CHANGES FOLLOW RETREAT

Rev. W. L. McNamara Named by Bishop to Manage Orphanage.

APPOINTEE IS OMAHA CLERGYMAN

Was Record for Being Zealous Worker and Particularly Fitted for the Work Committed to Him.

The annual retreat of the Catholic priests of the diocese of Omaha which began at Creighton university last Monday evening was concluded Friday morning. Rt. Rev. Bishop Keane of Cheyenne conducted the exercises in the absence of Bishop Garrison of Sioux City, who had intended to preside, but was unable to do so on account of illness.

Several important changes and appointments were made during the retreat by Bishop Scannell of the Omaha diocese. Probably the most notable is the appointment of Rev. W. L. McNamara to the full management of the St. James' orphanage at Benson. Father McNamara is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. McNamara residing at Twenty-third and Cass streets. For the past five years he has been pastor at Chadron, where marked success accompanied his work. Prior to his pastorate at Chadron he was located in Omaha as pastor of St. Peter's church.

Father McNamara is a zealous worker and particularly a friend of the young people and children. These latter sympathies, together with his executive abilities, are said to be what prompted Bishop Scannell to place him in charge of the orphanage.

Other appointments made follow: Rev. Edward Bernst, who has been assistant at Father Walsh at Norfolk, is appointed pastor at Chadron.

Rev. J. P. Devans, pastor of Sidney, is appointed pastor at Dixon.

Rev. Perci Fitz of Dixon is appointed pastor of the new parish of Osmond, Pierce county.

Rev. T. D. Sullivan, assistant at St. Agnes', South Omaha, is appointed pastor of Sidney.

Assistant Pastors—Rev. Theodore Mester, assistant at Spencer, becomes assistant to Father Walsh at Norfolk.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., July 2.—All union firemen employed at the power plant of the St. Joseph Street Railway, Light and Power company went on a strike at 10 o'clock tonight and all street car lines have suspended operations. The union was dissatisfied with the scale and the men were tonight ordered out.

NOT MUCH NEW RAILROADING

Mileage Kept Down Because of Decrease in Net Earnings.

LATTER DUE TO BIG OPERATING EXPENSES

Diminishing Volume of Traffic Also Contributes Toward Reduction of Miles of New Track in Last Six Months.

Railway Age has compiled statistics from official sources which show that during the first half of 1904 134 railroads in the United States laid 1,677.53 of new track. This is a falling off in the mileage of new line laid in 1903. During that period 2,231 miles were laid, while for the entire year the new mileage was 5,786. Nebraska has laid no new track in this time.

Increased operating expenses and decreased traffic, resulting in smaller earnings, are given as the causes for the decline in new mileage. Operating expenses, already high, are said to have been increased materially during the first quarter of the year by the severity of the winter and many railroads were forced early in the spring to borrow money for present needs and for their future projects. This state of affairs resulted in the material reduction of operating forces and other acts of retrenchment.

In view of the foregoing facts many plans for improvement and extensions proposed by some of the great systems are still held in abeyance. Considering all these conditions, it is said to be a remarkable fact that a greater falling off in new mileage constructed is not shown.

If the same ratio of building is preserved during the present year as that of 1903 the total new mileage constructed by January 1 will have reached 5,000 miles. But it is hardly thought probable that present conditions will warrant the prediction that the ratio of last year will be maintained, for a large percentage of the track laid during the last six months has been upon grades already made during the previous year. The work of grading during the first half of this year has progressed upon a much more limited scale than during the last six months of 1903.

Just Making Extensions.

Such systems as the Rock Island, Burlington, Northwestern, Milwaukee and others, which were generous contributors to the new mileage total of last year, are doing very little to add to the total of the present year. About the only work they are doing is to complete extensions which were begun before January 1. The Missouri Pacific is doing some work on its river line from Memphis to New Orleans and on the White river extension from St. Louis to Carthage. No. Only fifty-three miles of track have, however, been

WITH CLEEK AND MASHEE

A. J. Christy, the golf instructor, established a new professional record for the Field club course last week, covering the former record, which fell with a bad fracture. The amateur record of $5 is held by Harry Lowrie, H. B. Morrill and H. D. Sumney.

On the afternoon of July 4 the Diets cup, one of the most valuable ever offered in the west, will be contested for at the Country club. A large list of entries is anticipated. It is announced that on every Saturday for the balance of the season there will be cup contests at the Country club. Several new cups have been secured and it is expected that these games will help to revive the sport there. The tournament committee, composed of Guy Barton, G. W. Wattles and Frank Colpeter, is anxious for that result. The trophies they have offered for these contests are well worth having and have been secured at considerable trouble and expense. The women, too, have received several cups and it is thought that they will be kept busy in competition during the balance of the season.

The Country club handicaps have been recently revised by the committee and there will be considerable surprise when the new lists are consulted.

The familiar figure of "Dick" Kimball is rarely seen on the course of the Country club this year. Mr. Kimball is one of the "old guard" and a player of great ability. Several of his friends paid him a little call a few days since to ascertain the cause of his absence, and found the absence engrossed in the mechanism of automobiles. He gave assurance that hereafter he will appear with more regularity, and that ought to help some.

The younger element is playing the best golf at the Country club and seems to be the most consistent at the game. Notably among them are Samuel Burns, Jerry McGee, Frank Haskell and Will Burns. Of the older players who are holding their own, C. H. Guiso, W. G. Maul, E. H. Sprague and G. M. Hitchcock are numbered.

Of the women, Mrs. Sprague and Mrs. Stewart are playing good golf and are gradually getting a firm hold on the game. Several others are bringing in good scores, of whom Mrs. Cole, Mrs. Assington and Mrs. William Tracy Burns are in the limelight.
