ONE MORE MANAWA VICTIM

Ed Williamson of Omaha Drowned While Fishing at Lake.

UPSETS THE BOAT WHILE CASTING

Companions Rescue Him Once, but He Slips into Water Again and Sinks to Rise No More.

Lake Manawa has added another to its annual quota of victims in the person of Ed Williamson of 510 Woolworth avenue, Omaha, who was drowned Saturday night while fishing in company with his father-in-law, named Short, of 614 Wood-ward-avenue, and S. Weaver, a friend, who lives at the Short home.

Williamson was drowned about 11 o'clock Saturday night, but it was 2:30 o'clock yesterday morning before his companions were able to reach land and report the accident. The body was recovered shortly after day-break and was taken to Omaha on the first car, Coroner Treynor after investigating the circumstances deciding that an inquest would be unnecessary.

Williamson and his companions secured a boat about 9 o'clock, intending to put in the greater part of the night in fishing. They were at a point southwest of the Kursaal, in what is known as the neck of the lake at a point near the "37 buoy" when the accident happened. Williamson was standing in the center of the boat casting when he lost his balance and fell overboard, upsetting the boat at the same time and throwing his two companions into the water.

Short and Weaver were both good swimmers and they at once went to the rescue of Williamson, who was unable to swim. After considerable effort on their part they succeeded in getting him onto the bottom of the overturned rowboat. Both being good swimmers Short and Weaver started to tow the boat to shallow water, but before they had made any material progress Williamson slipped from the boat into the water again. He sank at once and although his companions made every effort to find him they were unsuccessful.

It was 2:30 o'clock yesterday morning when Short and Weaver succeeded in reaching the pavilion, where they found Captain D. Malby, the night watchman, who they informed of the drowning of their companion. Captain Malby at once hastened to the quarters of the Council Bluffs Game and Fish Protective association, where he found Deputy Fish and Game Warden E. C. Brown and Harry Sims, the club's resident caretaker. After a consultation it was decided that it would be useless to attempt to recover the body before daybreak, but as soon as it was daylight Messrs. Brown and Sims organized a party and the search for the body began. After about an hour's work it was brought to the surface and taken ashore. Coroner Treynor was notified and he went to the lake, where after learning the circumstances, he gave permission for the removal of the body to Omaha, deciding that an inquest would be unnecessary.

Mr. Williamson was 22 years of age and leaves a wife and one child. This makes the fourth death by drowning at Lake Manawa already this year.

EAGLES PREPARE FOR JUBILEE

Everything to be in readiness for the opening. The grounds where the Eagles' mid-summer jubilee will be held this week, beginning this afternoon, will be a scene of bustling activity last night. The Parker Amusement company with its train of thirty-seven cars in two sections arrived from Grand Island this afternoon and was transferred to the tracks on First avenue.

The magnitude of the Parker shows can best be imagined when it is stated that they present no less than sixteen separate attractions in addition to the free shows. Two large traction engines took the place of horses in drawing the heavily laden wagons from the train to the show grounds.

The Parker shows will be located on the south side of the enclosure, covering a space a block wide and 800 feet long. These shows are the Roman coliseum, dog and pony show, girl from Abilene, How old is Anne? temple of music, wild animal show, penny arcade, Carry Us All moving pictures, myrtle maze, Hindoo show, electric theater, Ferris wheel, crystal ball, vaudeville show.

The free shows will be given in the Pike, which is located on the north side of the enclosure and where all the concession booths will be situated. They will be as follows: Ballroom, high dive, dog leap, electric fountain, wire slide, bicycle whirl, etc.

The grounds are well lighted and will be well policed by special and regular officers. Dr. Alderman Treynor has charge of the policing of the grounds. The officers of the Eagles' jubilee association who have charge of the arrangements are: W. H. Ware, president; S. H. Conner, secretary; G. S. Davis, treasurer; C. D. Walters, C. H. Huber, W. C. Boyer, R. H. Huntington and Al Wells, directors.

Off for the Encampment. Mayor Macrae as surgeon major of the Iowa National Guard, will leave Wednesday to attend the brigade encampment.

