging details of the structure, especially made in the general plans. He was of the firm of Bell & Hackney of Peorla, which firm was given the contract of supervising the architecture of the capitol, after the death of the original designer. Mr. Hackney died in Kansas City a few years ago. While the firm was engaged as the architects of the capitol he was appointed supervising architect of the trensury and held this office under Presidents Arthur and Cleveland.

Second Trial for Graves. The second trial of C. W. Graves of this city for the murder of his wife will begin here very soon. Graves was convicted, but a new trial was granted because it was shown after the trial that one of the jurors had previously expressed an opinion in the case which would preclude him from giving the defendant a fair trial. Graves is alleged to have killed his wife and then made it appear that she had fallen on a stove in the kitchen in his absence. It is promised that a number of new witnesses will be brought out, which will make the case for the state stronger than before.

The Iowa Health Bulletin, issued today by Secretary Kennedy of the State Board of Health, contains the amendment to the health rules relating to diphtheria quaran tine which were adopted at the last meeting of the state board. FIRE RECORD. Store of John Wall.

ARCADIA, Neb., June 8 .- (Special Tele gram.)-At 5 o'clock this morning fire was discovered in John Wall's store building. He quickly spread the alarm. The fire was then in the northeast corner, but whether above or below is a question on which no two agree, A crowd of men quickly gathered and all that could be done was of but little avail. The flames soon began to shoot from the roof, and efforts were given to save the remainder of the town and get the goods out of the store. The wind favored the workers shifting a little to the northeast while before it had blown straight from the north. The fight was made from the roof of the postoffice and Front street. In spite of the efforts, had it not been for the heavy brick wall on the east of Mr. Wall's store all of the west half of the town and possibly all of the town would have been burned The loss to Mr. Wati to about $36,000, only $3,000 of this covered by insurance. On account of his large business connections and also because of the fact that he was equally guilty with the swindles, the Australian made no report of the matter to the police, but sailed on the following day for London.

It appears that the victim met a well known New York swindler in London three weeks ago. The New Yorker urged the Australian to come over there, promising him great results on small investments.

The Australian came and was fleeced. After the coup it appears that the gang paid the decoy only $60 instead of the $12,500 which should have been his share under the agreement. In a fit of pique the decoy informed the police. During the last thonor for Governor Durbin, who formally decoy informed the police. During the last the same manner.

Water.

ST. LOUIS, June 3 .- Two state buildings were dedicated today, those of Missouri and Indiana. Missouri, being the hostess state for the fair, the dedicatory ceremonies were open to the public, a general invitation having been extended to everybody from everywhere. The Missouri building is the largest state pavillon on the grounds, but only a small proportion of the throngs who visited it could gain admittance at any one time.

President H. T. Davis of the Missouri commission tendered the building to Gov-Isn who arrived in New York ten days ago ernor Dockery, who accepted it on behalf Major William Worner of Earmas City,
