QUARREL AMONG RUSSIAN OFFICERS

Member of Kouropatkin's Force Says that Army is Disgraced. TIEN TSIN, June 27.—A correspondent of the Associated Press has seen a translation of a private letter from an officer high in command under General Kouropatkin to a brother officer giving a gloomy view of the situation for Russia and making disclosures. The writer said:

sures. The writer said:

It is a shame to see officers constantly quarreling, divided into cliques and fighting for their cwn interests, until Japan, the common enemy, is forgotten. Everyone, from the viceroy and Kouropatkin to insignificant subalterns, is quarreling and unwilling to obey orders. In the eyes of the correspondents and foreign attaches we are diagraced. Until the whole system is changed we cannot hope for victory. Jealousy and suspicion are rampant throughout the army. The members of our secret service are so busy spying on each other that they cannot apprehend the spies and Japaness agents, who work with impunity. Jupan seemingly knows every plan made by us, which accounts for many plans having been changed suddenly. Our brave soldiers go into battle like sheep to the shambles. No one can deny their loyalty, but until they are properly officered their loyalty and seal are wasted. Europe now knows we are a divided house and will profit accordingly. Those who have the welfare of Russia at heart cannot help feeling that if Port Arthur falls and Japan takes Liso Yang the powers will intervene, to our eternal diagrace.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) WASHINGTON, D. C., June 38 .- (Special.) Speaker Cannon met Senator Newlands of claimed with characteristic bluntness, "Say, Newlands, who in the devil is this young fellow sent here from Nevada to succeed you in the house?"

"Well," continued the speaker, poising his elgar in his mouth at an angle of 45 degrees, "he's got the right sort of stuff in him even if he is a democrat."

A few days before the speaker chanced to be upon the floor when the house was in committee of the whole and Kuroki will be relieved of the necessity the chairman had recognized Representative Van Duzer of Nevada. The speaker was about to wearn to his office, when apparently his attention was attracted by ome remarks of the member and, instead of leaving, he took a seat immediately infront of the gentleman from Nevada and Representative Newlands. listened for three-quarters of an hour.

It was this kind of recognition which Representative Clarence D. Youngster a Comer. In every congress there are always two or three new members on each side of the house, and the number is rarely more than half a dozen, who immediately leap to the front, command attention and exert influence by one method or another while the others go plodding along, sometimes for years, before they attain rank, and some of them, perhaps a majority, serve term after term and are scarcely heard of or known outside of their committee rooms and their little circle of friends. Bryan was one of those who went at once to the front, James Hamilton Lewis another, and every congress produces a number. Van Duzer of Nevada was one of them in the recent session of congress, and now as a result of it he bids fair to gain promotion to the senate to occupy a seat alongside of the man whose secretary he was only a few years ago. Should he be successful, as is now said to be more than probable, he will enjoy the distinction of being the youngest member of that august body, being four years the junior of Beveridge

dated June 25:

On June 25 a battalion of Japanese infantry marching out from Tung Oputze, five miles northwest of Seluchan, along the road to the Mac Tien Pars, was repulsed by two companies of our sharpshooters' outposts, near Tarang Ku. The sharpshooters fell back, first upon Urtungti and then upon Kentsiaputze. Captain Tanchukovsky, in command of one company of the sharpshooters, was wounded.

His wounds were dressed by Dr. Ryschkoff of the Red Cross, and Captain Xanchukovsky was being carried to the fear on a stretcher when the Japanese rushed on from the flank. Three stretcher bearers were wounded and captured and Captain Yanchukovsky and Dr. Ryschkoff and Lieutenant Serpukhovitinoff and thirteen sharpshooters were wounded.

For a man of 38 he has had an interest ing career. Born in a Nevada mining camp, he was at work in a silver mine far below the surface of the earth before he was 16 years of age; then he was a cowboy, roughing it upon the plains; afterwards he studied and graduated at the State university of Nevada; then he became a school teacher and was afterwards commissione by the governor of the state as state land agent, to reside in Washington, at a salary of $1,000 a year. Then the comptroller of congress and, grasping his hand, he ex- of the state ruled that the $1,000 approprinted for the state land agent was to cover a period of two years, and Van Duser was left high and dry in Washington without a cent. It has been said that Senator Stewart influenced the comptroller attributed the ruling to him. If he succeeds in ousting the venerable solon from his seat in the senate and setting it himself, as now seems probable, he will have had his revenge. Stranded in Washington, he finally obtained employment with Mr. Newlands and remained here until after he had been admitted to the bar. Returning to Nevada, he was successively district attorney of Humboldt county, a member of the lower house of the legislature, speaker of the assembly, and two years ago was elected to congress to succeed