LOOKING UP CONSUMPTIVES

State Board Gathering Statistics for the Next Legislature.

LITTLE CHANGE IN TAXABLE VALUATION

Falling Off in Personality Mostly Due to Decrease in Live Stock—Silver Men Are Disgusted.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

DES MOINES, July 10.—(Special.)—The coming week the members of the State Board of Control will send out to different persons in the state a list of questions relating to the number of persons in the state who have been or are afflicted with tuberculosis. The questions have been treated, the method of treatment, etc. These queries will go first to the superintendents of the four state hospitals and the feeble minded asylum, the members of the State Board of Health, officers of the medical societies who have signed the resolution of personal responsibility, and to others. They will be asked to give not only information, but advise as to treatment and opinions as to the value of state or private sanitariums for such cases and all other like information. This will be followed by circulars to all the registered physicians of the state, securing exact information as to the extent of consumption in Iowa. The whole will be used, with much other information now being secured by the board, as the basis of a report to the next legislature, as required by a special resolution of the Thirtieth general assembly, so that the next legislature can act intelligently on the proposition to have established in Iowa such an institution. Judge Kinn of the state board has just visited the new State Institution for Tuberculosis now being completed at Saranac lake, and also the private sanitarium for the state, securing information to be used in the report. He also visited a similar institution in Massachusetts, the only state institution of the kind in existence, and secured statistics. It is expected that the report he will prepare will be one of the most complete ever presented to a legislature.

Now Values Little Changed. The reports from counties of Iowa on which the state executive council will base the tax levy for the next year will show very little change from last year in the taxable value of property of all kinds that is assessed locally. The total taxable valuation of personal property, as last year, was returned at $112,042,999. This year the footing shows, with one county added in as last year, a total of $110,654,048. The one county is Linn, which has not reported. The difference is $1,388,951. The one missing county will probably run it a little over the $110,000,000 mark. The total personal property values is almost entirely on live stock, but the reports show that will be about made up in new buildings added to the real estate values. Polk county, for instance, reports new buildings added of $1,494,385 and Pottawattomie county $200,000. Other large counties make similar reports.

Drainage Engineer. Prof. A. E. Ashbaugh of Ames is in the city for a consultation with Governor Cummins tomorrow in regard to the survey of the lake which it is proposed shall be drained in northern Iowa. He will secure a list of the drainage districts to be drained and instructions as to the surveys to be made. Work will commence at once and some of the drainage may be done this year.

Silver Men to Leave Party. A large number of those who became demagogues a few years ago and who are now saying they will leave the party. There are a good many of these in Iowa. The Iowa delegation to St. Louis was controlled by this class of demagogues, who did their faith to Hearst and are disappointed because of the failure of the convention to adopt their views. St. Louis. Interviews here with a number of these men indicate that they will no longer be active in party affairs. The state convention, which is to be held in two weeks at Iowa city, is certain to be dominated by the reorganizers, and the ticket named will be acceptable to them rather than to the silver element.

Van Luyven gave bail for his appearance and his hearing has been continued until September 15, at that time the grand jury can investigate the case.

A truck has been effected over the motor company's fence at Lake Manawa. All parties to the suit have agreed upon an armistice until the supreme court can hear the application of the motor company for a writ of habeas corpus. This will be before the supreme court for the application of the motor company for an order restraining the removal of the fence until the hearing on the application of a rehearing of the original appeal is disposed of. In the meantime the motor company will continue to provide the opening in its fence to accommodate Colonel Beck and other property owners.

