REPUBLICANS GET ACTION ON FORMATION

B. E. Wilcox Chairman of Temporary Organization, Which Will Be Completed at Jorgenson's Hall Next Tuesday Evening.

Wilcox, 2415 N street, last evening and organized the Roosevelt and Fairbanks Republican club of South Omaha. Temporary ncers were elected as follows: B. E. Wilcox, chairman; E. L. Gustafson, secretary, and Frank J. Jones, treasurer. One vice president was chosen from each ward and here is the list: First ward, A. H. Murdock; Second ward, Frank Koutsky; Third ward, J. C. Bowley; Fourth ward, William McCraith; Fifth ward, Frank Madura; Sixth ward, W. B. Vansant. A committee composed of J. J. Daily, William McCratth and F. E. Jones was appointed to look around and secure a hall for permanent headquarters during the campaign. At the auggestion of Mr. Jones the chairman was requested to appoint a committoo on constitution and bylaws. These were named by Chairman Wilcox: Patrick J. Trainor, Joseph Koutsky, E. R. Leigh. At the request of those present the chairman was added to this committee. The next meeting of the club will be held at hall, southeast corner Twenty-fifth and N streets, on Tuesday evening, June 28. General satisfaction was manifest at the result of the convention in Chicago, and everyone who attended the Claude L. Talbot, chief brand inspector at the stock yards here for Wyoming, has received the new brands listed at the Wyoming cattlemen's convention held at Cheyenne in April. Mr. Talbot is now en-gaged and will be for some days in copying the brands into his office books and also into the books used by the men in the yards here under him. Mr. Talbot said last night that all this work would be completed long before any big runs of range stuff commenced to arrive, and that the force here would be familiar with all of the new brands filed and accepted by the association at its last annual meet-Between twenty-five and thirty stalwart ing. Mr. Talbot said that he looked for republicans met at the office of B. E. a big run of cattle from the Wyoming ranges to this market during the fall and early winter.

Last Session Today. Today is the last session of the Board of Review. At 5 o'clock this afternoon the board will close its doors and cease to hear complaints. As soon as the doors are closed the members of the board will proceed to act on the complaints and ren der a decision in cases not aiready acted upon. Yesterday the Omaha Cattle Loan company filed a remonstrance, alleging that it should not be taxed here, as the stock of the company is held in the cast. The complaint was similar to the one filed with the city council some time ago. Clay, Robinson & Co., live stock commission dealers, also filed a protest, taking praciteally the same grounds. Other corporations also remonstrated. Today is the day when it is expected the corporations not already complaining will come in. As matters stand now there is no telling what the valuation will be when the Board of Review gets through its work. As turned in by the tax commissioner the valuation was a little over $19,000,000.

Still Going Up. The packers have given the retail butchers another joit on pork loins. Retail prices for loins now are 10 and 12% cents. The former price is for whole pieces and the latter where the butcher has to make cuts. All smoked meats have advanced I cent a pound, Mutton is extremely scarce. The retail price is 12 cents for mutton and 15 cents per pound for lamb chops. Porterhouse steak is held at 20 cents per pound, with but few calls this kind of weather. Retail butchers here say that trade in fresh neat has fallen off greatly within the last two or three weeks, and they do not look for any improvement until there is either a frop in prices or a drop in temperature. Dealers in fresh vegetables assert that hey have all they can do to supply the

This plan of constructing a new building instead of enlarging the Lincoln school seems to meet with board and those who have looked into the Temperance Union Convention.

Saturday the Woman's Christian Temperance union of Douglas county will hold its annual convention at the Methodist Episcopal church, Twenty-third and N streets. This convention is to be called to order at 10 a. m. Everyone attending is invited to bring a basket and join in a tuncheon at noon. The afternoon session will be called to order at 1:30 o'clock, when an interesting program will be rendered. A contest for the Demorest medal will be held in the evening. The following will contest for the medal: Dora Curtman, Earl C. Clark, Margaret Preiss, Gladys Van Sant, Marion Dennis, Mabel Ingram and Jay Smiley. Music for the evening will be furnished by the Omaha Male quartet. No admission will be charged. Bunday evening will be devoted to a mass meeting when addresses will be delivered by Mrs E. M. Ward Boundary Lines. Chairman Adkins of the special commitce-appointed to rearrange the ward lines, said last evening that the committee had completed a preliminary sketch. "This sketch will be materially changed before a report is made to the city council," he "We have, as a committee, practically decided upon the lines for two wards. This leaves us four wards yet to determine the coundaries. It is the intention of the committee to keep at work on this matter every day until the time for a final showing. A report will be made to the city council on July 5 by the committee and until the report is filed the exact boundarles will not be known."

WORK OF THE CONFERENCE of appeal

Elder Jennings Reports on Doings of the Delegates at Los Angeles.

HOW OMAHA LOST A BISHOP'S RESIDENCE Ambition of Des Moines Divides the Vote and Left Both Cities Out in the Cold When Count Was Made.

Members of Hanscom Park Methodist Episcopal church listened to a very instructive and entertaining address in the church parlors last night by Rev. J. W. Jennings, presiding elder of the Omaha district. It related to a few of the many changes made in the rules governing the church at the Los Angeles general conference recently held.

After describing the rules governing the place of residence of the bishops of the church, the speaker said: "The matter came up in the general conference as to whether we should district bishops. It was decided that the districting of bishops would destroy their Itinerary, which it was the desire, as was proven by the vote cast, to preserve. Under the present rules the general conference is estopped from destroying their itineracy, and it can only be done by a change in the constitution in the regular way. Bishop McCabe petitioned the committee on spiscopacy to leave him without an official residence, and he thus unintentionally weakened the case of Omaha in securing the location of a bishop in this city. How Omaha Lost a Bishop

"Three of us went before the committee and insisted that Omaha be continued as an official residence, but Des Moines entered the contest for the location of an official residence and divided the vote, which resulted in both cities being left in the race. There were 186 votes cast. New York received the highest number out of sixteen cities to be chosen with 184. The city which stood lowest in the list having a majority of the votes cast was Buffalo with ill. Omaha secured eighty-one votes and Des Moines fifty-seven. Had the Des Moines vote been cast with Omaha, it would have given us 138 votes, which would have been greater than that given Buffalo and we would consequently have been designated as an official residence. After the vote was counted Des Moines was willing to reconsider, but it was too late." Dr. Jennings explained that the five superannuated bishops retired were allowed full pay for a period of six months after their retirement and thereafter half pay, amounting to $2,250 per year, for the rest of their lives. He expressed the belief that the members of the conference should not be designated as cruel, under the circumstances of retirement, as had been intimated by some. He also explained that members who are on trial by the church to longer have the right of appeal to the quarterly conference, but that each quarterly conference will hereafter choose one official trier who will hear such cases, and