Woman is Missing. SIOUX FALLS, S. D., July 10.—(Special.)—What has become of Mrs. Gandrau, wife of Anthony Gandrau, a prominent citizen of Hereford, is a question which is agitating the residents of that place. She recently disappeared, after leaving a note to her husband, in which she stated he would never see her again. So far as is known the couple had lived happily together. She had never complained to her husband of any grievance, real or imaginary, and he is as deeply puzzled as anyone as to why she should have left his home. Upon returning from his day's business he was surprised to find his home deserted. He for a time believed she had gone to make a brief visit to a neighbor, but when she did not appear he feared she might have been taken sick and hastened to her room. Here he found the note. DAVIS IS WELCOMED TO HIS HOME. Neighbors Turn Out to Greet Democratic Candidate. ELKINS, Va., July 10.—July 2000 people had gathered at the West Virginia Central & Pittsburgh railroad station here to greet ex-Senator Henry G. Davis, who arrived on his special car from the convention at St. Louis at 1 o'clock this afternoon. When the train pulled in at the station the music of the Elkins band, which headed the throng, was drowned by the shout that went up when the democratic candidate for vice president appeared on the platform of his car.

At Belington, in Barbour county, at least 100 men, including the Belington band, had boarded the train to which ex-Senator Davis' car was attached, and their shouts joined those of the crowd at the station. Now, F. W. Dalley and Senator Elkins each delivered an address of congratulation, to which the ex-senator responded, voicing his appreciation of the honor which the democratic convention had conferred upon him and commented upon the fact that in his opinion the best of the demonstration had marked his home coming furnished evidence that party lines had been lost sight of. He spoke from the rear platform of his car and his words were wildly cheered.

Hundreds of those in the throng marched to the music of the bands to the Davis home as an escort. At his home, which is on a commanding hill west of the town, Mr. Davis slept most of the afternoon. He felt much worn as the result of his work in the convention. He received the news of his nomination when the train stopped at Grafton. When he slept this afternoon hundreds of congratulatory telegrams were received from every part of the country. These were read to him by his private secretary, P. B. Robb.

You are running into nervous prostration or some fixed disease absolutely certain, and when it suddenly takes full possession you will find nothing, absolutely nothing, in drugs that will heal you. Nature demands penalty for the daily hurt to the nerve centers by coffee, and you must pay the full price.

A physician of Cornwall, Ont., says of himself, "For years coffee was to me what rum is to the toper, but I kept getting worse and worse in health. I suffered from continuous nervous twitching, insomnia, restlessness, miserable nights, nerves all gone. Craving for coffee was intense, but it put me lower and lower in health. Something must be done, so I tried leaving off the coffee and using Postum Food Coffee. The first trial, wife and I were both disgusted, for we were careless in brewing it, but we went carefully into the subject of preparing Postum and found we had only allowed it to brew about five minutes, and that won't make good Postum. So next time it was boiled full fifteen minutes after boiling began, then served with good cream, and it was toothsome and delicious. That marked the beginning of my return to health. Now I sleep well, the old twitching has disappeared, and in short, I am well again. My wife has also been much benefited by leaving off coffee and using Postum Food Coffee. We have abandoned the old coffee for all time." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Establish Dipping Station. HURON, S. D., July 10.—(Special.)—The Board of county commissioners has decided that there is no law to warrant the establishing of dipping stations by the county for the dipping of cattle, in accordance with instructions sent out by the government. A meeting of stockmen and farmers was held here and steps taken to prevent the spread of the disease and to eradicate it as rapidly as possible where it has made its appearance. An immense vat has been established by Clark & Venables, and many hundred cattle can be dipped daily. A close lookout is being kept on the covered bridge and parties are urged to believe that no serious results will come of the disease in this locality.

Three Held for Riot. CHEYENNE, Wyo., July 10.—(Special.)—Coroner Murray has adjourned the coroner's investigation of the killing of William Carson and the wounding of Walter Jones during the race riot ten days ago until July 27. John Baker, who is alleged to have shot Jones, was today released on $2,000 bonds. Jones is improving slowly at the county hospital, but is not out of danger. John Landon, the soldier who was thought to have shot the colored man, is recovering slowly at the Fort Russell hospital.

Two Boys Drown. KANSAS CITY, July 10.—Earl Dennefeld, aged 11, and Owen Stone, aged 11, were drowned in a pond in a yard in Kansas City today, while bathing. The Dennefeld boy ventured beyond his depth and Stone perished while trying to save his comrade.

Favorable Report on Ditch. ONAWA, Ia., July 10.—(Special.)—R. S. Fessenden, engineering the big Monona-Harrison canal, says to the commissioners same will file their report on the Harrison county part at Logan Tuesday next, and on the Monona end at Onawa on Wednesday. The report will be favorable to the establishment of the ditch. The ditch, as laid out, is a little over twenty-two miles in length, about seventy-five feet wide on the top and forty-five to fifty feet on the bottom, and from eight to fourteen feet deep the entire distance. The engineer says it is calculated to drain 80,000 acres of land, which in the wet season is too wet for cultivation. The waters of the West Fork river will be turned into the new canal, from which the Monona-Woodbury ditch empties, and is expected to make it a running stream and gradually deepen the canal so as to carry off all overflows.

FAIRFAX, S. D., July 10.—(Special.)—Yesterday afternoon a Swede by the name of Oia Johnson came to Fairfax completely heartbroken, and broken financially to the amount of $225. About one week ago he landed in Bonesteel from Chicago, with something over $600 to his credit in a Chicago bank, every dollar he had in the world except a few dollars in cash with him. He was immediately spotted by a smooth-looking and smoother-talking man, who laid claim to Norway as his place of birth. Of course that made the man from Sweden feel at home immediately. The next move the Norwegian took him into the joints where a three-card monte game was in progress; together they talked of the game and were joined by a farmer-looking individual purporting to be from Kentucky. First, the Norwegian would stake a small sum, then the farmer, and the Norwegian told the innocent Swede he had pitched the card so he could tell it every time and it was a cinch sure, so Mr. Swede man bet a small sum against $500 and won, of course, but they insisted on not paying him until he produced his $500. Here they induced him to go to Chicago and get his money. On his return to Bonesteel before they paid over his money the Norwegian insisted in counting the Swede's money in the presence of the several men connected with the scheme. While this performance was on, a supposed policeman raids the place, all escape but the poor Swede, who is immediately placed under arrest. In the meantime, the policeman advises him to flee from the town and nothing will be done. Half scared to death, he walked to Fairfax, but returned to Bonesteel again and demanded his money immediately, and, fearing trouble, refunded $175 and scared him into leaving again. He again came to Fairfax and told his troubles to a lawyer. What makes the above case a very pitiful one, Mr. Johnson has a wife and five children in Sweden, has worked and saved every way to get a home and enough to send for them. He came to this place thinking he might secure a home. Steps are being taken today to recover the money and unless it is forthcoming, every gambler in Bonesteel will be arrested and every gambling house closed.

Setting on Other Lands. CHAMBERLAIN, S. D., July 10.—(Special.)—The Rosebud registration has progressed sufficiently to demonstrate that the opening to settlement of this tract of land will be far-reaching in its effects and will induce the widespread transformation in the entire country, not only immediately west from Chamberlain, but the border counties on the east side of the Missouri river as well. The Rosebud opening is bringing thousands of people into the state who might otherwise never have come, and after they reach here the country proves to be a revelation and all surprises to the visitors. While but comparatively few will be able to secure land in the Rosebud opening the overflow that will drift into the lands already subject to homestead entry in Lyman and Stanley counties will work in the Rosebud all lands open to settlement during the summer, and in every quarter with an occupant, hastening the settlement of the country by many years. In fact, the officials of the general land office look for a much heavier filing the next two months on the vacant Sioux lands than in the Rosebud, and especially because the former are better, but because they are more extensive and the people are here to acquire them.

D., July 10.—(Special.)—What has become of Mrs. Gandrau, wife of Anthony Gandrau, a prominent citizen of Hereford, is a question which is agitating the residents of that place. She recently disappeared, after leaving a note to her husband, in which she stated he would never see her again. So far as is known the couple had lived happily together. She had never complained to her husband of any grievance, real or imaginary, and he is as deeply puzzled as anyone as to why she should have left his home. Upon returning from his day's business he was surprised to find his home deserted. He for a time believed she had gone to make a brief visit to a neighbor, but when she did not appear he feared she might have been taken sick and hastened to her room. Here he found the note.
